Cull Blood Osages Go Through Windows to Block Half Breed Schemes.

GUTHRIE, Ok., Dec. 1 .- In the Osage council, now in session, the full bloods and half breeds compose two parties that are doing their utmost to defeat each other's pet measures. The full bloods have the majority, but several of their members are obstreperous and will not abide by the caucus. In consequence the officers of the body and a number of national officers have not yet been selected and the appointments of the full blood governor have not been confirmed.

Yesterday the half breeds discovered that they had a majority of the council present and immediately attempted to rush through certain business and make the appointments as well as permanently organizing the house. They first unseated Tsemsnanhah, whose election was contested by a half breed and then started for the offices. It was only when Richard Leahy, the half breed leader, arose and read a list of appointments and moved that they be confirmed that the full bloods realized what

UNCLE SAM'S ARMY

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SEC-RETARY OF WAR.

Figures Showing a Saving of $500,000-Annual Expenditures for Fiscal Year-Estimates for the Future-What the Army Numbered on the 1st of October -Aggregate of Enlisted Men and Officers-Some Suggestions by the Secretary.

Army Matters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-The annual report of Secretary Lamont shows a saving of $500,000 in salaries and contingent expenses in the administration of the war department at Washington, besides economies in the recruiting service, rents, etc. Expenditures for the fiscal year were $56,-039,009: appropriations for the current year are $52,429,112; estimates for next year are $52,318,629.

On October 1 the army numberedofficers, 2,136; enlisted men, 25,772; of the latter, for various causes, only 20,114 were effective.

Secretary Lamont earnestly recommends legislation to establish the battalion formation now adopted by the armies of every other civilized nation. To effect that change he recommends a return to the law of 1870, fixing at 30,000 the limit of the army. By the changes proposed the army will be increased 20 per cent in efficiency, 161/4 in numbers and only 6 per cent in cost of maintenance. The actual combative strength will thus become about 25,000, the number now contemplated by law, but which is reduced by detachments and otherwise to about 20,000. It is proposed to add two companies to each of the twenty-five infantry regiments and two batteries to each of the five artillery regiments. No increase in cavalry is proposed.

Seacoast defense may now be prosecuted as rapidly as congress makes appropriations for the purpose, and if these are sufficient the project of the Endicott board can be carried out in twelve and one-half years. The total cost of finishing the armament of our twenty-eight chief seaports is estimated to be $20,639,987 for guns, $9,801,120 for mortars, $12,-500,000 for gun carriages, $5,232,000 for mortar carriages; a total, including contract work, of $50,277,248. Annual appropriations of $4,420,000 will be required for armament during the next twelve years, which will build and mount 683 high power guns and 824 high power mortars By the end of December we shall have seventy-seven high power guns and fifty-one high power carriages.

ARMENIAN ATROCITIES.

Confirmation of the Horrible Story Heretofore Related.

London, Dec. 3.-Dr. G. Thoumaian, one of the Armenian physicians at Herrick college, Marsovan, Asia Minor, who was sentenced to death and forced to undergo terrible tortures, but was finally released through the intervention of Great Britain in July, 1893, furnished to the press today fresh details of Turkish outrages in Armenia, as follows: "The chief of police of Moosh, which is the headquarters of the Sassoun district, went with a number of gend' armes to the village of Tchurig and nailed the head man and some others head downward to posts, beat them and drenched them alternately with hot and cold water. He then attempted to assault the wife of one of the victims, but she killed him with a knife, whereupon the gend-'armes made a general attack upon the peasants. A stubborn struggle resulted, in which many of the peasthem taken to prison. The whole village was charged with treason. "The Armenian villages on the plains of Moosh and Bitlis have been and Sheik-Aghoob have been sacked by Kurds and young girls made captives. At another village a miller was burned alive. At Hanzasheik three Armenians were killed. This is only a daily tale of the horrors in these villages. If these details come from villages on the open plain, what must the truth be in distant places in the mountains? In September 112 Kurds appeared in the village of Baghezig and plundered it. The next day they raided the village of Faroagh. In Daghveran two youths were openly butchered before the eyes of their helpless relatives. I could give pages of such horrors. "None of these wrongs have been redressed, nor will they be so long as Bahri, himself a Kurd, remains governor-general of Van. He is the greatest enemy of the Armenian race. When the porte tried to hinder the Armenians from emigrating to Russia and Persia, this ferocious fanatie explained that the porte could get rid of the Christians and at the same time get their land. Recently he made a tour of one of the districts and confiscated all of the property of absent Armenians, including those who had gone away on business. Those who returned were thrown into prison."

