GROVER'S greatest graft is the veto. He works it mercilessly too.

WHEN the Wauneta Blizzard wants to be emphatic it uses, "had never ought to have been."

THE declination of Governor Crouse to be a candidate for re-nomination removes the logical nominee and strongest man from the field.

THE Republican congressional committee will meet in Holdrege on the first of May, to fix date and place for holding the convention, representation, etc.

IT MAY be a perfectly natural and a measurably excusable ambition, but there are quite a number of clever fellows wasting their time rustling around over the Fifth district after pledges for the congressional nomination.

THERE is well founded objection to the Australian system of balloting along the line of its expensiveness. The system might be simplified and its operation rendered more economical, without any loss to its effectiveness and value. Such action should and doubtless will be taken by the next legislature.

SOME papers pretend to be anxious for the republicans to nominate Prof. Andrews again for congress, but they are like the fellow who made a great show of hunting for work and praying that he wouldn't succeed in getting any. Andrews is just the fellow they do not want nominated—but he will be.—Minden Gazette.

INASMUCH as the 22d day of April, the day designated by statute as Arbor day, falls on Sunday this year. Gov. Crouse has issued a proclamation recommending that the day following, Monday, the 23d day of April, be recognized as Arbor day, and that it be observed by the citizens and public authorities of the state by a generous planting of trees, and by the public schools by exercises befitting the occasion.

REPRESENTATIVE HAINER has won a splendid victory in the adoption of the house, after protracted debate, of the Hainer bill for the carrying of periodicals at pound rates through the mails. The bill has been pending for months before the post office committee, which, in spite of every effort and of petitions numbering more than a million names, refused to make any report upon it. Mr. Hainer recently adopted a new tack. He drafted an amendment to the post office appropriation bill incorporating in it the terms of his bill and had Mr. Springer offer it. Then the trouble began. The point of order was promptly raised and vigorous debate began. Mr. Hainer took the floor and defended the amendment, both on its substance and against the point of order with marked ability. The house adjourned with the question still pending. Next morning the fight was resumed. The amendment was still further strengthened to include publications of scientific societies, so that its effect as finally determined upon will be to admit to the mails at pound rates all periodicals issued at stated intervals by benevolent, fraternal, educational and college societies, boards of health, scientific organizations and trades unions.

THE greatest need of this state, says the Lincoln Herald, is a competent committee to hang men who start propositions to issue bonds.

WHEN they have fled ingloriously from a victorious field, leaving guns that were shot with the ball cartridges of truth, to be spiked by the enemy we had driven before us—and when, bringing with them only the white feathers of the coward, or the black plumes of the mercenary, they come home for their reward, what shall they encounter, what have they a right to look for, except political damnation and death.—Louisville Courier Journal.

DANBURY NEWS.

The ground is getting somewhat dry.

F. P. Eno went to Decatur last Sunday.

Wm. Sandon has a headlight on his wheel.

Our new hardware store started up this week.

of the larger pupils will take advantage of this opportunity, and resume some of their studies which were neglected through the winter term.

We are sorry to learn of the partial paralysis of Mrs. A. T. King at Indianola, a former well known and respected resident of this vicinity.

The grass is coming in nicely especially in the draws and canyons, the upland being very dry, and we have much to fear in case of prairie fires.

Will Rider, a hustler of the tribe of "Eli," is making numerous improvements on his farm. He has completed a well and erected a wind mill, which at this writing is a little the worse for wear, there not being a single whole slat in the wheel, but it goes just the same. CONNIE.
