A Prize Picture Puzzle.

EXPLANATION.—The following picture contains four faces, a man and his three daughters. Any one can find the man's face, but it is not so easy to distinguish the faces of the three young ladies. The picture was published in a few newspapers some time ago, and attracted considerable attention to our standard remedies. We now offer a new prize competition in connection with it. As the sole object is to introduce our medicines into new homes, those who entered the former competition are requested not to compete in this one. As to the reliability of "The Ford Pill Co.," and the estimation in which their medicines are held in Toronto, Canada where they are best known, patrons are referred to the daily newspapers, wholesale druggists and leading business houses generally of Toronto.

The proprietors of "The Ford Pill Co." will give an elegant pair of Shetland Ponies, valued at $600, (delivered free in any part of the United States) to the first person who can make out the three daughters' faces. To the second will be given an elegant Lady's Gold Watch, set in sapphires and diamonds. To the third will be given a pair of genuine Diamond Ear-Rings. To the fourth will be given a handsome China Dinner-Service. To the fifth will be given a Kodak Camera. To the sixth, a Swiss Music-Box. To the seventh, a French Mantel Clock. That Pretty Evangeline.
We published recently under the head of "A Pretty Surprise" a notice of a new and very charming edition of Longfellow's most celebrated poem, "Evangeline." Upon examination, the book proves so delightful in every way that we believe it will be a favor to our readers to refer to it again. It is handsomely illustrated, mainly by Birket Foster, one of the most famous of English artists, and bound in exquisite taste in a combination of white and blue cloth, with gilt edges and ornaments, and is sold only by the publisher direct (not by booksellers), at approximately the actual cost of manufacture, for the 100,000 copies, a copy, 60 cents postage, if by mail. His object is to place an example of his book-making into the hands of a vast number of readers. He certainly could choose no more excellent volume to please the people of good taste. His catalogue of books covering every department of literature, a veritable feast of good things for book-lovers, and at wonderfully low prices, considerably over one hundred pages in size, is sent post-paid for two cents. Address JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, 57 Rose St., New York.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.
Mr. and Mrs. Loren Tresscott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, four years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, attended with a dreadful cough and running into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones."—Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at A. McMillen's drug store.

ATTACKED BY DEPUTY MARSHALS.
He Answers the Summons to Surrender With a Volley of Shots, Fatally Wounding One Officer and Disabling Another—Waiting for Reinforcements—Dynamite Used but to No Purpose.

TAILORQUAH, I. T., Oct. 13.—An attempt was made yesterday morning to capture the notorious Ned Christie, at his home in the Caney mountains, fifteen miles east of here. The attacking party was composed of Deputy United States Marshals Milo Creekmore, David Rusk, Charles Copeland and D. C. Dye, with three aides.

The house was surrounded and the presence of the officers was unknown until the call for surrender was made. The only answer was a volley of bullets, one of which struck John Fields in the neck, inflicting a mortal wound, and another struck Joe Bowers, disabling him. When it was found that Christie would not surrender the officers then warned the women and children to come out of the house, which they did and were placed under arrest.

The marshals then set fire to the outbuilding in hopes that the flames would communicate to the house in which Christie was taking refuge, but this plan failed. Dynamite was then used, but the fuse failed to ignite. Deputy Creekmore then hurried to this city and sent the following telegram to United States Marshal Voes at Fort Smith: "Send deputies to Ned Christie's at once. We have him surrounded, but have not enough men. John Fields and Joe Bowers, of our party, are shot. Fields will die."

To which Marshal Voes wired: "Have wired everywhere for deputies. You will have lots of help to-night. Hold the fort by all means and get them this time." Creekmore also summoned a lot of men, including the city marshal and high sheriff. Christie's house is a veritable fort, having been built specially as a place of defense. It is a two story log house, the upper part being provided with loopholes.

In the fall of 1887, while United States Marshal Dan Maples was in the city, he was shot down by an unknown person. Suspicion pointed to Christie, who, at the time, was a member of the "Cabin gang," and a reward of $500 was offered by the government for his arrest. Two previous attempts have been made to affect his capture and both times the United States government failed and the reward was doubled.

Christie is supposed to have with him Bear Paw and Walk-About, who are both desperate murderers and fugitives from justice. JACK THE RIPPER OUTDOSE. The Horribly Mutilated Body of a Woman Dug Up in a Glasgow Garden.

GLASGOW, Oct. 13.—A terrible crime came to light in Glasgow yesterday which calls the murders committed by Deeding to mind. While some workmen were digging in the garden of a mansion situated in the most fashionable quarter of the city their spades struck something that they at once knew was neither rock nor earth. When a few shovels of earth were removed they were horrified to find a corpse.

The authorities were at once notified and under their direction the earth was removed and from its grave was lifted the dismembered and disemboweled body of a woman. The police at once started an investigation, but as yet have not established the identity of the woman. The family who occupied the house were absent and the place was in charge of a gardener named McEwen. Thinking he might be able to throw some light on the mystery the police looked for him and found that he had suddenly disappeared. A thorough examination made of the remains by the physicians, officials and others, indicates that they were those of a woman about 30 years of age.

The body presents a shocking appearance and the slashing and ripping of the abdomen reveals the work which "Jack the Ripper" performed on the wretched woman whom he killed. The authorities gave orders that the garden should be thoroughly searched for the missing portions of the woman's body, and a force of men were at once set to work to dig all over the place. Their labors met with success. Pieces of the body were found buried in four different holes and it is thought that a further search will reveal all the missing parts.

The inspection of the bedroom which
