Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

RUMORS concerning the impaired condition of Mr. Cleveland's health fly thick and fast one day, only to be contradicted the next. In the absence of definite information from authoritative sources it is impossible to say how much foundation there is for a belief that Mr. Cleveland is not in the most perfect health. But the best evidence that the rumors have been absurdly exaggerated lies in Mr. Cleveland's own testimony of bodily appearance. A man who performs the laborious duties of the presidency, who is able to tramp about the country on a shooting expedition, who goes up to New York and spends the evening at a theatre, who takes his three meals a day and gives all other appearance of normal condition, is surely not in a very alarming way. It will require something more than the putative assertion of an anonymous physician "who is in the president's confidence," to make the country believe that President Cleveland has a coccygeal abscess or any other kind of abscess.

It is not consistent with manly dignity to boast unseemly of prowess, political or otherwise; nor do we propose to discuss the relative merits of the efforts put forth by the several republican county newspapers, nor the proportion of the results accomplished by each. As for THE TRIBUNE it is content with having to the measure of its ability made a clean, vigorous fight for the republican ticket—although personal advantage lay in another direction, perhaps. It may be added that this support was given the republican ticket because it was a republican ticket, not because of any lack of excellence of character in the populist nominees. It will not disturb the verities of the topic to add in passing and in conclusion that the publisher as chairman of the central committee has in addition to the above cheerfully paid his personal, postage and stationery expenses of the campaign without reimbursement. We have no occasion, we believe, to be ashamed of the record modestly made.

GOVERNOR JEREMIAH RUSK died Tuesday morning, at 8 o'clock, at Veraqua, Wisconsin. Governor Rusk was three times governor of Wisconsin, served three terms in congress and was the first man to act as secretary of agriculture, having held that position in President Harrison's cabinet. He will be buried this (Friday) afternoon and Ex-President Harrison, Governor McKinley and the cabinet officers with whom he served will attend the funeral.

HOKE SMITH is said to be aching for the quietude of his Georgia home, far from the turmoils and tribulations of the democratic cabinet meeting. Has Hoke wearied of fame so soon? Has his eagerness to serve his country been satiated in scarce nine short months? Who would have suspected this when Hoke made public his laconic acceptance of the offer of a cabinet portfolio?

CONGRESSMAN McKEIGHAN has been sued by A. L. Hoover of the Lindell hotel, Lincoln, for a board bill alleged to be due and unpaid. It is claimed that while the congressman from the fifth district was preserving his case of rheumatism, and looking after his senatorial boom, last winter, he overlooked the little formality of paying his hotel bill.

THE recent arrest of Congressman McKeighan must be a sly scheme of some of his compatriots to provide campaign powder. The same old martyr dodge. Will it work again?

THERE are a few democrats in McCook who claim that J. Sterling Morton came over in the Mayflower.

THE Hastings Democrat hastens to express it in this wise: "George Roper has lost none of his racing qualities."
