It was a climax that outstripped the expectations or even hopes of the men who planned it. The number of men in line, the number of people who saw the parade and the to get the German Lutheran college lodecorations of the thousands of buildings exceeded by half that which had been expected.

As far as eye could reach up and down the big thoroughfares men, women and children, horses and wagons, street cars and carts, buggies and carriages crowded in an inspiring jumble of confusion.

Then the bands began to be heard and marching troops and clattering hoofs and shouts of officers and the rumbling of the heavy ordnance appeared everywhere and all found the places to which they belonged, and at the appointed time great, grand bodies began to move.

It was 10:15 when the platoon of mounted police started up Broadway from the battery to clear the way. This was the beginning of the parade. Then came Grand Marshal General Martin McMahon with his staff.

The first division was made up of 3,500 regular soldiers, including a battalion of cadets from West Point and six bands. The second divison was made up of 2,300 marines. In the third division were $,000 national guards of New York, ten companies from New Jersey, 4,000 from Pennsylvania and fifty from Connecticut under command of the governors of the state. The fourth division comprised 8,000 Grand Army veterans and 2,500 Sons of Veterans. The other divisions were made up of firemen, Italian military organizations, German-Americans, and other civic and semimilitary organizations.

The line of march was from the Battery up Broadway to South street, around Washington square to Fifth avenue, thence to Fourteenth street, to Sixth avenue, to Ninth avenue, to Fifty-ninth street, where the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of the Columbus monument were held. Among those who took part were Vice President Morton, Governor Flower and staff, Senator Hill, Baron Fava, the Italian minister and the officers of the Italian cruiser Bausan.

Mr. Gunst, the head of one of the big decorative establishments, talking of the total spent on city decorations, says, "I should say at least $1,000,000 on the large buildings and houses

Spain Also Celebrates.

MADRID, Oct. 13 .- The festivities in honor of the discovery of America, for which the most extensive preparations were made, began at daybreak this morning. When light broke upon the city the balconies of the houses were gaily decorated with flags, banners and vari-colored bunting. A large number of houses displayed American dags. Those people who lingered in bed were aroused at daybreak by the strains of music produced by seventera military and other bands that paraded the reveille. At the same time the bells of all the churches began to peal. Early masses were said in all the churches in honor of Columbus and the services were attended by immense throngs of people. Later in the day a procession was formed of the professors and students of the Spanish universities. They were all attired in the costumes of the mediævial period and in the ranks were borne ancient standards, some of which were carried in the wars before Columbus was born. Included in the procession were deputations of Ameriean, German, French, Belgian and Portuguese university students.

KANSAS CITY CABLE CAR SMASHED

Run Into By a Santa Fe Freight Train-The Car Carried Over Four Handred Feet and Thrown Into a Ravine -Gripman and Three Passengers Dashed Into Eternity.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12. - At 6:27 o'clock this morning an eastbound Santa Fe railway freight train running on the Kansas City Belt line tracks ran into a westbound Fifteenth street car at the Belt line crossing on East Fifteenth street. The gripman and two passengers were instantly killed and one passenger was fatally hurt, dying a few hours afterward.

The cable car was crushed like an egg shell, and every passenger on the car who failed to jump was ground to

As a ball is tossed from the hand of a boy or a feather is wafted skyward, so the heavy cable car weighing 10,000 pounds was hurled into the air and pounded, dragged and splintered into a thousand fragments. For a distance of 156 yards east from the crossing the heavy wheels of the train strewed the fragments of the cable car on both sides of the Twisted iron, broken glass, track. splintered wood, mats and curtains all along the track showed the fearful force of the collision. J. C. Ransom, the conductor on the car, had a most miraculous escape from death, and only his quickness and presence of mind saved him from sharing the fate of the gripman. He says the engineer of the approaching train failed to ring the bell or sound his whistle until the engine was right upon the car.

The engineer of the train claimed that the gripman was to blame. He claimed that his fireman was ringing the bell and that he was running at about a 6-mile an hour gait.

On march 23 of this year, Warren Watson, clerk of the United States circuit court and one of the best known men in Kansas City, was killed at the same place. Mr. Watson was struck by a passenger train and was frightfully mangled. It is claimed that the train was running at a high rate of speed, and a suit for damages brought by his widow is now in court.

KANSAS WHEAT VERY HEAVY.

Secretary Mohler Says It Will Average

Sixty-two Pounds to the Bushel. TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 13.-Secretary Mohler of the state board of agriculture this morning stated that there was one feature in the wheat yield which has not been touched upon in his crop report that would make a still more flattering showing for the state when the biennial report was issued.

"According to the reports from millers," said he, "the wheat of this year's crop will average about sixty-two pounds to the bushel. Last year's crop only averaged fifty-eight pounds, making a difference of four pounds between the crops. According to these reports the added weight of two pounds per bushel above the standard of sixty pounds, gives the state 2,500,000 bushels more of wheat by weight than is shown by measurement. In many instances the crop has weighed out eight bushels to report from Ellis county shows that where the threshers were paid for 1,123 bushels the wheat was taken direct to the miller and weighed out 1,260 bushels."
