OUTING SHOES.

It long ago seemed as though shoes could never be better and never be cheaper, but they are better now and cheaper now than they ever were before. The great every day favorite is our men's and ladies' shoe. It is as much a boon to the pocketbook as it is to the feet. It won't wear you out to wear it out. You don't need to take care of it; it takes care of itself. It will give you solid comfort for the simple reason that a better shoe for knockabout purposes has never been produced. If prices never appealed to you before, the price of this shoe will, for it costs only $2.50. It will look nicer and wear longer than any shoe on earth.

The Palladian literary society of the Nebraska university has secured Hon. Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, to deliver his celebrated lecture, "Money and Morals," in Lincoln, January 18th.

It again suggests itself to THE TRIBUNE that our board of county commissioners should consider the matter of purchasing land for a county home, while real estate is low. Red Willow county is rapidly coming to the point where she can take care of her paupers more cheaply perhaps in a county home than by the present expensive manner. The matter may well receive the thought and attention of the commissioners at all events.

The Farmers' club held a short but interesting session in the city hall, Saturday afternoon, William Weygint in the chair and R. S. Hileman, secretary. Besides discussing various topics of moment to the farmer, the coming convention in our city, January 18th, was considered, and the following committee of reception was named to receive those who may attend the convention from adjoining counties: Box Elder precinct, Stephen Bolles; Red Willow precinct, S. L. Miller; Driftwood precinct, R. S. Hileman; Coleman precinct, A. C. Modie; Perry precinct, John Real; Willow Grove precinct, Wm. Weygint. They hope to entertain a goodly number of delegates and to have an interesting session on the 18th instant.

The days are now sixteen minutes longer at each end than they were on the 21st day of December, and the change is perceptible.

A newspaper man may never own the earth, but then he has it under him all the time, which amounts to about the same thing.

With pork at $6 to $7 per hundred it will not pay the Nebraska farmer to ship his corn to the east. Keep it if possible to make more pork.

We still have a few boxes of writing paper left, and we will sell them at less than cost. We are closing them out at any price. TRIBUNE stationery department.

Once more THE TRIBUNE makes the announcement that it would be glad to publish scraps of history and incidents of the early settlement of Red Willow county.

One of Rev. McBride's boys was in from the Frontier county farm, close of last week, to have the doctor repair the damage caused his fingers while he was "monkeying" with the corn sheller.

The Red Willow County Agricultural Society will meet in Indianola on Saturday, February 4th, at one o'clock. Important business to transact, such as revising the premium list for coming fair and other matters.

An Indianola gentleman has up quite a considerable sum of money that Representative Sheridan, who has recently sold his business there, will not return to Indianola to live after his term of office has expired.

The Christian Endeavorers held a business meeting and social at the residence of J. Albert Wells on Saturday evening. The attendance was good and the interest lively. The social feature gave much pleasure to all present.

It has been extremely cold, blowy and snowy to the north, east and west, while here the temperature has simply been agreeable. By comparison, in winter as well as in summer, it is found that McCook holds the favorite climate.

While the sun rolls on in splendor through the broad ethereal dome, while the weary world is waiting for the cows to hurry home; just so long as the silver-moon-beams kiss the frosty face of night, there will be two applications where one office is in sight.—Col. Bixby.

The public should understand that the red flag with the black center which occasionally floats over THE TRIBUNE office is NOT A BLIZZARD indicator, but simply announces the change of temperature of at least 20 degrees within 12 or 24 hours. It is what is known as the cold wave flag.

J. M. Henderson announces a public sale at his farm four miles due north of McCook on Wednesday, January 18th, commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M. He will dispose of a large quantity of agricultural implements on liberal terms. Don't forget the date January 18th.

We have no disposition to neglect any interest or to mention one person or enterprise more than another. As a newspaper it is the intention to know no sect, sex or class, clique or color. We want to and will give the city all the news obtainable. The big and little are all alike with us. A man is a man whether he is rich or poor.

Brother Carpenter, late of the Western Patriot of Indianola, has vehemently averred in season and out of season, that a pass was a bribe. But Brother Carpenter himself does not seem insensible to the winsome wavings of several bribes, as both his children, who have secured a place in the present legislature as well as himself, recently traveled to Lincoln from Indianola on bribes, to enter upon their duties. Some reformers even find the flesh to be weak, when passes and bribes are in sight.

