In an experiment on thickness of seedling 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 pecks of seed per acre were used. Eight pecks gave the highest average yield for eight years, but ten pecks are recommended when oats are sown among cornstalks.

IT WAS DICK.

He Had Taken Her Advice and Gone to Work. The blinds were carefully lowered, as she lay on a couch with the smelling salts in her hand. When her dearest friend came into the room she exclaimed: "Mercy, does your head ache or hasn't your new gown come home?"

"Dyspepsia, evidently, dear; you should take—"

"Oh, don't; I want sympathy but not prescriptions. It's about Dick."

"Of course. But I can't really sympathize until I know what it's about."

"Well, it was Dick—and my tooth."

"Mercy, I hope you didn't bite him! There, don't be angry; I'm grave, grave as a family tomb. Don't keep me in suspense."

"Well then, you know I have a tooth that I cut in the dentist's chair?"

"I thought so because you always said that chewing gum was vulgar."

"Yes; and of course I'd rather have died than let Dick know it. But the other evening he was here and I was eating candy when it broke right off."

"Good gracious, what on earth—"

"I managed to conceal it, but I didn't dare to smile again lest he notice its absence—so I just picked a quarrel with him."

"Naturally it relieved your feelings too. But what did you quarrel about?"

"Just the same old thing."

"The fact that he doesn't work? But then he has plenty of money without."

"I know, but there's no telling when he will call and it is ruining my hair to keep it curled all the time."

"Was he very angry?"

"Awfully—left in half an hour. The next day I had such a cold I couldn't go to the dentist's—besides he always stays angry at least three days. But the following morning I had a note saying that he had taken my advice, had secured a position, and would be up in the evening to tell me all about it. As soon as I answered it I started for the dentist's and—oh, Dora!"

"Did you meet him on the street?"

"No! No! I told the dentist that I must have my tooth by 7 o'clock that evening. He said that he was very busy, but would send for his new assistant and see if he could repair it. I sat in the chair, with Dr. Nippers holding the tooth, when who should walk into the room but—"

"Not Dick?"

"Dick and nobody else! He was the new assistant—and, Dora, he laughed, actually laughed! O, I'll never speak to him again until my dying day—but I don't think that will be very long." And she buried her head in the pillows while Dora poured words of sympathy into deaf ears.

The South African Lecture Stone. An account of a strange lapidarian freak comes all the way from Kimberley, South Africa. Workmen in the diamond mines at that place discovered a stone, dark brown in color and about the size of a pigeon's egg, which, viewed in a dark place with a candle or other light behind it, exhibits a perfect profile picture of a man from the waist up. Turning the pebble partially around, the image of the man vanishes and the features of a woman's face, clearly-cut and partly concealed by heavy tresses, comes into view. The British museum offers £50 for the curiosity.—St. Louis Republic.

An Act of Providence. Uncle Pete, entering with something under his coat—What wud you say, A'nt Dinah, of de good Lawd wuz teh send us some'n mighty pow'ful good fo' suppah?"

Aunt Dinah—I shud say dat wuz a miracle.

Uncle Pete, producing a pair of chickens—Dat's right, a'nt; dat's just what it wuz, a miracle. Nothin' short ob a miracle wud have made de colonel fo'get teh lock de henney to."

The Deepest Mine in France. The deepest coal mine in France (by some authorities said to be the deepest in the world) is at Andre du Poirier. The mine is worked with two shafts, one 2,952 feet deep and the other 3,083. The latter shaft is now being deepened, and will reach the 4,000-foot level by July, 1895. The yearly product of this mine is 400,000 tons of coal. The remarkable feature of the mine is the comparatively low temperature—seldom rising above 75 degrees Fahr.

Shintoism. There are no idols in the Shinto temples. Shintoism consists of the worship of ancestors and the powers of nature, the sun especially. The only objects in the temples are a small mirror, emblematic of light, and some strips of white paper. Pilgrimages to various places form a feature of this religion.

Runaway Stars.

There are a certain class of stars which fly through space with a velocity so enormous as to baffle every attempt to account for them. They are known to the investigators as "runaway stars" and are no longer reckoned as being among the phenomena of extreme rarity. One of these in the constellation of the Great Bear known as "Goombridge, 1830," long led the van of stellar speed, sweeping over at least 200 miles of space each second. Professor Friedrich has proved that the inconspicuous object called Cassiopeia is a sun 40 times more luminous than our own, and that it is traveling at the prodigious rate of 300 miles per second. Dr. Elkins has found something more wonderful in the speed line in Arcturus, which is jogging along at 400 miles a second as a steady pace, but having strange bursts of speed, during which time its velocity is increased by about one-fourth.

