THE McCOOK TRIBUNE thinks a democratic paper will not thrive in McCook. This news, though it may embarrass the projectors some, will not prevent its establishment. —Hastings Democrat.

NOT one house committee chairmanship has been given to the numerous members who came from the states west of the Missouri river. Rather shabby treatment for western democrats, we should say.

ENGLAND is satisfied with the Bering sea sealing decision; Canada claims a complete victory; and the United States has clearly gained the main object of its contention. International arbitration is certainly a grand success.

THE farmers of Connecticut are trying to break the drought by bombarding the skies after the fashion of General DYRENFORTH. Rain Maker JEWELL of Kansas is at leisure just at present and the Nutmeg state men should send for him.

THE western railroads are now climbing over one another in their haste to offer reduced rates to Chicago. They have finally come to the conclusion to make hay while the sun shines, and evidently regret having wasted so much time in making up their minds.

THE meeting of the republican state central committee Wednesday evening was largely attended, almost every member of the committee being present. It was an enthusiastic meeting and every member reported the signs all pointing to the election of a republican judge this fall.

SENATOR SHERMAN declares that Congress is not indifferent to the needs of the country, but is honestly divided on the best policy to be pursued. The people have known that all along, but would like to be informed definitely when the honest division will be transformed into honest action.

THE New York Sunday Tribune publishes a little cartoon that illustrates the situation in so simple a way that he who runs may read and the reading carries conviction with it. It is a picture of a sheepfold with Uncle Sam as the shepherd. The old man has become wearied with well doing and has gone to sleep in the shade. The gate has been left open. The big flock of sheep are panic stricken and are beginning to rush for the further horizon. Crouching in a corner is the striped tiger that has become the emblem of the national democracy. And the tiger is saying: "What are they running for, I haven't done anything—yet?"

THE power of Secretary Hoke Smith to hang up several hundred pensions per day for "investigation" and keep the recipients out of their dues for an indefinite period until he gets ready to see whether they are legally awarded or not, is to be tested in the courts. The premises taken by the plaintiffs in the case will be that the time to suspend a pension is after an investigation and not before, and that there is no more authority vested in Mr. Smith to stop the payment of pensions to those on the pension roll of the government than there is to suspend the pay of a congressman or officeholder duly certified or commissioned, until some member of the cabinet has "investigated" the legality of the election or the appointment.

INDIANOLA ITEMS.

Judge Beck and wife visited the city of McCook, Monday.

Sheriff Banks went to the big city on the west Tuesday eve.

B. B. Duckworth and family are home from their Colorado trip.

Miss Eva Dole returned from Illinois on Thursday morning.

Miss Vivian Gossard returned from her Iowa visit last Friday night.

Paul and Nellie Carlile, of Crete, visited the Beck family on Wednesday.

A letter from Frank Powell's family shows that they are rusticated in Indiana.

Frank Unteidt and wife and W. H. Wadsworth have returned from the World's fair.

Mrs. A. Hammond started on Wednesday for Los Angeles, Cal., to visit a sick sister.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gragg have returned from their visit to Michigan and the great fair.

Clerk Roper and wife are again in affliction. Their little babe, a few days old, died last Sunday.

J. E. Wilson's family are enjoying a pleasant visit from their children from Illinois, who are to see the great west.

Mr. Morley E. Piper and Miss Kate B. Pinkerton were married at Box Elder on Wednesday, Rev. A. W. Coffman officiating.

License was issued on Saturday for the marriage of Mr. Morley E. Piper and Miss Kate B. Pinkerton; both of Box Elder.

Miss Lena Beck will teach in district 37 instead of 39, as reported last week, and Miss Flora Akers will preside over the youth of district No. 10.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will hold a county convention in the Congregational church in this city, Saturday and Sunday night. An interesting time is expected.

We are glad to note the tendency to an increase in the wages of our teachers throughout the county. As a rule, pay the teacher well and you have a good school.

Messrs. McMillen and Husicamp of the Indianola Paint and Ochre Co. were in our city a few days ago. Prospects are that the factory will be running full time, soon.

County Fair begins September 5th, and while we think the date is too early in the season, we hope to sustain its past reputation. It will be well attended and sustained by our people.

Quite a number of the G. A. R. and their families attended the picnic on the Beaver last Thursday, and all report a pleasant day spent in the grove. There were over forty of the old boys of 61-65 in attendance.

About thirty of our young people took their baskets and cream freezers to the grove east of town on Wednesday afternoon and had their supper in the grove and came home in the moonlight. Of course they had a fine time. They always do.

On Tuesday evidence was taken in the county court on the validity of the instrument filed as the "Last Will and Testament of Ira E. W. Casey," deceased. The will was rejected, and James Harris was appointed administrator of the estate. Besides those subpoenaed, quite a number of the R. R. boys volunteered their services as witnesses.

Announcement.

Having purchased the stock and good will in business of J. Albert Wells, I desire to announce the continuance of the business in the same stand and my purpose to make it more popular than ever.

Adhering to my past method in business of selling for cash only--thereby maintaining myself a cash buyer in the markets --I shall hope to demonstrate the advantage of that method to my customers by selling goods cheaper than they have ever been sold in this section of the state.

During the next thirty days and before the arrival of fall lines I shall continue the CLEARING SALE of remnants and of summer goods, and of many other goods, especially carpet remnants and millinery, at prices even lower, in many instances, than during the past thirty days of clearing out stock.

Lack of time prevents any quotation of prices this week. Watch the papers and CALL AND SEE. SEEING IS BELIEVING.

George E. Thompson.
