Heart failure was the cause of his death. Dr. Tibbetts resided at Liberty about thirty-five years, in fact, having spent nearly all his life on Nebraska soil and in Gage county.

CORN is reported to have sold at Nebraska City yesterday for 60 cents rer bushel. Many of them have been taken, while others have been refused. It was estimated when the most men were out that in all there were 1,800 strikers. It is now estimated that at least 1,200 of these men have asked for their old places and that 1,000 of them were put to work. Not as many persons from the outside had been put to work as

MR. KESTERSON discovered the largest fish pond on his farm west of Fair-bury covered with dead fish. An investigation convinced him that some one had been using dynamite to get the fish more expeditionally than could be done with a hook and line. Mr. Kes-terson has spent several years in get-ting his ponds stocked with fish and some of them have grown to a fair size and the killing of thousands of them of all sizes, nearly all too small to be of any use, is a crime.

A LETTER from Logan county tells of a needy farmer who carried a sack of flour away from a grocery store after he had been refused credit by the merchant. An officer of the law went after the man, but did not overtake him until he had reached his home. The constable looked in the door and saw a child eagerly eating raw flour from the sack, while the father looked on with tears streaming from his eyes. The flour was left in the cabin and the officer went back to town alone.

RECENTLY there was a day of accidents around Fairmont John Jen-kins, living with his parents in Fairmont, struck his hand with a corn knife and cut one of the bones in the fleshy part of the member off smooth. Otto Cooper, living three miles southeast of that place, while cutting corn with a machine, slipped off on one of the knives and cut his heel nearly off. George Dennis, a farm hand working on the Oldrich farm, while cutting corn, stepped on one of the knives and cut a bad gash in his foot.

THE dreaded Russian thistle is making its appearance in Nebraska. Yardmaster Hewitt of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha has been spending several days past in efforts to ex-terminate this weed, which for the first time has begun spreading through the Omaha yards, and demanding attention. Superintendent Jaynes of the road has sent out circulars all over its line directing every overseer to root out all specimens without delay. Reports come in that it is, with a most unfortunate energy, pushing out over the various counties of Nebraska.

THE last Nebraska weather crop bulletin says: Light showers have fallen over most of the state on several different days, and in the northeastern corner of the state the rainfall amounted to nearly an inch, while ln the southern border of the southeastern portion there was none or only a trace. There is very little that is new to report as to the condition of corn. A few fields are reported in favored localities in the eastern portion of the state that may, with rain soon, make a fair crop, but generally the prospect for corn is so unpromising that the stalks are generally being cut for fodder. Pastures have become so short that feeding of stock has become general, and much stock is being sold and shipped because of the scarcity of feed. THE presence of mind of Mrs. W. W. Bell saved the Methodist Episcopal church of Syracuse from destruction the other evening. There was a meeting the church, but at the time of the accident there were but three ladies present. While Mrs. Bell was trying to extinguish one of the large Rochester lamps with which the church is lighted, a defective fastening caused the lamp to fall from the frame. In its fall the chimney came off and struck her on the wrist, cutting two gashes to the bone: the burner of the lamp came off and the oil ran out and caught fire. Notwithstanding the severe cuts, which were bleeding profusely, and knowing the fact that the oil was running out of the lamp and saturating her dress, she caught the blazing lamp, ran to the door and threw it out. FLETCHER ROBBINS, the pugilist, died at Plattsmouth. The physicians pro-nounced that death was the result of Lindsay's blows with his shoulder and elbow upon Robbins' stomach and bowells. When it was known that Robbins had died, County Attorney H. B. Trrvis filed the following complaints against James Lindsay: One for murder in the first degree and one for prize fighting. Against Arthur Rothery and Fred O'Neill, one for aiding and abetting a prize fight. Against S. V. G. Griswold, one for aiding and abetting a prize fight Against O'Neil, Rothery, Griswold and others. one for aiding and abetting Lindsay in committing murder. THE Sherman County Irrigation, Water Power and Improvement company has elected permanent officers for the ensuing year. The company has already secured deeds to the Arcadia mill race, at which point they tap the middle Loup river. The ditch will be sixty feet on the bottom to start with and is to be about thirty-five miles in length, running clear through Sher-man county. About 20,000 acres will lie under this ditch and the citizens of Sherman county expect the middle Loup valley through said county soon to be one of the garden spots of Ne-braska. A great deal of the stock is being taken locally and bonds are to be voted to aid the enterprise. B. C. CHASE, of Californir, temporarily staying at the Windsor hotel in Kearney, committed suicide there the other day by cutting his throat. The deed was performed while his wife was absent taking a walk. No cause for the deed is assigned.

