Mexican Mustang Liniment.

A Cure for the Ailments of Man and Beast

A long-tested pain reliever.

Its use is almost universal by the Housewife, the Farmer, the Stock Raiser, and by every one requiring an effective liniment.

No other application compares with it in efficacy.

This well-known remedy has stood the test of years, almost generations.

No medicine chest is complete without a bottle of MUSTANG LINIMENT.

Occasions arise for its use almost every day.

All druggists and dealers have it.

DO YOU WANT TO ADOPT A BABY?

Maybe you think this is a new business, sending out babies on application: It has been done before, however, but never have these furnished been so near the original sample as this one. Everyone will exclaim, "Well! that's the sweetest baby I ever saw!" This little black-and-white engraving can give you but a faint idea of the exquisite original.

"I'M A DAISY."
which we propose to send to you, transportation paid. The little darling rests against a pillow, and is in the act of drawing off its pink sock, the mate of which has been pulled off and flung aside with a triumphant coo. The flesh tints are perfect, and the eyes follow you, no matter where you stand. The exquisite reproductions of this greatest painting of Ida Vaughn (the most celebrated of modern painters of baby life) are to be given to those who subscribe to Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893. The reproductions cannot be told from the original, which cost $400, and are the same size (17x22 inches). The baby is life size, and absolutely lifelike. We have also in preparation, to present to our subscribers during 1893, other great pictures by such artists as Percy Moran, Maud Humphrey, Louis Deschamps, and others of world-wide renown. Take only two examples of what we did during the past year, "A Yard of Fans," and "A White House Ordeal" by the wife of President Harrison, and you will see what our promises mean.

Those who subscribe for Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893 will possess a gallery of exquisite works of art of great value, besides a Magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep everyone posted on all the topics of the day, and all the facts and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion Magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and we give you, free of cost, all the patterns you wish, ready to cut, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2, and you will really get over $25 in value. Address the publisher, W. J. Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send 10 cents for a specimen copy.

Vailton Notes.

Election excitement now is a thing of the long ago.

The snow brought its benefits and we see considerable ground stirred and seeding resumed.

Three of Lewis Fauss' oldest children are spending the month with Clay county relatives.

Corn gathering is the order of the day. Corn about Vailton yields from thirty to fifty bushels per acre.

Mr. Chapman called on old neighbors last week; he may dispose of his elegant farm on the north side.

J. P. Squire will remove to Beatrice to give the lads a better chance in the way of school privileges. He will rent his place to eastern parties.

Mr. J. W. Adams has the deep sympathy of this entire community in the death of their daughter Lizzie. We hope that their son Henry will be about soon.

Married on the second day of this month at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. James Speer and Miss Nettie Voss, Rev. Clifton of Culbertson officiating. All wish the happy pair a pleasant voyage.

Mr. David Carpenter is absent in the east on some land business we understand. RALPH.

A single person of a sour, sullen temper—what a dreadful thing it is to have such a one in the house. There is not myrrh and aloes and chloride of lime enough in the world to disinfect a single home of such a nuisance as that. No riches, no elegance of mien, no beauty of face can ever screen such a person from utter vulgarity. There is one thing which rising persons hate the reputation of more than all others, and that is vulgarity; but trust me ill temper is the vilest thing that the lowest born and ill bred man can ever bring to his home. It is one of the worst forms of impiety.

Banksville's Budget.
Miss Hattie Miller commenced the Banksville school the 7th inst.

A. D. Lincoln was up from the eastern part of the state for to vote and returned Saturday.

Clara Benjamin is home at Banksville from McCook on a visit, as she has just completed her course in shorthand and typewriting at McCook.

The election is over, and all the true blue republicans around Banksville are looking as if they were badly stayed with since the reports began to come in.

The fire that passed over the prairie west of Banksville made sad havoc with some of the farmers of Nebraska and Kansas. A. D. West had a quantity of hay burned, Ed. Ackerman had 17 hogs and a quantity of grain burned, J. A. French is reported had six stacks of wheat estimated at 600 bu. burned, J. Miller 10 tons of hay, Frank Wallace all about his place but his house and team, and the bridge east of Traer on the St. Francis line was burned.

Election was very quiet in Grant precinct. OBSERVER.

How to Keep the Skin Smooth.

An inferior quality of soap may injure the skin, owing to an excess of alkali or other irritating substance that it contains. I have seen soap that would smart the skin the moment it came in contact with it. Using too much soap must also be guarded against. With good dietetic habits and reasonably clean surroundings, very little soap is needed, even for the face and hands. Washing or bathing with hard water will also make the skin rough. Pure, soft water, free from sediment, is the best. The use of very hot or cold water, especially in the winter, will make the skin chapped; or facing a strong wind, and particularly a cold wind, will tell upon the face, all the more if there be dust or other impurities in the atmosphere. After such exposure if the face be washed in tepid water and a simple cold cream applied with the hand and well rubbed in, ill effects may be averted, or quickly cured. Sweet cream will have the same effect; it is equally good for removing sunburn and at the same time very cooling.—From "Sanitarian," in Demorest's Family Magazine for December.

