The corner stone of the new Swedish Lutheran church at Oakland was put in place last Sunday, according to the established customs of the church.

Charley Endsley, for twenty years a resident of Cheyenne county, was declared insane. Twelve years ago he shot a cowboy in a quarrel about cattle, since which time the matter has preyed on his mind until the balance wheel dropped out and reason deserted its throne.

Editor John Magone, over eighty years old, passed through Omaha the other day on his way to Chicago to attend the World's fair. He had walked all the way from John Day, Oregon, and proposes to go through on foot if his boots hold out. He will then write a book. He left his home in Oregon, July 4, and is making pretty good time for a boy.

The Nebraska state fair was a great success this year. Secretary Furnas said he spoke for good weather and he got it, and everybody was pleased. "The Last Days of Pompeii" was visited by thousands. The decorations made by the merchants were creditable and many windows displayed unique designs and was admired by all.

Fraternal orders, based on right principles, having for their object the betterment of mankind, are recognized by all right-thinking men as useful adjuncts in an intelligent community, to good order, social happiness and healthful progress. The feature of secrecy is necessary to detect or prevent imposition which designing persons seek to perpetrate on such orders, and to secure and maintain the beneficent objects which constitute their distinction, aims and purposes. It cannot be gainsaid that organizations of this kind, which teach the value of those cardinal virtues that underlie a sterling character and are a passport to lives of usefulness, and which command respect wherever found, are highly beneficial to society and constitute a prominent factor in our best civilization. Such orders have multiplied in recent years by the score, and as long as the weakness, the selfishness and follies of human nature remain among men, so long will these organizations be necessary and serve a beneficent purpose.—Exchange.

Are you interested in reading and study? Do you wish to take up a line of work at home that will educate you, that will make you one of the many constantly striving after knowledge? If so, look at the course of reading offered by the Chautauqua.

The four years' course is as follows: 1892-93—Greek history; Greek literature; American diplomacy; ancient Greek life; social science; Greek art; religious literature. 1893-94—Roman history; Latin literature; modern history; political economy; Italian art; religious literature.

1894-95—English history; English literature; English composition; astronomy; geology; French literature; religious literature.

1895-96—American history; American literature; American government; social institutions; physiology; German literature; religious literature.

The C. L. S. C. (Chautauqua literary and scientific circle) aims to promote in connection with the routine of daily life, habits of scientific reading and study, in history, art, science and in secular and sacred literature; to give college graduates a review of the college course, to secure for those whose educational privileges have been limited, the college student's general outlook upon the world and life, and to encourage close, connected, persistent thinking.

Any one wishing to become a reader, or in other ways in need of information concerning Chautauqua, write either to the Snow, Rain and Sleet.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 13.—A snow, rain and sleet storm which set in last night added a heavy wind to its variety, and an unprecedented storm prevailed. From the meagre reports obtained it is shown that the storm is general in Colorado and parts of Utah. All communication by telegraph with towns in Colorado, and also parts of Utah, was interrupted. In Denver signs were blown down, cornices torn off and hundreds of trees either uprooted or split by the wind. Several persons were hit by flying objects, but far as is learned, no fatalities occurred. Probably the greatest damage was done by the falling of electric light and street car trolley wires, for at least a dozen horses were killed by being struck by live wires. The electric cars on many lines are at a standstill, and people living in the suburbs are forced to get home the best they may.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 13.—Yesterday afternoon the state board of public lands and buildings commenced anew the investigation of charges involving certain transactions of officers and employees at the Lincoln hospital for the insane. There were present Land Commissioner Humphrey, Secretary Allen and State Treasurer Hill. Mr. Humphrey, as chairman, of the board, presided over the court. The time of the session was taken up in listening to testimony till a late hour, when an adjournment was taken until today.

Death of Mrs. Ullum.

GANDY, Neb., Oct. 13.—The people of this community were greatly shocked over the death of Mrs. S. B. Ullum, who died at her home in Logan precinct last Sunday. Mrs. Ullum gave birth to triplets October 4th. One died, the other two are living and doing well. She leaves a husband to mourn the loss of a good wife, seven small children the loss of a loving mother and a community which knew her as a noble woman.

No Jury Yet.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 13.—The third day of the Irvine trial was as devoid of features as was the second, the routine of ascertaining whether or not the gentlemen summoned as jurors had formed or expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused.

A loafer in the church is as worthless as he is anywhere else.

Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchener, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular produce, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