THE STRIKE LEADER CRITI-CISES THE COURTS.

BITTER AGAINST GENERAL MILES.

The A. R. U. President Draws a Big Crowd to the Arbitration Commissioner's Hearing in Chicago-Mr. Pullman an I the General Managers Notified to Appear and Give Testimony.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.-By far the largest audience which has yet been in attendance upon the strike commissions sessions was present to-day, attracted by the appearance.as a witness of President E. V. Debs, of the American Railway union.

Asked by Labor Commissioner Wright to tell in his own way what he knew of the Pullman strike and results, Debs began in a low voice a recital which grew more earnest as he proceeded until it developed into almost an oration. He told of having received word that a strike in Pullman was imminent, and of his coming to Chicago to investigate. "I fourd," he went on, "that the men were working for the Pullman company at wages upon which they could not live. I found that salaries had been cut time and again until skilled mechanics were working their lives away for wages not sufficient for a day laborer; that the town of Pullman, with its shops, its houses and its stores was so schemed that every penny the workingman made found its way back to the company. In fact, I found the workingmen of Pullman in a pitiable condition and determined I would do all in my power, as president of the American Railway union, to improve the con-dition of these men. The strike fol-lowed, ordered by the men them-Then came the boycott, selves. ordered by duly elected delegates to our convention, and then followed the railroad strikes, ordered by the various local unions, each of which had grievances of its own."

"Would the railroad strikes have occurred if there had been no Pullman trouble?" asked Commissioner Wright. "No; the Pullman strike was the prime cause. We desired to stop Pullman's cars and shut off his income, thus forcing him to arbitrate. But the railroad men had grievances of their own. The General Manager's association had been organized with the avowed intention of giving as-sistance to railroads in labor troubles. The evident aim was to drive organized labor from existence. No sooner had this association been formed than a systematic reduction of railroad wages all over the country began. The cuts were made on one road at a time and in one department at a time, but the systematic regularity with which they appeared was sufficiently significant. The men were ready to strike and felt they had cause. But the The men were ready to strike trouble would not have come when it did had it not been for the Pullman matter. The time was unpropitious; business was depressed and money was scarce. I did not order the strike;

PUSHING CAMPAIGN WORK. Both Congressional Committees Straining Every Nerve to Gain Votes. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.-The managers of the congressional national campaigns are preparing for the fall campaign with much energy.

Senator Faulkner, at the head of the Democratic committee, is directing his efforts toward holding a Democratic majority in the house. Extensive headquarters are in operation with the executive work in charge of Secretary Law-rence Gardner. The work thus far has been in preparing full statistics of districts, writing the campaign book and circulating documents. The campaign book is about half com-pleted. It will be a volume of about 300 pages, showing the work of con-gress and the reforms claimed to have been made in the department service. It will be furnished to speakers as a text book for their efforts on the stump. The statistics gathered are the most elaborate ever undertaken by the committee. They show not only the votes by counties for the last four congressional elections, but in close districts the figures are carried out to townships, wards, and even precincts.

