Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers. For cures of headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle at McMillen's drugstore.

What's the use in asking the Lord to save the whole world every time we get down on our knees if we are too stingy to help keep up the church?

CHOLERINE IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Swickly, Penn.: We had an epidemic of Cholera, as our physicians called it, in this place lately and I made a great hit with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I sold four dozen bottles of it in one week and have since sold nearly a gross. This Remedy did the work and was a big advertisement for me. Several persons who had been troubled with diarrhoea for two or three weeks were cured by a few doses of this medicine.

Some people pray for dying grace, when what they need most is grace to make them live within their means and pay their debts.

RHEUMATISM QUICKLY CURED.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism, but it can be done if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert of New Brunswick, Illinois: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today; and would insist upon everyone who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by L. W. Some parents take their children to see the procession, and then whip them if they want to go to the circus.

IT SHOULD BE IN EVERY HOUSE.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpshurg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at A. McMillen's drugstore. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

We begin to own everything on earth as soon as we realize that we have a clear title in heaven.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

There is nothing in a name, but in a bottle of Wisdom's Robertine there is a world of satisfaction to ladies of taste and refinement. It whitens and beautifies the skin without the injurious effects that attend the use of most cosmetics. The only visible evidence of its use is a beautiful, clear and healthful complexion. Every lady using it recommends it to her friends.

When the devil goes fishing he baits for hearts, not heads. Too many preachers to do just the opposite.

WISDOM'S ROBERTINE

Is the most delightful article ever produced for beautifying and preserving the complexion. Not only removes blemishes but leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as fresh looking as a morning glory. Used and endorsed by the elite of society and the stage, leading physicians say it is not only harmless but positively beneficial to the skin.

God is disappointed if all the noise we make for him is done with the mouth.

MOTHERS' RECOMMENDATION.

We are acquainted with many mothers in Centerville who would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house for a good many times its cost, and are recommending it every day. From personal experience we can say that it has broken up bad colds for our children.—Centerville, South Dakota, Citizen. 50 cent bottles for sale by L. W. McConnell & Co., druggists.

Truth never builds on sand, no matter how much like rock it may look.

FOR SOFTENING THE SKIN.

Alleviating irritations, removing roughness, wind tan and like troubles there is nothing equal to Wisdom's celebrated Violet Cream.

Temperance is a bride who makes her husband rich.

Shiloh's Cure, the Great Cough and Croup Cure is for sale by us. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses, only 25 cents. Children love it. A. McMillen, druggist.

NOTHING ELSE LIKE IT.

When the publishers decided to issue The Journal twice a week at the same price of the old weeklies, $1.00 per year, they struck just what the public wanted—something between the old-fashioned weekly and the high-priced daily. The success of The Semi-Weekly Journal has been immediate and continued. It has distanced every one of its once-a-week rivals. It doesn't take long to convince people that a good live paper every Tuesday and Friday is better than only one a week, especially when you appeal to their pocket books, and give it to them at the same price. Readers will testify that it is almost as good as a daily. The markets twice a week are worth the money. Four complete novels each year by "The Duchess," Miss Braddon, and other widely known authors, are worth the dollar. Its legislative news is its strong point just now. It is wide-awake, spends money for news, and is always in the lead. You can see its superiority over the old-fashioned weekly. Everyone who subscribes now gets a Seaside Library free.

This offer won't hold good always. One of our big offers is The Semi-Weekly Journal and Weekly New York Tribune, both one year for $1.25. Our great premium, History of the United States, Stanley's Book, or Life of Spurgeon, prepaid, and The Journal, $1.40. Either book is worth $1.50 alone. Your choice of these books and the Weekly New York Tribune and Journal a year for only $1.65. What a combination of reading matter! If you send us your own and another new name, we will send you either of the above books free. Subscribe now and get 104 papers a year, which is less than one cent per copy. Address

WONDERFUL!

The cures which are being effected by Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa., in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, and all chronic diseases by their compound Oxygen Treatment is indeed marvelous.

If you are a sufferer from any disease which your physician has failed to cure, write for information about this treatment, and their book of two hundred pages, giving a history of Compound Oxygen, its nature and effects with numerous testimonials from patients, to whom you may refer for still further information, will be promptly sent, without charge.

This book aside from its great merit as a medical work, giving as it does, the result of years of study and experience, you will find a very interesting one.

"For a long time I suffered with stomach and liver troubles, and could find no relief until I began to use Ayer's Pills. I took them regularly for a few months, and my health was completely restored."—D. W. Baine, New Berne, N. C.

