

Ladies' Sleeves for the Summer Season, and How to Make Them.

The most essential feature of our present modes is the pre-eminence of the sleeves which take in the general make up of a toilet. They constitute the dominant note, the striking accessory which compels the attention of the beholder. In point of variety of details, such as draperies, trimmings and ornamentation, they surpass any other part of the costume. To this complication must be added the further necessity of knowing the historical origin and ascertaining the style most suitable to the figure of each individual wearer. The well-known and popular McDowell Fashion Journals are excellent guides in this embarrassing perplexity. Recognizing the important role of the sleeve in our modern styles, they have many lessons too on the different kinds of the prevailing sleeves and the manner of making them. These lessons are invaluable. They will be found in "La Mode de Paris," in "Paris Album of Fashion" and in "The French Dress-maker," (formerly "La Couturiere.") The former two cost $3.50 each a year, or 35 cents a number. The latter is $3.00 per annum, or 30 cents a copy. "La Mode" with its low subscription price of $1.50 a year, or 15 cents a copy, is a unique publication of its kind not duplicated in this country. If you are unable to procure any of these magazines at your newsdealer do not accept any substitutes, but apply direct to Messrs. A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York.

A Literary Sensation.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has certainly "broken loose!" The copyright on this most famous of American novels, by Mrs. Stowe, has recently expired, which frees its publication from the monopoly of the high priced publishers, and though in anticipation of this fact they have within a few months greatly reduced its price, now that it is really "unshackled" the consequences are something surprising. John B. Alden, Publisher of New York, issues several editions, selling them only direct (not through agents or book sellers); one in good type, paper covers, for 5 cents, post-paid, or the same bound in cloth for ten cents with postage seven cents extra; also an excellent large-type edition, on fine paper, handsomely bound in cloth for the price of 25 cents, postage ten cents. Surely a copy of Uncle Tom's Cabin will soon be found in every home where it is not already. Mr. Alden sends a 32-page pamphlet describing many of his publications free, or a catalogue of 128 pages of choice books, a veritable "literary gold mine" for book-lovers, for two cents. Address JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, 57 Rose St., New York.

Literary Note.

With a fine sense of appropriateness, Romance presents this month a "Special Scandinavian Number," with which to temper the heats of June. More than half the contents of this issue are characteristic stories of "the land of midnight sun" by its most noted writers, such as Bjornson, Boyesen, Kielland, Sigurd, Peter Toft and Anna Wahlenburg. The rest of this number is made up of American, English, French and Italian tales, several of which, as especially adapted for summer reading, are delightful love stories. Among the authors here represented are Guy de Maupassant, Lady Lindsay, Julia Schayer, Alphonse Daudet and Prosper Merimee. This periodical comes from Romance Publishing Co., Clinton Hall, Astor Place, New York; 25 cents a number, $2.50 a year.

THE PUBLISHER.

A BLACKSMITH SAVES THE LIFE OF A LITTLE GIRL.—Minnie Carney, of Lytle City, Iowa, was perhaps as near leaving this world as any one can be, and recover. She was sick with cholera morbus; completely exhausted and unconscious. The physicians in consultation decided the case was hopeless and beyond their control.—Chas. J. Newcomb, a blacksmith, walked four miles through the darkness and storm, to get a remedy he had himself used and which he firmly believed would cure her. That medicine was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He obtained part of a bottle with which he hastily returned and gave the little sufferer a half teaspoonful, which relieved her and consciousness gradually returned. The medicine was given in broken doses and in a short time she was well. He is positive that it saved her life, and has others in that vicinity. For sale by McConnell & Co.

More religion can be lost in staying away from prayer meeting on a rainy night than can be gained on a clear Sunday.

Corns and bunions may be removed by paring them down closely as possible without drawing blood; then soak them in warm water to soften them, and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing them vigorously for ten minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days to protect them from the shoes. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is all that can be desired. For sale by McConnell & Co.

Sawing an inch from your yard stick will shrink the doors of heaven so much that your soul cannot enter.

My customers have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for several years and will have no other kind. The reason is because it can always be depended upon, is quick in its actions and perfectly safe.—DR. R. L. ST. JOHN, Howland, Mo. For sale by McConnell & Co.

The nip of a poisonous snake is but a slight remove from being more dangerous than the poison of Scrofula in the blood. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies the vital fluid, expels all poisonous substances, and supplies the elements of life, health and strength.