There is much activity at Republican headquarters under direction of Assistant Secretary Charles H. McKee. By the decision of the Republican national committee the national campaign is left entirely in the hands of the congressional committee, Chairman Manley acting in an advisory character. The headquarters force is just now engaged in gettogether the campaign text ting book which Chairman McKee expects to have issued by Septem-ber 19. The committee has had its headquarters open continuously since November 1 last and has circulated 2,000,000 pieces of campaign literature. This work will be pushed with even greater diligence from this time forward. A complete canvass of every congressional district is being made. In states where a state campaign is on the work will be left in the hands of the state committee entirely. Where there is no state campaign the congressional district organization will be co-operated with directly. There will be no speakers' bureau at the committee headquarters as congressmen and candidates prefer to arrange for the speakers themselves. Every assistance in furnishing speakers, however, will be rendered when asked for.

A DETROIT BUILDER.

HE TELLS A REMARKABLE STORY OF HIS LIFE.

CAME TO DETROIT ABOUT FORTY YEARS AGO.

Levi Elsey's Experience Worthy Serious Attention.

From the Detroit Evening News.

Away out Gratiot Avenue, far from the din and turmoil of the business centre, there are many attractive homes. The intersecting streets are wide, clean and shaded by large leaf-covered trees, and the people you meet are typical of industry, economy and honest toil. There are many pretty residences, but none more inviting in its neatness and home-like comfort than that of Mr. Levi Elsey, the well-known builder and contractor, at 74 Moran street just off Gratiot. Mr. Elsey is an old resident of Detroit, having moved here about forty years ago. He has erected hundreds of houses in different parts of the city, and points with pride to such buildings as the Newberry & McMullan and Campaw blocks in which he dis-played his ability as a superintendent. "I have seen Detroit grow from a village to a city," he observed yesterday in conversation with the writer, "and I don't think there are many towns in America to-day equal to it in point of beauty. I know almost everybody in the city, and an incident which recently happened in my life has interested all my friends.

"It is now about eight years ago since I was stricken down with my first case of illness. One cold, blustering day I was down town and through my natural carelessness at that time I permitted myself to get chilled right through. When I arrived home that evening I felt a serious pain in my left leg. I bathed it that night, but by morning I found it had grown worse. In fact it was so serious that I sent for my family physician, and he informed me that I was suffering from varicose veins. My leg swelled up to double its natural size and the pain increased in volume. The agony was simply awful. was laid up and never left my bed for eight weeks. At times I felt as though I would grow frantic with pain. My leg was bandaged and was propped up in the bed at an angle of 30 degrees in order to keep the blood from flowing to my extremeties.

'I had several doctors attending me, but I believe my own jndgment helped me better than theirs. After a seige of two months I could move around, still was on the sick list and had to doctor myself for years. I was never really cured and suffered any amount of anguish.

"About two years ago I noticed an article in the Evening News about my friend, Mr. Northrup, the Woodward Avenue merchant. In an interview with him he stated that he had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and that they cured him. I knew him very well, having built his house out Woodward Ave., and I thought I would follow his suggestion. I must confess I did so with marvelous success. From the time I began to take the Pink Pills I felt myself growing to be a new man. They acted on me like a magical stimulant. The pain departed and I soon was as strong and healthy as ever. Before trying the Pink Pills I had used any amount of other medicine without any noticeable benefit. But the Pills cured me and I was my-

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. -Bradstreets says: Special telegraphic and summer summarizing interviews with more than 500 leading wholesale dealers in forty-seven cities throughout the country as to the present effect of the prospective tariff settlement and the outlook as to the effect of the senate tariff bill, should it become a law, indicate relatively less enthusiam at larger Eastern cities, except at New York and Baltimore, almost uniform satisfaction throughout the Southern states and similar advices from the Central and Northwestern states, except where serious crop damage has taken place. In the far West little interest is manifested in tariff agitation, notably at Denver and Helena, where silver attracts moreattention. Portland fears the result of the reduction of the tariff on lumber, but at San Francisco an improved demand is expected and considerable freight is offering for shipment to China. A feature is found in declarations from glassware, pottery and iron and steel manufacturers at various centers of products that wages will be promptly reduced.