There is no reason why children should be allowed to suffer from loathsome scrofulous sores and glandular swellings when such a pleasant, effective, and economical medicine as Ayer's Sarsaparilla may be procured of the nearest druggist. Be sure to get Ayer's.

THE LOVE CHASE.

Though oft I pass her on the street,
I seldom seem to catch her eye;
She rarely lets our glances meet,
Although she knows I'm passing by.

I know she's partial to the rose—
Nor give a look my heart to cheer,
The furtive blush upon her cheek
Tells me she knows that I am near.

'Tis true she's full of girlish art,
A trait that's common to her sex,
But she is no coquette at heart,
Though oft her tricks my mind perplex.

And still this love chase I pursue,
'Tis hope and fear continue wooing,
One day o'erjoyed, the next so blue
I scarcely know what I am doing.

From the last days of May to the end of July in the northern part of this land the sun shines day and night upon its mountains, fords, rivers, lakes, forests, valleys, towns, villages, hamlets, fields and farms, and thus Sweden and Norway may be called the land of the midnight sun. During this period of continuous daylight the stars are never seen, the moon appears pale and sheds no light upon the earth. Summer is short, giving just time enough for the wild flowers to grow, to bloom and to fade away, and barely time for the husbandman to collect his harvest, which, however, is sometimes nipped by a summer frost.

A few weeks after the midnight sun has passed the hours of sunshine shorten rapidly, and by the middle of August the air becomes chilly and the nights colder, although during the day the sun is warm. Then the grass turns yellow, the leaves change their color, wither and fall; the swallows and other migrating birds fly toward the south; twilight comes once more; the stars, one by one, make their appearance, shining brightly in the pale blue sky; the moon shows itself again as the queen of the night and lights and cheers the long and dark days of the Scandinavian winter.

The time comes at last when the sun disappears entirely from sight; the heavens appear in a blaze of light and glory, and the stars and the moon pale before the aurora borealis.—"Land of the Midnight Sun."

Wanted to Brush Them Off.
Passing down a quiet street not long since I saw two beautifully dressed women approaching. They were clad in delicate colors, and spick and span from head to foot. Between them and me was a garbage wagon, and just as they came opposite about two tons of ashes was hoisted into it with a result to the women that was detrimental to their appearance to a marked degree.

"That mean old thing," said one.
"I know he did it on purpose," said the other.
"My eyes are so full of ashes I can't see a thing."
"And so is my mouth," said the other. But the climax was reached when the driver of the garbage wagon accosted them, saying:
"Wouldn't yees like me to brush yees off?"

These two women proved that warm hearts were beating beneath their dainty clothes, for they only thanked him kindly, but—refused.—New York Herald.

The Antiquity of the Lark.
The very first thought suggested by a study of the migration of birds is one of time. In tracing the migratory habit to its origin we find the history reaching back to the times previous to man, and we begin to realize how ancient is the aristocracy of the air. The lark did not come over with William the Conqueror, but his armorial bearing, if he thought it worth while to have any, would antedate those of every noble family in Great Britain.—Mrs. J. B. Southworth in Albany Journal.

Making Ants Useful.
"One year," says a Florida orange grower, "when few of my trees bore much fruit on account of insect ravages, I secured a large crop. I induced the ants to frequent my trees by syringing the trees with a strong solution of sirup and water. The solution dried, leaving a saccharine substance adhering to the leaves, twigs and branches of the trees, in seeking which the ants killed the insects which infested the trees."—New York Tribune.

The Odor of Fall Leaves.
What sorrow of old memories, of illusions faded, of dreams foregone, of friendships chilled, of gold turned gray, comes into the heart as under the straying feet the first of autumn's fallen leaves breathe out their secret! To the keen sense there is in the new fallen snow its own odor of cold, frank cleanliness.—Boston Commonwealth.

The small town of Grifton, N. C., can probably lay claim to more divisions than any other small place in the country. It is located in two counties, three townships, two congressional districts, two senatorial districts and two judicial districts.

No one can have failed to notice that the foam along the shore of the sea or of a lake is white. No matter how deep the blue of the water may be, there is the same whiteness of the froth at its edge. For that matter, all foam is white.

Oysters come nearer to milk than almost any other common food material as regards both the amounts and the relative proportions of nutrients, the food values of equal weights of milk and oysters being nearly the same.

The month is able to bear water of a very high temperature without inconvenience—in fact, water so hot as to cause pain when the finger is inserted in it.

Petravina, the author of "Dogmata Theologica," when tired of study amused himself by twirling his chair for 5 or 10 minutes.

When a Man's Advice Was Good.

