The Burlington is putting down heavier steel on the high line.

Mrs. Max Anton will leave, next Monday morning, for Goshen, Illinois, on a visit to relatives.

Miss Susie Kennedy came up from Red Cloud, Tuesday evening, and is visiting her brother Cal.

Hal Marvin, formerly of this place, late of Alliance, has been stationed at Sheridan as dispatcher.

W. W. Brown, late of Culbertson, is now employed in the Burlington's local freight office in Chicago.

The Burlington seems to be devoting all its energy and spare dust to the Wyoming division.

John Sims, a Burlington brakeman, while switching in the Harvard yard, last week, sustained a fracture of two ribs.

John McClung and bride, nee Miss Tena McAlpine, were the guests of James McAlpine, Wednesday. They returned to Indianola on No. 4.

Miss Lizzie Slaby, Mrs. Clark and children Grace and Bert, all from Red Cloud, have been the guests of Conductor and Mrs. Solliday since the close of last week.

Mrs. A. Carmichael returned to her home at Denver, first of the week, after a six weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Snyder, and sister Mrs. M. O. McClure.

T. H. Barnes of Oregon, greeted his many friends and acquaintances in this city, first of the week. He will be remembered as the old-time Burlington right-of-way man.

Westland's engine pulling 48 broke down at Cambridge, Wednesday, morning, and she was brought back to the shops and another engine was sent to take the train on east.

It is said that the railways of the United States pay annually seven million dollars for the maintenance of their ten thousand water stations. This expense, it is claimed, will be saved by the automatic tank now coming into use.

F. A. Stark came down from McCook, Monday, for a brief visit with his family. Tuesday morning, Mrs. F. A. Stark and family left for a visit with relatives at Superior. Upon their return the family will make immediate arrangements to remove to McCook. Having resumed breaking on the road, Mr. Stark will hereafter make his headquarters at that place.—Oxford Standard.

Monday morning, Charley Ball, assistant yardmaster in this city, while unloading two barrels of gasoline came very near losing his life. The gasoline barrels leaked and in throwing one of them over gasoline was thrown into his lantern. In an instant the interior of the freight car was entirely enveloped in flames, but fortunately the barrels did not explode. Agent Stokes, at the risk of his life, cut the car from the train and the Akron fire department promptly suppressed the fire.—Akron Special to Rocky Mountain News.

The Harlan County Democrat endeavors to say a good word for the B. & M. in its last issue, detailing some of the good things this corporation has done for the welfare of this country. Judging from the past we believe the company will see that it is to their interest to allow reductions the coming winter in their freight charges on supplies of provisions and feed for stock. They will soon get all their money back and more too by so doing. Even if railroad corporations are not noted for charity they can be relied on to do everything to keep any country through which their lines pass from going back, and to assist in its development.—Stamford Enterprise.

A man named Green came in from Alma on freight train No. 64, and being ticketed for Hastings was told by the trainmen that he would have to lay over and wait for the Hastings train. After some switching had been done No. 64 pulled cut for Wymore and the man boarded it. He was put off at Guide Rock and retraced his steps. While crossing a bridge near Amboy he was struck by freight train No. 65. He was rolled under the pilot and by catching hold of the brake rods saved himself from going under the wheels. Both legs were broken and his skull was fractured. He was brought back to this city. His injuries will most likely prove fatal.—Red Cloud Special in Friday's Journal.

In finally declaring the great railway strike off the American Railway Union is doing what it ought to have done several weeks ago, when the backbone of the strike was broken. Prolonging it after it became hopeless merely kept a large number of workmen loyal to the union from returning to work and earning their own living. Many of them by this time have lost their positions altogether, to say nothing of the loss of wages they might have received were they not idle. This has been a useless and senseless hardship imposed upon them. The strike has been off for weeks, notwithstanding the fact that it had not been officially declared off. For this reason the tardy official declaration can have but little or no appreciable effect.

To the People of the County.

The executive committee of the Red Willow County Agricultural society has concluded to hold the annual fair this year regardless of the dry weather. The dates are September 4, 5, 6 and 7. While the season has been very discouraging, yet Red Willow county has enough resources to hold a splendid exhibition. Let those who irrigate by either the Meeker, Holland or any other ditch, give us an object lesson of what irrigation will do, and there are quite a number who have irrigated small patches by the use of windmills, such we especially desire to make an exhibit, because we believe that windmill irrigation will yet be the partial redemption of the west. Let everyone bring something to the fair. If you have not the best bring the next best, and perhaps you will have the best after all. We had an excellent fair in 1890, and there is no reason why we should not have a better one in 1894. Secure a premium list and examine it closely and you will find some premium for which you can compete. In the back part of the premium list is a blank on which you can make a complete list of your entries at home; fill this out and either bring or send it to the secretary, and your tags will be filled out and thus save you the trouble and worry of attending to it the first day of the fair.

Please remember the dates, September 4th to 7th, and be sure to come and see for yourself what a grand fair Red Willow county can have even if it does not rain.

J. H. BERGEE,
Secretary.

W. George Sheppard and wife left Benkelman in a covered spring wagon, Thursday. They will visit Mrs. Sheppard's parents at McCook a few days, when they will go into central Kansas to look for a location to open up a jewelry establishment. . . . George W. Dillon, a former resident of Dundey county but now of McCook, has been suspended from the pension rolls, and must be re-examined. The "old boys" are fast finding out their friends and enemies, politically.—Benkelman News.

For the Campaign.

The campaign this fall will be one of the greatest interest to all citizens of Nebraska. The Omaha Weekly Bee will handle the issues of importance during the campaign in its usual able manner and proposes to make a price of 20 cents for the balance of this year to all Nebraska subscribers who may desire to keep thoroughly posted on the important issues that will be discussed. Send us 20 cents in silver or stamps for the 12-page Weekly Bee up to January 1st, 1895. Address the OMAHA WEEKLY BEE, Omaha, Neb.

The Weekly Kansas City Star

Addresses the farmer as a business man and a citizen. Doesn't tell him how to farm, but how to sell, and where and when, and keeps a vigilant eye upon his rights as a shipper, a producer and a taxpayer. All the news, too, and plenty of good reading for the family. Now read in 100,000 farm homes. Fifty-two big 8-page newspapers for 25 cents. To any one who sends the Weekly Star five yearly subscribers, together with $1.25 the paper will be sent one year free.

Fine Printing.

We make a specialty of fine job printing. Our samples of fashionable and elegant stationery for invitations, programs etc., is not excelled in Nebraska.