The serious damage to corn in Kansas has had an unfavorable effect at Kansas City, crop damage in that state, as well as in Nebraska and Iowa, overshadowing other conditions and characterizing trade reports from Lincoln, Omaha and Burlington.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Bank Examiner Miller's Sulcide Questioned.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.-O. P. Tucker, deputy controller of the currency, today received a telegram from a government official at Altoona, Pa., stating that it was very doubtful whether Bank Examiner Miller committed suicide yesterday as was reported.

An officer of the bureau will immediately be sent to Altoona with Miller's report on the condition of the suspended bank, and an effort will be made to arrive at the solution of the mystery. It is understood that Miller's report showed that the bank was practically without assets and that the shortage, both in cash and bills receivable, traceable to the peculations of Cashier Gardner will amount approximately to $100,000.

According to the report sent out from Altoona yesterday, Miller, after a brief talk with President J. P. Levan of the defunct bank, went into the private office as though to resume his work and a few minutes later, after a shot had been heard, was found dead on the floor of the room with a bullet hole through his head. No cause for the alleged suicide, save insanity due to overwork on the books of the bank, was given, but the fact that the report had been completed and sent to Washington makes the case mysterious in every way.

HARRISON TO SPEAK.

The Ex-President to Make a Few Speeches During the Campaign.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.-Ex-President Harrison in the course of an interview, says he has kept thoroughly posted about what was going on, and has some very decide 1 opinions as to the news from Washington during or corn Farmers in this county will soon be feeding wheat as they are over in Indiana.

As a faint evidence, says the Fairbury Gazette, of the depreciation in live stork since the hot winds burned up our prospects for corn, we give the result of an auction sale on the streets last Saturday. There were four horses disposed of under the hammer, and they brought respectively $1, $1.50, $2 and $6. While, of course, they were not first-class horses, yet they would have readily brought $30 or $40 apiece a year ago.

GRANDFATHER STEPHENS of Adams county was overcome with the heat last and died in a few minutes after reaching home. He and his wife live by themselves a mile east of Juniata and he was in town until after 3 o'clock, when he started home. He was too sick to attend to his team when he arrive i home, and he went into the house. His wife went to a neighbor's for help and when she returned found him on the floor dead.

-The most prosperous educational institution in the west is the Omaha (Neb.) Business College and Institute of Penmanship, Shorthand and Type-writing. It has a large attendance and its students are doing first-class work. It is not only the oldest college but is the largest and finest in this part of the country. Profs. Lillibridge & Roose, the well known business college men, have been engaged in educational work in this state for ten years and have a large number of ex-students holding lucrative positions or in successful business for themselves. Their beautiful catalogue will be sent free on application.

LABOR COMMISSIONER J. B. ERION has entered upon the preliminaries to prove Nebraska is able to care for her own drouth sufferers, and he and Governor Crounse have both interested themselves in the work of bringing relief to the southwestern counties. There have been wild stories telegraphed out of Nebraska to newspapers eager to publish just that kind of matter, relating to the presumed general sweep of the drouth, but these two officials have looked well into the matter and despite the fictitious sympathy of eastern papers which have suggested outside help, they are impressed with the ability of the state to care for her own.

HABTINGTON claims the lawn tennis championship of Cedar county. Mar-tin brothers of that city won the honor from McCormack and Gray at Coler-idge. The match between the two pairs was played on the home grounds of the losers, and the score was 2-6, 6-2, 7-5.

ANDREW WARNER, son of a farmer living near Cedar Bluffs, left a pony in the pasture field of H. P. Thompson and rode away to parts unknown a valuable horse belonging to Mr. Thompson.

had not the power. The men did that themselves. But I do not wish to shirk any responsibility and am willing to say that I heartily concurred in and approved of the action taken by the men. As to the violence, I always conthe violence, I always con-demned it. I have written and spoken against it, believing and knowing that a strike cannot be won by violence. As to telegrams sent from our office counseling violence, I know of no such epistles."