He who had much occasion to be abroad on the day when the snow, rain and wind made merry with the population of this town saw some queer sights and heard some queer things. One of the worst crossings in the lower part of the city was at the intersection of Broadway and Fulton street, where the slush and snow formed an expanse of something which told nothing of the depth of the mixture. Here and there was a hummock which might furnish solid footing, but probably wouldn't. A young man, essaying the crossing, stopped half way between the curbs, and deciding that the rest of the ford was impassable turned back. As he did so he ran into an elderly woman who was close behind him. "Beg pardon, madam," said he, "but you'd better not try it."

The lady gave her skirts an extra twitch and glared at the youth.

"I want you to know," she responded, "that I never needed a man's advice, and I don't need it now. Lemme by."

The young man jumped to one side, and she who would not be befriended went ahead. There was a splash, a half smothered cry, a wild scramble, and she stood on the sidewalk. But the slush had gone above the tops of her stout walking shoes. Grimly she looked back at her adviser, and the wind brought her remark to his ears:

"I never took a man's advice, but I wish I had that time!" she said.—New York Times.

Both Parties Pleased.
A Portland lawyer says that not long ago a man came into his office thoroughly angry—as men usually are when they go on such errands. He had called upon a debtor and asked him politely for the payment of a bill of $2.50 and had been abused for his pains. Now he wanted the lawyer to collect it.

The lawyer demurred. The amount was too trifling. It would cost the whole of it to collect it.

"No matter," said the client. "I don't care if I don't get a cent, so long as that fellow has to pay it."

So the lawyer wrote the debtor a letter, and in due time the latter appeared in high dudgeon. He didn't owe any $2.50, and he wouldn't pay it.

"Very well," said the lawyer, "then my instructions are to sue. But I hardly think it will pay you to stand a suit for so small a sum."

"Who'll get the money if I pay it?" asked the man.

The lawyer was obliged to confess that he should.

"Oh, well," said the debtor, "that's another matter. If Mr. — isn't going to get it, I am perfectly willing to pay it."

The debt was paid, the lawyer pocketed the amount, and what is very unusual, all parties to the suit were perfectly satisfied.—Portland Argus.

Mediums In Japan.
Spirit rapping vocation for women in Japan requires little apparatus. Rapping is perhaps not the correct word, for there is really no "rapping" at all—the clients are simply put in communication with any spirit with whom they desire to speak. It is not necessary that the spirit should be that of a dead person, but the medium always inquires whether the spirit whose presence is desired is living or dead.

The mediums always carry about with them a mysterious wooden box, about a foot or less square. Like the medicine bag of the Indian medicine man, its contents are a secret to members of the same profession. These women usually have a bow of soft wood strung with a single string, and this they twang on the edge of the box like a caricature of violin playing.

If the spirit required is that of a dead person, a leaf plucked from a graveyard is used to splash some water out of a small cup that stands in front of the medium. If the person is living, a similar ceremony is performed with a piece of stick instead of a leaf. Then follows an incantation, and the spirit proceeds to speak through the medium. The medium charges sometimes as high as 15 or 20 cents.—San Francisco Call.

What the College Gymnasium Does.
The college gymnasium is a place not for the production only of studious athletes, but of athletic students. A place where an hour's varied exercise, a run, a spray and a rub down can be had regularly, and where a man may turn his thoughts wholly from books and studies for awhile by a bout at fencing, or boxing, or by a game in the bowling alley, or in the handball court, from which he can get increased capacity for greater and better endeavors. Kept within its proper sphere, it is as necessary for the symmetrical and complete development of the young "scholar in politics" as is the mathematical recitation, the historical lecture or the debating society, and it is as legitimate.—Harper's Weekly.

Drawbacks In Acting.
It is sometimes hard work to be an actor, for the thumping and pulling and hauling that a person may have to endure in an exciting scene are sometimes more than a mere show. Miss Selina Fetter had to give up her part in "The Henrietta" because she was injured by the fall required of her in every performance of that piece. A young leading man who has been playing Orlando in "As You Like It" for three nights is raw from wrists to elbows in consequence of the thumps, slides and falls endured at the hands of a brassy athlete in the wrestling scene.—New York Sun.

To Find Out Your Future Husband.
At bedtime, having fasted since noon, two girls who wish to obtain a sight of their future husbands boil an egg, which must be the first egg ever laid by the hen, in a pan in which no egg has ever been boiled before. Having boiled it until it is hard they cut it in two with something that has never been used as a knife before. Each girl cuts her half and the shell to the last fragment, speaking no word the while. Then, still in silence, they walk backward to bed, "to deep, perchance to dream."—English Folk Rhymes.
