E. R. BANKS.

The wisdom of the re-nomination of E. R. Banks for the office of county sheriff is granted by all, friends and foes alike. A stronger candidate or a more competent officer for the shrievalty could not have been found within the boundary lines of Red Willow. We have had more than ordinary excellence in our sheriffs in past years, but none of these have conducted the business of that important and difficult position with greater ability, more impartiality, or more conspicuous success and general satisfaction than has E.R. Banks. A born officer, cool, even-tempered, fair, fearless, attentive to business, prompt in the discharge of his duties, E. R. Banks has made a typical officer, and the man who expects to keep in sight of him in the coming election will have to be a sprinter of the world-beater sort. C. W. BECK.

Perhaps the records of the county court of Red Willow county have never been in as good shape as they are under the present county judge, Charles W. Beck. Out of chaos and absolute lack of system, he has by careful and hard work brought as full a measure of order as can be expected under the circumstances. The office has received his closest attention during the past two years, and with the result that very general satisfaction has been given the people. The affairs of the court have been managed systematically and equitably. His renomination was entirely deserved, and his re-election should be compassed by a neat plurality.

A. H. BARNES.

The nominee of the convention for the office of county treasurer, Deputy County Clerk Barnes, has too wide an acquaintance in Red Willow county to require an introduction at our hands, or any words of recommendation. As deputy county clerk for the past six years he has shared with his principal the honors of that office, and has become well known throughout the county as an efficient and accommodating officer in that department of the county government. His qualifications for the position of county treasurer will be admitted by all, and his popularity makes him an unusually strong candidate for these new honors in the service of the people.

W. F. EVERIST,

Better known as Frank Everist, is the nominee for commissioner of the first district. Frank belongs to the tribe of Marsh & Gray will move into the room Eli, upon whose banner is emblazoned in he vacates, and we understand that W. is a rustler from wayback, without a sem- the old Palace restaurant stand. blance of moss on him. He would make an active, business-like commissioner, such as the first district needs. He should be elected by a round plurality.

W. P. GRIMES,

The unanimous choice of the convention for county surveyor, is perhaps not so well known to the people as the other nominees. He is, however, a successful farmer of Valley Grange precinct, where who know him vouched for as being perfectly competent to perform the duties of the office of county surveyor. He should be heartily supported.

C. W. HODGKIN,

Who formerly served the people carefully as county commissioner, is the choice of the convention for the office of coroner. We feel safe in stating that he will fill the office creditably, and discharge the duties of the coronership with "neatness and dispatch." He will doubtless receive the party support and ornament that office after January first.

THE ENTIRE TICKET,

From top to bottom, is able and strong and worthy. If given the deserved support it will come out victorious at the approaching election.

The Spearman wing of the Democracy is again triumphant. But it came high.

The Democrats seem to be greatly attached to "home rule" even in McCook. There was talk of holding another con vention, but it did not materialize.

There is still some doubt in the Democrat mind "where they are at."
