VAILTON NOTES.
William Fauss was with us, last Sabbath.
Grandpa Lincoln is up and around again. He thinks he has got the rheumatism under control now.
Somewhat like winter was the close of last week. Look out for the potatoes and vegetables in general.
Mr. Dutcher has improved the appearance of his place greatly. He is well located for wintering stock.
James Harris is feeding rather extensively this month. We hope this industry will succeed, as we expect to see this valley boom with an old-fashioned harvest in 1894.
Mr. Taylor is hauling wood from his creek ranch this week. He leases his place but has been to considerable expense seeding to tame grass. This choice farm consists of 800 acres, with timber on every quarter except one.
C. S. Ferris is teaching the fall and winter term of school in this district. He reports fair attendance and seems encouraged, although the last change of weather was rather severe on colds, but nothing serious resulted.
Election passed off quietly. But in comment we will say our general elections are savoring too much of the mechanical or machine style. Let us have less mechanism. If a man does not honestly know what he ought to do, would it not be better to refrain from voting at all? The old adage is, "If you know not what to do, then do nothing."
Coal! Coal! Coal! Coal!
We have in stock Soft Coal from $5.50 to $7.50 per ton. Also all sizes of Pennsylvania and Colorado hard coal.
