PARSON PARKBURST of New York recently informed a Chicago audience that the Windy City needed a house-cleaning thorough, and needed it badly. If the Parson seeks new fields to conquer, we suggest that the English Inferno—London—can well stand a little saltpetre: "As a merely preliminary offering to the sum of don 444 persons came under the notice of the police as having attempted to commit suicide during 1894; and about as many more accomplished their purpose. About 200 persons died from starvation. The permanent pauper population, exclusive of the numerous private charities, is over 100,000; fallen women 30,000; some 70,000 homeless, shiftless denizens, and 100,000 genuine workers unemployed. The prison population is 12,000; outside criminals, 15,000; petty offenders, 70,000 annually. These are only the poor, the vicious, and the criminal, whose condition can be recorded in statistics. The total number, including women and children, is, probably double, or about 1,000,000 persons, whose life is a burden to themselves and a danger to the community. Think of it. This number in one town. In the capital of "Christian" England. Why, henceforth shall we marvel that the Londoner is a smileless man; that, for the most part, he is ignorant and brutal; that our wretched, slouching, half-starved, scantily-clad men and women are a scandal to the nation, and a cause of reproach to us throughout the world."

Mr. C. J. ERNST of the land department of the Burlington railway writes the Journal in this strain: "If you want to establish a first-class reputation as a weather prophet and at the same time give great courage to your multitude of readers, I advise you, as one who has seen twenty-seven years in Nebraska, and all that time interested in farming operations, both officially and personally, to predict that before June 15th, 1895, the farmers cultivating the low bottom land in southeastern Nebraska will complain that their corn is rotting in the ground while other farmers all over Nebraska will be smiling at the abundance of rain." This is in line with remarks made by the Journal several times this season. The pioneers who have been through all kinds of seasons and have experienced all sorts of vicissitudes are confident that the state will produce in 1895 one of the very largest crops in its history. The Journal is glad to repeat Mr. Ernst's statement, and hopes to share with him any credit that may come with the glorious fulfillment of the prediction.—Lincoln Journal.

The Frenchman Valley Canal Co. have incorporated. Capital $10,000. They will operate in the counties of Hitchcock and Hayes.

The estimate of expenses of Adams county for 1895 is $35,000.

PROSPECT PARK.

How is this for winter?

Miss Kete Duffey was home over Sunday.

Frank Fitch spent Saturday night and Sunday at Mr. Dunham's.

Miss Alice Holbrook is staying with her sister, Miss Darlington, north of McCook.

Herbert Shaw has been having quite a siege of la grippe but is able to be out now.

Bertha Duffey and Estelle Cratty spent Wednesday of last week with Miss Mary Marsh.

The little son of E. T. Duffey has been dangerously sick, but at this writing is improving slowly.

Some sneak broke into J. Pickrell's house, one night last week, and stole several things. The same night, probably the same party, broke into R. T. Barr's house and cellar taking what they could find. The thief no doubt came from a distance as we are sure there is no one around here who would steal, some peoples' opinion to the contrary, notwithstanding.

ONCE A WEEK, the greatest illustrated weekly newspaper in the United States, is unusually full of attractive features this season. Subscribe to it now, in time to secure the brilliant novel, "Peg, the Rake," by "Rita," the distinguished English novelist. Six dollars and a half per year—payable one dollar on delivery, balance fifty cents per month, collected at subscriber's address—pay for the richly illustrated paper for a year, and for twenty-six volumes of the Semi-Monthly Library of the best fiction by contemporary novelists. In addition to this, the subscriber receives as a premium the handsomely bound works of a standard author. ONCE A WEEK is a high-class journal devoted to the best fiction, sketches of travel, illustration of events, portraits of celebrities of city and country, good verse, pictures of European affairs, and metropolitan gossip and news. It has thousands of readers in every State and Territory. Leading writers of America and Europe contribute to its columns. Its Semi-Monthly Library will contain novels by Ossip Schubin, Edgar Fawcett, Gilbert Parker, Darley Dale, David Christie Murray, H. Rider Haggard, Grant Allen, Hector Malot, and others.

Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

NOVELTIES IN EVENING TOILETTES.

Now that the season of social gatherings, balls and theatre parties has fairly set in, every woman's interest is once more centered on the appropriate evening toilettes. The bodice is a mass of some filmy fabric, the ultra-fashionable ones—irrespective of skirt made of another material—being invariably of crepon or embroidered mousline de soie, made over a foundation of silk which, in color, matches the skirt. Rosettes of lace usually finish the bodice. Jewelled corselets are very popular. They have a silk foundation and are frequently set with real gems. The crepes afford an opportunity for producing at a moderate price, very artistic effects. They come in all tints. The ribboned crepe is a very dainty novelty. Sleeves remain as wonderful as ever in size. They are of the same fabric as the skirt. As for the latter, it is conspicuous for its plainness and its profusion of flare. A great variety of models are to be found in the McDowell Fashion Magazines. These unequalled periodicals offer an inducement in the way of special coupon patterns which always follow the latest, the most fashionable and the most practical styles. Both "La Mode de Paris" and "Paris Album of Fashion," cost $3.50 per year, or 35 cents a copy; "The French Dressmaker" is $3.00 per annum, or 30 cts. a copy. As for "La Mode," it costs only $1.50 a year, or 15 cents a copy. If you are unable to procure either of these journals from your newsdealer do not take any substitute from him, but apply by mail directly to Messrs. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York.

RED WILLOW.

William Myers has moved into Mrs. Taylor's house and will farm her land.

The literary was well attended, last Wednesday evening, and the programme was good, so say those who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Baker spent the Sabbath with their old neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Wales of Coleman precinct.

Mrs. P. J. Taylor has moved away from this district to her daughter's home south of McCook. Mrs. Taylor will be much missed as she is an old resident of Red Willow.

Mrs. Byfield took her coops of Brahma chickens and Pekin ducks to the express office to ship to a Wyoming breeder but the rates were so exorbitant she took them home again to await further orders from her customer.

THE subject of sub-soiling is summed up most effectively in a pamphlet just issued by Youngers & Co. of Geneva, who have made such a thorough demonstration of the value of this method of conserving moisture in the last three seasons. The information contained in this document ought to add several millions of dollars to the wealth of Nebraska during the coming decade and the Journal hopes that no farmer who is anxious to know how to successfully fight the drouth will not be supplied with the results of these important experiments in Fillmore county.—Lincoln Journal.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY.

I have had my first streak of luck and I want to tell you about it. A little over four weeks ago I began selling Dish Washers, and have cleared in that time $400. Isn't that pretty good for the first month? I am sure I can do better every month. I sell as every Washer I sell helps to sell others.

I can wash and dry the dishes for an ordinary family in two minutes, and as soon as people see such a machine, they will buy it quick. This is a business anyone can do well at, in any locality. You can get full particulars by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., E. E. Pittsburg, Pa. Don't wait till some one else gets your home territory, but start to work at once. Mrs. W. HENRY B.
