FREE silver is to be the populist slogan from now until—

QUITE a number of our "infant industries" require No. 10 boots.

THE influenza is proving almost as deadly in Europe as was the cholera. Its ravages in this country are something alarming, too.

If a panic is to be a necessary adjunct of every change of administration, the country will in future be careful about making changes.

FRIEND COLE of the Culbertson Era is very much like the usual beginner in the editorial harness, a trifle predisposed to be peppery. But this, like the measles, whooping cough and chicken pox, will mellow away with age and experience. It is not a dangerous symptom when understood.

THE panic of 1893 will go thundering down the corridors of time, or words to that effect, as the most inexcusable and criminal example of financial folly in the annals of history. Whereas the conditions should make times of unexcelled prosperity, unexampled stagnation and depression are everywhere visibly felt.

TYRONE NEWS.

William Schmid is sick.
G. W. Kimpton is on the jury.
Sherd Lyons is here from Colorado visiting friends.
Sassion Williams, a colored man, carries the mail now.

Swan Peharson sold his farm, recently, for $1,800, to a farmer from near Crete.

C. F. Babcock passed through here, Thursday, on business pertaining to his office.

Frank Moore and F. W. Borkman each lost cattle, recently, by turning them into corn stalks.

An appropriate program will be rendered in Tyrone on Christmas evening. Presents will be distributed and an oyster supper given.

DANBURY NEWS.

Mrs. George Smith is sick with erysipelas in her face.

Bud Ritenour of McCook, is now employed in A. C. Furman's barber shop.

BORN:—To Mr. and Mrs. Cal Underwood, on Sunday, December 10th, a daughter.

Frank Everist's new house is almost completed and he is now fencing and improving his lots.

Dr. Matson, who has been visiting his brother in this vicinity, returned to his home in Lincoln, December 19th.

The thirteen year old son of Mr. Eppler, living about eight miles west of here, died of membranous croup, December 11th.

Dr. DeMay has had a great number of patients, the past few weeks. We are pleased to learn that most of them have recovered.

Frederick C. D. Nulk died of consumption, at his home five and one-half miles south of this place, Sunday, December 10th.

The people of Danbury gave Mrs. Joe. Dolph a surprise party, Tuesday evening. Every one appeared to have a pleasant time.

A. C. Furman has put a stock of musical instruments, stationery, notions, etc., into the building recently occupied by his photograph gallery.

On Monday last J. O. Hoffman of Orleans and Dr. W. A. DeMay of Danbury operated on Mrs. S. R. Messner for hemorrhoids. The operation was very skillfully and successfully performed.

Married, by Probate Judge Gray, on Wednesday, December 6th, George H. Arnold and Miss Mary C. Miller, of Gage county, Nebraska.—Norton Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are now living on their farm, a few miles south of here. Their many friends wish them a happy and successful life.

RED WILLOW NEWS.

The aged mother of Jacob and William Randel is still with them.

There was an Endeavor social at Mr. R. F. Loomis' on Saturday last, pronounced by some the best yet held.

There will be a Christmas tree at the Red Willow school house on Monday night, under auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E.

Owens Longnecker accompanied his relatives to Kentucky, where, it is hoped, he will be benefitted, and will return a well boy.

The Endeavor society is in good working order, and the interesting meeting on last Sunday evening is due largely to the efficiency of Miss Etie Loomis, its new president.

Mrs. Longnecker, and her son Benj. Longnecker, of Kentucky, made a short visit to the son and brother, John Longnecker. The brothers have not seen each other for 22 years.
