Chamberlain's Eye & Skin Ointment.

A certain cure for Chronic Sore Eyes, Tetters, Salt Rheum, Scaled Head, Old Chronic Sores, Fever Sores, Eczema, Itch, Pruritic Scatches, Sore Nipples and Piles. It is cooling and soothing. Hundreds of cases have been cured by it after all other treatment had failed. It is put up in 25 and 50 cent boxes. For sale by George M. Chamberlain. Nov. 20-1 year.

Don't Tobacco Spit or Smoke Your Life away in the truthful and starting title of a little book that tells all about No-to-bac, the wonderful, harmless guaranteed tobacco habit cure. The cost is trifling and the man who wants to quit and cut out runs no physical or financial risk in using No-to-bac—Sold by all druggists. Book at drug stores or by mail free. The Sterling Remedy Co., Indiana Mineral Springs, Indiana. Aug. 25-1 yr.

While Minnesota is one of the most healthy states in the Union, it is one of the worst for colds, owing to the severe winters. Many of the druggists there make it a rule to give their customers just what they call for; but when they come back and say it did no good, they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as will be seen by the following from Messrs. Wells & Schroeder, of Sanborn, Minn.: "We have recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after other leading cough preparations have failed to do any good, and always with the best results. We can always rely upon that remedy, as it is sure to effect a cure. It has no equal for children, especially in cases of croup or whooping cough." 50 cent bottles for sale by McConnell & Co.

It takes a man to talk economy—a woman to practice it.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just as claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at McMillen's drug store.

It's a crossed-grained wife that will scold in a new bonnet.

If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial bottle will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the throat and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at McMillen's drug store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

If you've picked up a crooked stick don't tell everyone so.

J. Hailey of Batavia, N. Y., conductor on N. Y. C. railway, and one of the best known men on the road, says of Parks' Tea: For ten years I have suffered from constipation. ### Co-operative Farming in France.

Every step in the direction of co-operative farming will be welcomed by agriculturists, since farming is almost the only industry that has not been able to profit by the present great syndicate tendencies. It is agreeable to know therefore that syndicated agriculture is now established on a firm basis in France.

The movement began very quietly 10 years ago. Its organization consists of separate societies called agricultural syndicates. Of these there are now 1,300 in all parts of France, with a membership of 600,000. The business they do amounts to $20,000,000 a year.

There seems, however, in the rural skull an insurmountable obstacle to the successful selling of the products it can raise in abundance. Co-operative selling has not yet brought favorable results. But with buying it is different. The greatest success of the syndicates has been in the matter of purchasing cheaply and in quantity all the supplies needed. Fertilizers cost immensely in France, and by means of the syndicates the poorest farmer has equal advantages with the richest.

The societies are organized and managed by the method of shares and stockholders. The members elect their officers. These, it must be confessed, are usually selected from the rich class. But, on the other hand, many of these wealthy officers give their services gratis to the syndicates. Of the large advantages already gained, Mr. H. W. Wolff writes in The Economic Journal:

The syndicates help the vine grower and the sugar beet grower, the horse breeder and the market gardener; they lend a hand in the destruction of obnoxious insects, the embankment of watercourses, fumigation for keeping off the frost. They have even provided French agriculture with boards of conciliation and arbitration, and insurance of laborers against accidents; and above all things, they have, in M. Gallier's apt words, wholly "democratized" the use of artificial manures, insecticides feeding stuffs, etc., placing what was formerly a luxury reserved for the rich within the easy reach of the poor, improving the quality, reducing the market price by from 20 to 30 per cent, and yet increasing the annual consumption from the paltry figure of 22,000,000 francs—barely more than $2,000,000 for all France—to 120,000,000 francs.

The co-operative purchase and use of machinery and implements, the provision in some districts of winter employment by means of domestic industries, banking and lending, arrangement of technical lectures, provision for analysis and field experiments, prizes for the best managed farms and subsidies toward the introduction of improved machinery and the construction of liquid manure tanks are among other services rendered by the syndicates.

The County Road System.

Governor Roswell P. Flower of New York believes that the system of county road repair and building is superior to any other. He tells us why in The North American Review. He thinks it gives exactly enough local option in road management, not too much nor too little. A county board of road supervisors in connection with an engineer should have full charge of all roads in the county. They should say which were county roads and which not, should lay out new roads and turn others out to be abandoned, as they saw fit.

The law in New York state already recognizes the county supervisor system of road management. Under the board's jurisdiction fall all roads outside of incorporated villages and cities. Road repair is provided for by an appropriation of the supervisors out of the county funds. They are the ones who appoint the expert engineer. In New York the supervisor's term is three years.

To build new roads or meet extraordinary expenses in repairing old ones the New York law allows the supervisors to borrow money and issue county bonds at a rate of interest not greater than 5 per cent. The main difficulty in the way of persuading farmers that this plan is the best one will be the apparent greater cost of it. The governor has found that the money wasted under the present system would annually build seven miles of macadamized roads in every county.

A fourth great tunnel is to be put under the Alps, this time at the Simplon pass. Ever since the time of the first Napoleon tourists have traveled by diligence over the great military road which he built over the Alps at that point and have duly admired the engineering genius of the military conqueror. But now the greatest mechanical achievement of the greatest general of the world is to be brought to naught by the simple, quiet study and experimenting of men who never planned a battle and could not do it if they wanted to. The new railway tunnel will convey trains directly beneath Napoleon's road over the Simplon pass. The old fashioned diligence and stage riding has been hunted down to its last refuge. Travelers will cross the Simplon by going under instead of over it, less picturesquely but more comfortably and speedily. The picturesque diligence will, however, continue to carry tourists across the mountain for five years yet, at the end of which time the tunnel will be completed. It will be 12½ miles long and will cost $10,000,000.

The largest secondhand sale in history is that now taking place at the great World's fair junkshop in Chicago. The shrewd financiers of the greatest show on earth are going to get every dollar out of it even to selling the old towels and flowerpots for what they will bring. The famous golden door of the Transportation building they believe will bring a large sum when cut into souvenir chunks, but whether the door will prove as golden as their hopes in regard to it remains to be seen.

The joy of those who stepped up and in was only equalled by the gloom of those who stepped down and out.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE OF KIDNEYS
ONE OF THE DISGUISED FORMS OF CHRONIC CATARRH.

Mr. J. Brake, Petrolea, Ont., writes: Four years ago I had a severe attack of Bright's disease which brought me so low my doctor said that nothing more could be done for me. When one of your lectures on the above disease was read to me I took Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin, and found it acted just as represented. In three months I was a well man, and have continued well ever since.

Symptoms—Dull pain in back; scanty, high-colored urine; containing albumen and various sediments; nausea, and sometimes vomiting; puffiness of the face and feet; dropsy of the legs; shortness of breath and general weakness, pallor and dryness of the skin; chilly feelings, alternating with fever and sleeplessness.

Treatment—A tablespoonful of Pe-ru-na should be taken before each meal, between meals, and at bedtime, and enough Man-a-lin at night to produce one natural action of the bowels each day. When the disease is of long standing heated Pe-ru-na should be applied to the back in addition to the above treatment, and the diet consist principally of milk and dry toast. Avoid liquors and tobacco.
