VAILTON NOTES.

Spring time and seeding once again. Most any amount of wind, Saturday.

Mr. Williams, formerly of Illinois, will occupy the Bennett farm the coming season.

Hiram Cooley will look after Joseph Williams' interests on the farm the coming season.

Frank Everist bought a large number of stock hogs, last week, and will feed them at his Danbury farm.

Elder Noe is engaged in revival work and is having some very successful meetings. May the good work go on.

Lewis Fauss is convalescent. He had a very severe tussle with the rheumatism, but will doubtless be around again in a few days.

Lyman Ferris, brother of Charles, came in from Iowa and spent a few days with us. He has many pleasant recollections of his early Red Willow county days.

Supt. Bayston called on our school last week. His presence is always encouraging and seems to stimulate the scholars to active study. Very few people realize how much work there is connected with this office.

We have already noticed a number of prairie fires. The severest penalties should be meted out to the authors of these dangerous and destructive fires. One or two examples would have a tendency to make people more careful.
