CAN McKeighan belie Lincoln's famous utterance and fool all the people all the time? We don't think!

AN invitation is hereby tendered J. Sterling Morton and Grover to come into the Republican camp as soon as their present engagement is up.

REPUBLICANS should not lose sight of the fact that this is emphatically a republican year. The fall returns will coincide with this statement.

IF Colonel Ed. Mitchell of the Indianola Courier keeps up last week's liek he will soon become a dangerous under-study of Colonel Ed. Rosewater of the Omaha Bee.

THE campaign in the Fifth district is well under way and Prof. Andrews is busily engaged in showing the weak spots in McKeighan, prominent among which is the wound on his leg which was not received in battle. The rheumatic demo-pop is booked for a licking this year.—Wallace Star.

THE Lincoln Evening Call undertakes to "roast" one, William H. Allen of Frontier county, for a letter published in the New York Sun touching upon the destitution existing in this section of Nebraska. The Call does not mention specifically one falsehood contained in the "objectionable" letter, for the very good reason perhaps that it cannot do so. THE TRIBUNE does not propose to exhibit "our sores" to the outside public, but we have this to add that if The Call were even fairly well posted on the unpleasant topic it so ferociously handles, it would not effervesce so copiously through its capacious tile. That's all.

WE understand that McKeighan is playing the following cute dodge on the soldiers who want pensioning. He has official blanks and puts in the soldier's name and says on the blanks that through the advise of Congressman McKeighan his claim has been looked up and will be attended to soon. These letters come in government envelopes and the blanks apparently come from Washington, but are post-marked at Red Cloud. This is a scheme to work the old soldiers to vote for him, but they should not be taken in in that way.—Hastings Tribune.

THERE seems at this writing enough pride, fidelity and interest in the Democratic party in this district to put a candidate of their own in nomination for congress. Bryan and others are endeavoring to have the party entirely swallowed up by the McKeighan forces, but whether they will succeed is a question to be settled by the quality and quantity of party patriotism and party energy of that kind that declines to be used as a tail to some one man's particular and personal kite.—Hastings Tribune.

THE world is rapidly approaching the realization of its dream of seeing the attainment of a speed of a mile in two minutes, under harness. Robert J. recently paced a mile at Indianapolis in 2.02 1/2 in a matched race with the marvelous Patchen.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., was visited by a cyclone, Wednesday, in which there was loss of life and property damage.

THE republican majority in the state of Maine was something wonderful to behold—a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

THERE is an ominous silence about our Indianola contemporaries this week that is oppressive, really. Sort of a lull before the storm, eh?

THE republicans of Nebraska will remember that they are playing for big stakes, this fall. A United States senator is one of the royal prizes. They must play to win.

AN enthusiastic contemporary exclaims in a fervor of ecstatic confidence that "all hell can't beat Tom Majors." Colonel Rosewater may as well accept this as official and final, and throw up his job.

THE TRIBUNE is gratified to note that the bond voting schemes so far projected have been overwhelmingly defeated. It is time to call a halt in the matter of bond voting, and to find out where we are at. We are principally in the tureen just now and we can't get out by pouring in more soup.

IT is stated that the Hon. Tobo Castor has received orders from Washington calling upon the few faithful to get together and nominate democratic tickets in every county in the state. Such a move will be uniformly advantageous to the republicans of this state, altho' the vote will be small in many of these southwestern counties—Red Willow county among the number.
