

THE WAY OF THE WORLD.

Great men and little men,
Short men and tall;
Great men have great minds,
And small men, small;
Great minds rob little minds,
All to make a name;
So great minds get greatest minds—
And this is fame.

Lord Rosebery's Guest.
In the month of May, 1889, there was an evening party in Berkeley square, and in the early part of the day Lord Rosebery had met in Piccadilly a Scotch farmer with whom he had some acquaintance, and he asked his friend to "look in" in the course of the night.

Using Postage Stamps for Seals.
Americans who chance to receive letters from Russia are usually surprised to find the foreign postage stamp on their envelope used as a seal—affixed, that is to say, to the center of the side opposite to that on which the address is written.

Baldness Among Young People.
If the unsatisfactory statistics that I have been able to collect can be relied on, the proportion of baldness in boys and girls under twenty is about eighty to seven.

Royal Road to Wealth.
"There's a man," said Jobbins, "that came here two years ago with only $200 to his name. Now he's worth a cool million if he's worth a cent."

A Pair of Pheasants.
When a resident of Bellefonte, Or., picked up a pheasant he had shot in the mountains near his home he was surprised to find that the bird was constructed on the plan of the Siamese Twins.

Two Famous Opals.
In the last century a very round and brilliant opal was the property of the amateur Fleury. Another, said to be fascinatingly vivid, was owned by a noted French financier.

A good conscience is to the soul what health is to the body—it preserves constant ease and serenity within us and more than counterbalances all the calamities and afflictions which can befall us without.—Addison.

A Frenchman who had by chance passed over a narrow plank lying across a deep gorge in the dark, on viewing the spot the next day fell down dead while contemplating the dangers of the previous night.

A hay siver, consisting of a three-sided device which enables the horse to insert his head into the manger, but does not permit any lateral movement of it, is a late invention.

The manufacture of snowshoes for army use would establish a new industry that might employ a goodly number of workmen.

Obeying Instructions.

When the new apprentice assumed his duties at the Turkish bath establishment the manager thought he seemed rather stupid and entered into a long explanation of what he was to do.

Toward the time when the new attendant was to go off duty, the latter went into the manager's office and began behaving with much mystery.

Buddhism in Greece.
A legend of one of Buddha's earliest pupils tells us that the young man used to pass the whole rainy season in his palace surrounded by dancing girls.

But as far as it is pedantic, morbid, puerile and superstitious, busy with arithmetical strings of propositions, with austerities, ending in self hypnotism, with an ideal of universal suicide, it is difficult to see how the natives of a temperate climate can acquiesce in the developed doctrines of Buddhism.

Big Pay for Little Work.
The number of accidents which have befallen the big steamship lines have been surprisingly few.

Old Time "Reviewing."
The first age of the great modern reviews and magazines was an age of kicks and rough horseplay.

Why a Man Loses Faith.
Ex-Judge Henry E. Howland is credited with the following: It is the gross and palpable subterfuges, deceptions and evasions that are abhorrent to our natures in dealing with the outside world.

Like Mother's Cooking.
An enterprising baker advertises "mince pies like mother used to make."

A Cure for Snake Bite.
Another treatment for snake bite is added to the long list of remedies that have come from many countries.

The Number Three in Daily Life.
In the nursery rhymes and tales of childhood who cannot remember the "Three Wise Men of Gotham" who took a sea voyage in a bowl, not to mention the luckless trio of blind mice whose tails were cut off by the farmer's wife?

Success of Electric Plants.
The question, "Is light or darkness conducive to the growth of an electric plant?" was recently discussed by a debating society in a western college.

The Forgotten Part.
Aunt Hetty—What in creation is the use of these new fangled individual forks and spoons?

Aunt Hetty—Yes—but, land sakes, they all go into the same dishwater.—New York Weekly.

MANAGING ENGLISH FARMS.