"What about the 'buy a gun' telegram?" asked Commissioner Kernan. "That is easily explained. The telegram was sent by a private secretary to a friend in Batte and was merely a playful expression. It was sent as such and was so understood.' Debs then said that within five days after the strike was declared the union had the railroads beaten. 'They were paralyzed." he said. "but just at that time injunctions were sown broadcast and shortly after-wards the officials of the American Railway union were arrested for contempt of court. That beat us. It was not the railroads or the army, but the power of the United States courts that beat us. About that time a thing occurred which I desire to mention. General Miles came to Chicago, called on the General Managers' association and the next day was quoted in an interview as saying he had broken the backbone of the strike. Now I consider that call of General Miles as vulgarly and out of place. He had no more right to consult with the general managers' association than he had to consult with the men of our unions. I might say, too, that is seems strange that our letters and telegrams were made public property while not a line of the railroads cor respondence was published. If it had been I think we could prove that the general managers at one of their secret meetings declared they would stamp the American Railway union out of existence.

The witness then told the trouble with the railroad brotherhoods. "The brotherhoods have outlived their usefulness," he said, "and for that reason I left the firemen's organization. They were, I fear, jealous of the American Railway union and helped to defeat us. There is now a movement on foot to form a grand and united railroad organization. Within three days a proposition will be submitted to the other railroad orders whereby all present officers of the American Railway union and the other unions shall resign with no possibility of election to office. The principal cause of the strife then being removed, an organization will be effected if the brotherhoods will consent, which shall include all other railroad brotherhoods."

The commissioners have notified George M. Pullman to appear and tes-tify and will also call for several members of the general managers' association. The date for Mr. Pullman's testimony has not been set.

Pennsylvania Judge Decides Avainst

the Order of American Mechanics. EBENSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 21.-Judge Barker to-day handed down a decision in the suit brought by W. T. Kerr. state councillor of the Junior Order of the United American Mechanics, against the board of directors of the Gallitzin school to prevent the employment of Catholic sisters wearing their religious garb as teachers.

MILL WORKERS STRIKE.

Eleven Thousand Cotton Operatives in New Bedford, Mass., Now Idle. NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 21.-The textile strike has begun and it is estimated that 11,000 persons are idle. Some fifteen non-union weavers who deserted the strikers during the recent Wamsutta strike are at work in one mill and a few Portuguese are working in the South end, but, with these exceptions, every mill in the city is idle.

Secretary Ross of the Spinners' union says the members of his union have lined up for a long strike and confidently expect that it will be of six months' duration.

"When a person finds himself relieved and enjoying health he is apt to expose himself again to another attack of illness. Some three months ago I topped taking the Pink Pills, and from the day I did so, I noticed a change in my condition. A short time since I renewed my habit of taking them with the same beneficial results which met me formerly. I am again nearly as strong as ever, although I am a man about 56 years of age. I tell you, sir, the Pink Pills are a most wonderful medicine and if they do as well in other cases as they did in mine they are the best in the world. I freely recommend them to any sufferer." Affraid of the Women.

Captain Joe Waters says in a letter declining to engage in a debate with the army, and Brown is now wearing the Populist Women's club of Topeka: "No power on earth is strong enough to compel me to dispute with a woman. "I shall make two and possibly three speeches," Mr. Harrison said, "during the coming campaign. I shall make them in my own state and very near my own home. All that I have to say about the tariff and every other topic that you want me to talk about will be said then. I have numerous invitations to make nolitical speeches in different parts of the country, but have resolved to limit myself to the field I have mentioned."

Verdict in the Lincoln Wreck.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 20 .- The coroner's jury has found that the wreck on the Rock Island road, which resulted in the death of eleven persons, was caused by wreckers, and recommends that George Washington Davis, the colored man now in custody be held for rigorous examination, as circumstances seem to implicate him.