Heartily Recommends It.

"LO, I CAN WAIT."

A woman's figure on a ground of night Inlaid with sorrow stars that dimly stare Down in the lonesome eyes uplifted there As in vague hope some alien lance of light Might pierce their woe. The tears that blind her sight— The salt and bitter blood of her despair— Her hands took back through torments of her hair And grip toward God with a soul's infinite. And, oh, the carven mouth, with all its great intensity of longing frozen fast In such a smile as well may designate The slowly murdered heart that to the last Conceals each newer wound, and back at fate Thro' love's eternal lie—"Lo, I can wait!" —James Whitcomb Riley.

Carelessness With Powder.

Michael Faraday, the great scientist, and Sir Charles Lyell, were sent as government commissioners to watch the inquest upon those who had died by the explosion in the Haswell colliery in 1844. Faraday cross examined the witnesses very pertinently. Among other questions he asked how the rate of flow of air currents was measured. An inspector, in reply, took a pinch of gunpowder from a box, as if it were snuff, and let it fall through the flame of a candle. His companion, with a watch, noted the time the smoke took to travel a certain distance.

The method satisfied Faraday, but he remarked upon the careless handling of the powder and asked where it was kept. "In a bag, tightly tied," was the reply. "Yes, but where do you keep the bag?" "You are sitting on it," answered the inspector carelessly. Faraday's agility in vacating the seat of honor may be imagined.—Washington News.

A Versatile Literary Woman.

Probably one of the most versatile literary women in the country today is Miss Alice E. Ives. Her newspaper work is phenomenally voluminous, and she writes any number of funny sketches, humorous and sentimental verses and short novelettes for the weeklies and magazines. Miss Ives' best humor, though, is exhibited in her plays, or perhaps it is because it is brought into sharp and abrupt contrast here with her magnificent pathetic and tragic work. She has written two or three meritorious comedies. The range of Miss Ives' work may be understood when I mention that she is the principal art critic on two Sunday papers and a voluminous contributor to The Art Amateur and two or three magazines besides writing any number of short stories for the dailies and weeklies.—New York Recorder.

Travelers Should Always Take Notes.

First rule for all travelers: Set down everything you see in a notebook; never travel without a notebook. Make notes of all you observe, if it is only a bank of primroses. Note the people in the carriage; what they are like; what they talk about; how the women are dressed; what books they are reading; if they look happy or not. It is interesting when the country is dull to watch the faces of your fellow travelers and to construct in general terms their future, their present and their past. And in a few years I know not whether it is more sad or more delightful to open these old notebooks and to remember when they were filled.—Walter Besant in London Queen.

The Cost of Living in Boston.

A young man in Boston asks for a bill of fare "from Monday noon to Saturday noon, at a cost of $3 or less." This young man must be a humorist or a stranger in Boston. He can live for $3 for a week on fine, warranted beans, pork in moderation, Cambridgeport selected crackers, iced water. In fact this would be extravagance. Dio Lewis lived for a week or two on 2 cents' worth of beans and a cent's worth of vinegar, and we believe he always looked back to this period of his life with a feeling that he had been squandering money and living grossly. One portion of vinegar for two would have been enough and more than enough.

The Impurities of Frozen Water.

The popular idea that water is purified by freezing has been disproved by careful experiments, which show that the average amount of impurity retained by the ice is 34.3 per cent of organic matter and 21.2 per cent of inorganic matter. As organic matter is the more objectionable of the two, the case is worse than was formerly supposed.—New York Journal.

Few Pipes to Be Seen in Spain.

The tobacco pipe is never seen in Spain in use among the natives, nor are tobacco pipes to be purchased in any of the shops. Cigars and cigarettes manufactured in the government factories in Spain, or imported from Cuba or the Philippines, can alone be procured and are universally smoked by the people.

Scrupulous Dr. Peabody.

According to Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the late Dr. Andrew Peabody, while looking over some papers one day, discovered that he was $40,000 richer than he had been the year before. Thereupon he wrote to the assessors of Cambridge and directed them to increase his tax bill.

The waste of a great city might easily feed its desperate poverty. We waste our coal and our smoke, our gas and our water, our food and our refuse. What we want is more forethought in times of comparative prosperity.—Exchange.