The county-seat contest case closed, Wednesday evening, so far as taking of evidence is concerned. Thirty days was given both sides in which to prepare to make their arguments before Judge Welty.

Taking one year with another, killing frosts occur three weeks later in the spring and recommence from four to five weeks earlier in the fall in Dakota than they do in Nebraska. You may verify this for yourself from the reports of the United States Signal service.

Rev. Henry Buettner, pastor of the German Congregational church at McCook, was in about town, Monday, arranging to give our German folks some preaching services. The reverend gentleman hopes to make an appointment soon for the near future.—Cambridge Kaleidoscope.

The Kaleidoscope is correct in all but one particular: The reverend gentleman spells his name Rev. E. T. Bettex.

Well Said.

The following from the Ord Democrat says in a few and eloquent words: "All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to this paper are requested to call and settle. All those indebted to this office and not knowing it are requested to call and find out. All those knowing themselves indebted and not wishing to call are requested to stay in one place long enough for us to catch them. All not indebted are requested to call and become indebted."

The bigger the fool, the greater the critic; the denser the ignorance the more bigoted the man; the less the piety the greater the noise, and the bigger the hypocrite the greater the anxiety to be in a front seat.

Since January 1st the weather has been fine. The ground is bare, roads dry and smooth, and fall plowing is in good condition for seeding. Some farmers are plowing and the soil rolls over just as nice as can be.

L. B. Hall of Hall Bros., of Crawford, was down from the sand hills with two car loads of hogs that averaged 401 pounds and brought the sum of $3,225. Hall Brothers are large feeders and mill owners and it shows that even the barren spots of Nebraska can produce good stock.—South Omaha Daily Stockman.

Some 7,000 postoffice employes had the protection of the civil service rules thrown about them by the recent extension of the classified service, and they can now regard a change in the national administration with complacency. The rules of the civil service now apply to over 40,000 employes of the government, but there still remains a large army of public servants who are not thus protected and most of whom will have to make way for democratic successors.

Will be a Great Boom.

E. Boyer from near Hemingford called in Tuesday, accompanied by Mr. Nicholas Colling, of Indianola Red Willow county. Mr. Colling is out here as a representative of colonies of German farmers in his own, Farnas county, and several of the southwestern counties, who intend to come here to live and farm. Mr. Boyer is taking him over all parts of the county, that he can see for himself, and as seeing is believing, there is but little doubt but that he will find the county all that has been represented, as the best one, where cheap lands, capable of producing the best crops, and with all natural resources. Mr. Colling is a man of age and experience, and says all this county needs to produce prosperity, is farmers who know how to farm and properly develop it. He says that no farmer can farm and run politics at the same time, and his are not that kind of people.—Alliance Grip.

I. A. Sheridan, of Red Willow, is one of the members of the house that is big enough for two or three representatives. Mr. Sheridan was the fortunate member that secured the temporary speakership plum. He is a good natured individual and the only thing he ever did to hurt anyone's feelings was to pull that card out of his vest pocket and read the names of the committee on credentials. He is a member of the city council of his home town, Indianola. He is also engaged in the general merchandise business. He was formerly a democrat.

A COLD LEADS

Its Victim To Consumption.

There are three roads which lead from health to consumption. Over one of these roads pass all of the great multitude of people who die every year of consumption. Each route begins with health and happiness and ends with disease and death. They are described as follows: 1st road, a slight cold—neglected—settles in the head or throat—chronic catarrh—extends to the lungs—consumption—death. 2d road, a slight cold—neglected—cough—settles on the lungs—cough gradually growing worse—consumption—death. 3d road, a cold—neglected—settles in the throat—hoarseness—short breath—consumption—death.

Thousands have just started on one of these roads, all of whom could be easily cured by Pe-ru-na, thousands more are half way to the fatal end of one of these roads who are still curable by a course of treatment with Pe-ru-na; and yet other thousands are near the end whose last days would be made more bearable and hope of recovery more probable by commencing Pe-ru-na without delay.

Send to the Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, O., for a free copy of their latest publication, the Illustrated Ills of Life, a complete treatise on catarrh and all chronic disease of the lungs.