Some of the runaways fly along in pairs and are therefore supposed to be connected by some invisible "bond of union." This presumption was first advanced some twenty-five years ago and is even now being investigated by the leaders in astronomical work.

How to Retain Beauty. Lady Londonderry, whose exquisite rose and white loveliness time has not the heart to despoil, attributes her youthful freshness to the practice of spending one out of every ten days in bed. She sleeps until she wakes naturally, takes a warm bath and goes back to bed again, where she partakes of a light breakfast, remaining in bed until six o'clock in the evening, while her maid reads to her a light novel. At six o'clock she puts on her dressing robe and has her dinner served in her room, and reclines on her sofa until ten o'clock.

H. L. Bolley in a bulletin from the North Dakota station gives the percentage of germination and the yield of wheat from normal seed and from seed frosted, winter bleached, immature and heated in the bin. The seed from normal seed was much larger than that from seed injured in any way. Normal seed and injured seed gave practically the same weights for the same volume of grain. Smutted wheat, however, weighed slightly less for a given volume than sound wheat. The author recommends selection by means of a fanning mill of large grains for seed.

A New Substance Discovered. A German chemist is reported to have discovered a new substance which has the remarkable and unique property of solidifying when heated and remaining liquid at temperatures below zero. It has been named "cryostat," and is obtained by mixing together equal parts of phenol, camphor and saponine, and adding a somewhat smaller proportion of essence of turpentine. Certain substances, like the albumens, harden on heating, but this is the only product that again liquefies on heating.

The Rise of the Buckwheat Cake

The leaven of yesterday ruins the cake of to-day. Don't spoil good buckwheat with dying raising-batter—fresh cakes want Royal Baking Powder. Grandma used to raise to-day's buckwheats with the souring left over of yesterday! Dear old lady, she was up to the good old times. But these are days of Royal Baking Powder—freshness into freshness raises freshness.

And this is the way the buckwheat cake of to-day is made: Two cups of Buckwheat, one cup of wheat flour, two tablespoons of Royal Baking Powder, one half teaspoonful of salt, all sifted well together. Mix with milk into a thin batter and bake at once on a hot griddle.

Do not forget that no baking powder can be substituted for the "Royal" in making pure, sweet, delicious, wholesome food.

How to Handle Poultry. The Kansas Farmer says: Never seize a fowl by the tail, is a fine one, nor touch the back, but grasp both legs at once with a firm, tight, quick hold, and then raise free from the ground or perch and hang the body down clear of any obstacle. This method does not ruffle the plumage or turn a feather, which in a fine bird must be avoided. When the web of the feathers is once broken it can never be united again, and where much handled this often occurs, giving the bird a ragged appearance.

Very Much Off Color

Are people who are troubled with chronic liver complaint. Bile in the blood tinges the cuticle and even the eyeballs, and also manifests its presence by uneasiness in the right side and beneath the right shoulder blade, furred tongue, nausea, sick headache and an unpleasant breath. It is usually accompanied by costiveness and dyspepsia. For the ailment itself, and its various manifestations, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a speedy and complete remedy. This standard medicine also prevents and cures chills and fever, rheumatism, nervousness and the infirmities incident to declining years. It builds up an enfeebled physique and fortifies it against disease. Appetite and nightly slumber are promoted by it, and it is a protector against the effects of a wetting, overwork, exposure and unwholesome food or water.

A Palace for His Dogs. Baron Franchetti, the father of the composer, has had a dog kennel built in his palace at Venice, made through-out of marble. The ceiling is decorated with a splendid mosaic entitled: "The Chase of Diana." The eating and drinking vessels of the dogs are said to be of embossed silver. Of course, the kennel is lighted by electricity.

MARKET GARDENERS GROW RICH! There is lots of money made in early vegetables. Everybody admits that the very earliest vegetables are produced from Salzer's Northern Grown seeds. Think of having radishes in fourteen days; lettuce in twenty days; potatoes in forty days; peas in forty-six days, and splendid cabbage in fifty-five days from day of sowing seed!

If You Will Cut This Out and Send It with $1 money order to the John A. Salzer Seed company, LaCrosse, Wis., you will get free thirty-five packages earliest vegetable seeds and their great seed catalogue, or for six cents postage a package of Fourteen Day Paris Radish seed and their seed catalogue, W.N.U.
