THE CUNNIN LITTLE THING.

When baby wakes of mornings,
Then it's a wake, ye people all
For another day
Of song and play
Has come at our darling's call
And till she gets her dinner
She makes the wee, wee ring
And she won't keep still till she's had her fill—
The cunnin little thing!

When baby goes a-walking,
Oh, how her paddies fly!
For that's the way the babies say
To other folks "by by."
The trees bend down to kiss her,
And the birds in rapture sing,
As there she stands and waves her hands—
The cunnin little thing!

When baby goes a-rocking
In her bed at close of day,
At hide and seek
On her dainty cheek
The dreams and the dimples play.
Then it's sleep in the tender kisses
The guardian angels bring
From the far above to my sweetest love—
You cunnin little thing!
—Eugene Field in Chicago Record.

RUB THE OTHER EYE.

Good Advice of an Engineer Regarding the Removal of Cinders.

Nine persons out of every ten with a cinder or any foreign substance in the eye will instantly begin to rub the eye with one hand while hunting for the handkerchief with the other. They may and sometimes do remove the offending cinder, but more frequently they rub until the eye becomes inflamed, bind a handkerchief around the head and go to bed. This is all wrong. The better way is not to rub the eye with the cinder in it at all, but rub the other eye as vigorously as you like, according to a writer in The Medical Summary, who relates the following experience:

"A few years since I was riding on the engine of a fast express. The engineer threw open the front window, and I caught a cinder that gave me the most excruciating pain. I began to rub the eye with both hands. 'Let your eye alone and rub the other eye' (this from the engineer). I thought he was chaffing me and worked the harder. 'I know you doctors think you know it all, but if you will let that eye alone and rub the other one the cinder will be out in two minutes,' persisted the engineer. 'I began to rub the other eye. Soon I felt the cinder down near the inner canthus and made ready to take it out. 'Let it alone and keep at the well eye,' shouted the doctor pro tem. I did so for a minute longer, and looking in a small glass he gave me found the offender on my cheek. Since then I have tried it many times and have advised many others and have never known it to fail in one instance unless it was as sharp as a piece of steel or something that cut into the ball and required an operation to remove it.'

A Queer Marriage Ceremony.

A queer marriage ceremony was that in Queen Elizabeth's reign, before the deaf and dumb alphabet was invented, between Thomas Filshy and Ursula Bridget. Ursula could talk fast enough, but Thomas was a deaf mute, and as it was required that promises should be exchanged in spoken words nobody knew how to manage the thing. Finally the bishop of London helped to devise a service by signs, and Thomas proceeded thus:
Having first taken Ursula in his arms, he took her by the hand and put the nuptial ring on her finger. He then laid his right hand significantly on his heart, and afterward, putting their palms together, extended both his hands toward heaven. Having thus sued for divine blessing, he declared his purpose to live with Ursula till death should separate them by closing his eyelids with his fingers, digging the earth with his feet as though he wished to make a hole in the ground and then moving his arms and body as though he were tolling a funeral bell.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Honey From Lump Sugar.

To make it take a quantity of lump sugar, remembering that your vessel (a preserving kettle is best) must be large, as the sirup boils up at one stage of the process and is apt to run over and catch fire. Pour on the sugar a little water, enough to melt to a sirup when hot. Boil and skim till clear, when drop in for two quarts as much powdered alum as you can pile on a dime. The alum is to prevent the sugar from granulating. Be ready to lift the kettle off the fire quickly, as the alum causes the sirup to froth up very high. Boil until it becomes of the consistency and the color of strained honey, when add a teaspoonful of Jamaica ginger, stir thoroughly and set to cool.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Married Schoolteachers.

Married women can still be appointed to positions in the Milwaukee public schools. At the meeting of the executive committee of the school board Aug. 3 the movement was defeated which attempted to discourage matrimony on the part of the teachers of the Milwaukee public schools, in that it proposed the retirement from the force of teachers of all married women who had husbands upon whom they could depend for support and the nonemployment in the future of married women as teachers.

Central Asia Tales.

The English tale of "Cinderella" is found in the Siberian tale of "Papalluga," in the German tale of "Aschenputtel" and in the fable of La Fontaine about the milkmaid and her pail. The legend of "Beauty and the Beast" is also found in the myths of the Hindoo, Greek and Norseman. All of these tales had a common origin in central Asia.—New York Sun.

To tell our own secrets is generally folly, but that folly is without guilt. To communicate those with which we are intrusted is always treachery, and treachery for the most part combined with folly.—Johnson.

Dr. G. C. Osmond,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