CASSIUS M. CLAY AGAIN.

The Venerable Kentuckian Establishes a Reign of Terror About His Home.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 3.-General Cassius M. Clay, the venerable fireeater who recently married a girl of 15 years, is causing a regular reign of terror in the vicinity of his plantation. He has bought fine rifles and shotguns as well as revolvers and has armed all of the men on the place. Wednesday one of the men fired at Ira Million and the next day Clay and his adherents went to the house of R. C. Moore, the old overseer of the plantation, to kill him, on the ground that he was plotting to abduct the child wife.

When the county authorities heard of the reign of terror that Clay was responsible for in his neighborhood, County Attorney Jere Sullivan informed General Clay's youngest son, Lenney, who lives at Staunton, in Powell county, of the way his father was doing and urged him to go at once to Whitehall and try to quiet his father's fears regarding the abduction of Dora. The old general is very fond of Lenney, and when he arrived Wednesday afternoon at Whitehall the father was not only glad to see him, but listened carefully to his statement of the case, at which he showed that the child wife was in no danger of being abducted, and that nobody wanted to do him any bodily harm. He remained with his father all night, and before he left Thursday the old man had promised that he would disarm his men and not earry on the appearance of war any longer.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND TALKS. The Noted Prelate D scusses the Results of the Recent Election.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3. -Archbishop Ireland, who returned today from the East, denied emphatically the story of his reported securing a large loan while in the East for the payment of the indebtedness of the St. Paul diocese. He refused to discuss the attack on him by Bishop McQuaid. Of politics, he said: "The election was a splendid thing for the business men of this country in every respect. Confidence has been restored. The defeat of the Populists is a blessed thing for the Northwest, particularly from a business standpoint. Had Populism succeeded every penny of outside money invested here would have been withdrawn. The victory in New York city will have its good results, for coming at that time it to go too far, but at the supreme half with the sultan. moment they always wake up and do the right thing. The political victory of the last month is the best vindication we could have of popular government. The people can be trusted."

CRISP ON LEGISLATION.

The Speaker Says That Something Must Be Done With the Financial Question. Washington, Dec. 3.—Speaker Crisp does not believe that the coming short session of congress will be productive of much legislation. It is very important, he says, that there should be some legislation on finances. "I am not prepared to state this session, but it must be apparent . to every one that the present situation should not be permitted to remain long. Whatever suggestions the administration has to make will be awaited with great interest. Whether or not Mr. Carlisle will present a proposition which will meet with general approval, no one can say until the message comes in. A financial system which puts it in the power of any one to deplete the treasury of gold and to compel the government to increase its interest-bearing obligations by the issue of bonds is ants were wounded and thirty of vicious and should be corrected as speedily as possible.'

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Business Not Affected by the Success of the Bond Issne. NEW YORK, Dec. 3 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: The complete success of the government loan and the replenishment of the gold reserve have not perceptibly affected business, nor prevented an advance of foreign exchange near to-the exporting point. Wheat is 11c higher than a week ago and Western receipts still exceed last year's, amounting since July 1 to 103,700,000 bushels, against 100,800,000 bushels last year while exports from all ports have been about 21,000 bushels smaller. The smaller quantity received last year paid more debts by about $8,000,000 than the larger quantity this year and wheat selling for the first time below 60 cents just after a harvest may naturally be held back for better returns. Corn had advanced a fraction, receipts being larger than a year ago and on the whole the outcome for farmers has not so improved as to promise larger buying by the West and South.

Navajo Indians Making Trouble.

Wheat-No. 2 hard 52 @

ALEUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 3 .supper was given by some church | Trouble is feared in the Spring mountains between ranchmen and roving bands of Navajo Indians, who are alleged to be stealing stock and committing all kinds of depredations. enraged because the serving ladies paid more attention to Bibbler than from that district says the Namice from that district says the Navajos to himself, and insisted that Bibbler are bolder than ever before. They was getting the cream of the oysters. threatened to scalp N. S. Thompson, who tried to take some of his horses > antelope and deer by the wholesale. The weman who does most has at least time to talk about what she does.