The New York Herald has experienced a sudden change of heart. Ten days ago it wanted protection hit between the eyes because it was impoverishing the workmen of England and sending them over in swarms to take advantage of our higher wages. Now it censures the "rather fresh" young editor of the Atlanta Constitution for calling for the immediate enactment of promised free trade legislation. "The people don't want the McKinley law repealed!" says the Herald with emphasis. "To repeal the law or to chase congress on to tamper hastily with its provisions would disturb business, depress stocks, unsettle values, upset industries and throw the country into such a panic as it has not experienced since 1857. The people have just won a great victory, and they don't want it turned into a great disaster by excited politicians, eager free traders, youthful editors, aspiring orators or meddling pamphleteers. We have just passed through one spell of excitement, and don't want another forced upon us. For heaven's sake give us a rest! Let things take their own course. Let well enough alone." The last appeal for a continuation of the republican policy is given the special emphasis of italics. Will the Herald kindly inform a wondering nation what in the name of common sense it does believe about the tariff, anyway?—Journal.

THE "rioting" at Homestead, which is filling the news columns of the papers, will have little bearing on the final settlement of affairs one way or another. The "riots" appear to be nothing more than street fights, and nothing more is at stake in them than the personal pique of individual workmen, both in and out of the mills. Union workmen and non-union workmen in other parts of the world should not "take up" the quarrel at Homestead; they have nothing in common with it. If the union men have in their ranks, as they claim they have, skilled workmen whose places cannot be adequately filled, they will win their fight and their organization will help them in winning it. If the non-unionists can do their work as well as the union workmen, they will be given an equal show, and there's an end of it. They may quarrel and "riot" for a year or two, but the "best man" will win—though not at all by force.

ORDINANCE NO. 38.

An ordinance changing the boundary line of the city of McCook, Nebraska, in that part of said city which includes part of the south one-half of the southeast quarter of section 30, township 3, north of range 29, west of the 6th P. M., included in said city of McCook.

Be it ordained by the mayor and city council of the city of McCook, Nebraska, that the metes and bounds of the incorporated village, now city of McCook, beginning at the southwest corner of section 29, township 3, north of range 29, west of the 6th P. M., one-half mile to the quarter corner between sections 30 and 31, in said township and range, be changed, and that in lieu thereof, that the following boundary line shall constitute and become the boundary line thereof, to-wit: commencing at southwest corner of section 29, township 3, north of range 29, west of the 6th P. M., running thence north on the section line, dividing sections 29 and 30, a distance of 624 feet, thence north 73 degrees, west 500 feet, thence north to the one eighth section line of section 30, thence west on said one eighth section line to the quarter section line of said section 30, the said last named quarter section line of said section 30 being the western boundary line of said village, now city of McCook, in said section 30, township 3, north of range 29, west of the 6th P. M.

2.—That the plat and diagram as described in the preceding section be, and the same is hereby constituted and declared the diagram and course of said boundary line aforesaid, as follows:

3.—That the foregoing diagram and ordinance declaring said boundary line be certified to the county clerk of Red Willow county, Nebraska.

4.—That the ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Approved and passed this 9th day of November, 1892.
Attest:
C. T. BREWER, Mayor.
U. J. WARREN, City Clerk.

PAID THE PENALTY.

THOMAS NEILL, THE WOMAN POISONER, HANGED.

MEETS DEATH WITHOUT A TREMOR.

He Was a Sort of Jack the Ripper Wretch, Confessing His Dastardly Murders on Fallen Women—He Served Time Both in Canada and the United States—A Native of Canada—How He Died.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Thomas Neill, otherwise known as Dr. Neill Cream, the poisoner of Matilda Glover and several other girls, was hanged at Newgate at 9 o'clock this morning.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the authority to hang Neill was handed by the high sheriff to Hangman Billington in accordance with the legal form and at three minutes to 9 o'clock Billington, accompanied by an assistant who carried pinioning material, entered the cell of the condemned man, where he found the prison chaplain ministering to Neill. Without a moment's delay the hangman deftly pinioned Neill by passing a broad belt around his arms, securing his elbows with two straps fastened to the belt behind. The condemned man did not utter a word. The procession to the gallows was then formed, headed by the chief warden, who was followed by the condemned man with the chaplain beside him. Neill walked firmly and his face showed no emotion.

When the scaffold was reached the white cap was drawn over the condemned man's eyes and Billington guided him to the trap door under the beam from which a noose was dangling. The cap was then drawn down so that it covered the chin, rendering it impossible for Neill to see the final preparations for his death. His legs were pinioned with a strap fastened below the knees. The noose was then dropped over his head and adjusted around his neck, the ring being fixed behind his left ear. In another second the hangman stepped to the rear, pressed a lever and the trap fell. Neill's body dropped five feet. Billington and the other persons who saw the execution concurred in the opinion that death was instantaneous.

A medical register has been kept in Neill's cell since his condemnation. It shows that he only slept a few hours each night. Last night he went to bed at 9 o'clock, but did not have a single hour of unbroken sleep.

The body was cut down at 10 o'clock. A cast of the head was then made and at noon a jury viewed the body and returned a formal verdict in accordance with the medical testimony that death had been caused by a fracture of the neck. The body was then placed in a perforated coffin, into which a sack of quicklime was poured, and was buried under the flagstone in the corridor.

Neill was a Canadian and during his life had been in close contact with the police of various cities in the United States and Canada. In Canada Neill, or as he was known there, Dr. Thomas Cream, studied medicine at McGill college, Montreal, graduated in 1876, began practice at Kingston, Ontario, and had been there only a short time when he was suspected of illegal practices. Public opinion forced him to leave Kingston, and he went to Hamilton, Ontario. He was shortly afterward arrested on a charge of criminal malpractice and moved to Chicago, where he was arrested on a similar charge. This crime was proved against him and he was sentenced to imprisonment for life. He served thirteen years, was released on account of ill health and went to England in September of last year, and took apartments in the Lambeth place road. For a time he was a student at the St. Thomas hospital.
