We will positively enter no name on our subscription book, says a Texas paper, without the cash. We trust that no one will become offended at this rule of ours. The fact is we had a little trouble in east Texas with three Chinamen about back subscriptions. We killed two of them and hurt the other so badly the doctors had to kill him, and in order to get out of this scrape we had to promise "Squire White" that we would never take another subscription without the cash.

Cutting and slashing legitimate prices for advertising is a species of disreputable journalism that is responsible for the fact that country editors do not generally enjoy the pleasure and satisfaction of having gilt edge "credit." It is a "filthy bird that defouls its own nest" and the country editor who schemes to reduce legitimate prices to a starvation rate is figuratively speaking, that kind of a bird.—Benkelman Bee.

Another important ruling affecting homesteaders is established in the general land office. The supreme court holds that in the death of a homestead entryman leaving no widow, but both adult and minor heirs, patents when issued should issue to all the heirs equally and not to the minor heirs to the exclusion of the adults. This is contrary to the uniform rulings heretofore, but Secretary Smith holds that all cases in conflict with the decision must be considered overruled, and hereafter all patents issued must conform to this decision.

Decoration Day.

Notwithstanding the weather the memorial services conducted in McCook, Tuesday, were well attended by townspeople and citizens from surrounding country. Though not on as elaborate a scale as last year, the services were appropriate to the patriotic occasion and everything passed off smoothly.

About half past ten o'clock in the morning the old soldiers repaired to Longview cemetery to decorate the graves of their departed but not forgotten comrades, who under the sod and the dew await the judgment day. The procession formed on west Dennison street, was headed by the A.O.U.W. band and followed by many civilians in carriages.

The decoration was performed by J. K. Barnes post, following the beautiful and impressive ceremony prescribed by the Grand Army.

At two thirty the opera house was comfortably filled to hear the closing services of the day. The oration was delivered by A. F. Moore, and was accorded an attentive and interested hearing. It was prepared with evident care, and was delivered in good style, creating a very favorable impression. The vocal music was rendered by the high school choir, the A. O. U. W. band producing two or three acceptable instrumental selections. Prayer and the reading of orders by the adjutant completed the exercises.

The following resolution by Dr. A. P. Welles was unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED, That the thanks of the J. K. Barnes post, G. A. R., and the citizens of McCook, are hereby tendered to Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hamilton of Brookhaven, Mississippi, for their beautiful floral tribute to the memory of our departed comrades, sent by them from their home in the far south, as a token of their patriotic regard for the memory of their country's defenders."

The graves of the following-named veterans were duly decorated:

C. L. Nettleton, D. E. Clement, C. E. Fox, Smith Gordon, R. S. Cooley, Chester Ward, Henry Walker, Elias Conrad.

The decoration of dwellings and business houses was not as profuse as usual. The windows of J. Albert Wells' and L. Lowman & Son's establishments, however, had the customary tasty display.

Proposition of the Lincoln Land Co., touching the water works question was taken under advisement, which is in effect that the water works company will put up a standpipe, provided the city will take a sufficient number of fire hydrants, at the usual rental per year, to pay the interest on the increased investment.

Adjourned to meet on Thursday evening, June 1st.

The city council met, last night, and adjourned until next Wednesday evening without transacting any business. It is thought that some settlement of the water works question will be arrived at, next week.

On the Wrong Scent.

Deputy Sheriff Babcock came down from Hayes county on Monday having in custody Jacob Mundell charged with being interested in the Lowman robbery of some months since. In the preliminary trial before Squire Kelley Mundell was released and the case dismissed, it appearing that Jacob was not the man wanted at all. It seems, however, that Jacob had been down to this city about the time of the robbery, and had on credit secured some articles which led to the suspicion among some people of that neighborhood that he was the party that had engineered the Lowman robbery, as the family branched out in unusual splendor shortly after his return from McCook. The account of the robbery as it appeared in THE TRIBUNE also suggested to them the suspicion under the other unusual circumstances. The hearing entirely exonerated Mr. Mundell, however.

CAPITAL is evidently beginning to understand the significance of the popular hostility to trusts. The unfruitful results of the efforts of several of these combines to borrow money last week so indicate. Stock of these corporations that a few weeks ago were "gilt-edged" receive now little or no consideration. No one can long violate a natural law with impunity, and these trusts exist in violation of the natural law of trade as surely as of the ethical code and legal statutes. Their imminent condition merely again illustrates the truth of the trite adage that the mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly fine. Ichabod is written on their charters—their day has departed.

Death of Frankie Laverty.

The Lincoln Herald contains the following account of the death of little Frankie Laverty, the eight-year-old son of George Laverty, late of our city: "Franklin Laverty, a boy eight years of age, living with his parents at 1910 Cherry street, fatally shot himself Thursday evening. He was playing with a loaded revolver and placed the weapon against his breast, making the remark to some of his companions that he was going to kill himself, immediately pulling the trigger. The ball passed through his heart and body. The boy being so young could certainly have no motive in committing suicide, and the only reason assigned is that he didn't know how the revolver worked."