The Results of an Intelligent and Capable Land Owner in England.
Mr. W. J. Harris gives a most helpful and interesting account of the Halwill Manor estate.

Land not valued at more than five shillings per acre in its rough state became, when meadow land, worth from thirty to fifty shillings, and as the cottages were in demand the population increased, and farmers knowing that labor could always be obtained took the large farms, reduced though they were.

One secret of the small farmer's success is that one man works on his farm for no wages at all, and that is the farmer himself.

Thick, heavy, regularly arched eyebrows always indicate sound judgment.

Good Looks.
Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs.

A broad conspicuous forehead always indicates great mental penetration.

The best noses always show a concavity between the nose and the forehead.

Your rheumatism may be bad; we will admit it to be very bad, and that you have expended a great deal of money for medicines and treatments without receiving much benefit.

A Good Record. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ten years," says a druggist E. B. Legg, of Vail, Iowa, "and have always warranted it and never had a bottle returned."

Warts on the chin or neck indicate industrious, active, sanguine persons.

With pure, vigorous blood coursing through the veins and animating every fiber of the body, cold weather is not only endurable but pleasant and agreeable.

Any marked peculiarity of countenance indicates some peculiarity of mind.

Is the only preparation used by fashionable ladies to perpetuate a beautiful complexion. Ask your druggist for it and do not be induced to take anything else.

A projecting nose and mouth show self-confidence, imprudence and rashness.

A Remarkable Literary Announcement.

Doubtless the most surprising, and perhaps the most important literary announcement ever made to American book-buyers is Alden's edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica for $25.

The snub nose is peculiar to Russians, Esquimaux, Tartars and Africans.

Many walls are rendered unwholesome by the paper that is supposed to adorn them.

Projecting, rolling eyes belong to people destitute of genuine self-respect.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grotton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption."

Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above.

Captain W. A. Abbott, who has long been with Messrs. Percival & Hutton, Real Estate and Insurance Brokers, Des Moines, Iowa, and one of the best known and most respected business men in that city, says: "I can testify to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy."

The best noses always show a concavity between the nose and the forehead.

Your rheumatism may be bad; we will admit it to be very bad, and that you have expended a great deal of money for medicines and treatments without receiving much benefit.

A Good Record. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ten years," says a druggist E. B. Legg, of Vail, Iowa, "and have always warranted it and never had a bottle returned."

Warts on the chin or neck indicate industrious, active, sanguine persons.

With pure, vigorous blood coursing through the veins and animating every fiber of the body, cold weather is not only endurable but pleasant and agreeable.

Any marked peculiarity of countenance indicates some peculiarity of mind.

Is the only preparation used by fashionable ladies to perpetuate a beautiful complexion. Ask your druggist for it and do not be induced to take anything else.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil.

Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me.

Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular medicine, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it.

Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves.

Thick, heavy, regularly arched eyebrows always indicate sound judgment.

Good Looks.
Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs.

A broad conspicuous forehead always indicates great mental penetration.

The best noses always show a concavity between the nose and the forehead.

Your rheumatism may be bad; we will admit it to be very bad, and that you have expended a great deal of money for medicines and treatments without receiving much benefit.

A Good Record. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ten years," says a druggist E. B. Legg, of Vail, Iowa, "and have always warranted it and never had a bottle returned."

Warts on the chin or neck indicate industrious, active, sanguine persons.

With pure, vigorous blood coursing through the veins and animating every fiber of the body, cold weather is not only endurable but pleasant and agreeable.

Any marked peculiarity of countenance indicates some peculiarity of mind.

Advertisement for Castoria medicine, including text about its benefits for infants and children, and contact information for The Centaur Company.

Advertisement for Geo. J. Burgess, Plumber & Steam Fitter, located at North Main Ave., McCook, Neb.

Advertisement for J. A. Wilcox & Son, featuring elegant line of ladies' and children's clothing.

Advertisement for Nebraska Loan and Banking Co., offering farm loans and city loans.