AN IMPORTANT DECISION.
The Supreme Court Decides that the Burlington Relief Dept. Releases the Road.

The following important decision has just been handed down by the supreme court:

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company vs. Bell. Error from Lancaster county. Reversed and remanded. Opinion by Commissioner Ragan.

The scheme of the Burlington relief department, organized and conducted by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway company and its employees, examined and set out in the opinion and held:

(1) As said railroad company is a corporation and no part of its charter is set out in the pleadings or evidence in the record, the court is unable to determine whether the act of the railroad company in participating in the organization and conduct of the relief department is within or without the express and implied powers conferred by its charter. (2) In the absence of all evidence on that subject the court cannot presume such act of the railroad company as ultra vires.

2. The contract signed by an employee of said railroad company on becoming a member of said relief department to the effect that if he should be injured and receive money from the relief fund of said relief department on account thereof, that the acceptance of such relief funds should operate as a release of such employee's claim against said railroad company for damages because of such injury, construed and held:

(1) That such contract of an employee did not lack consideration to support it.

(2) That the promise made by the employee to the relief department for the benefit of the railroad company was available to the latter as a cause of action or defense.

(3) That such contract was not contrary to the public policy.

(4) That the effect of such contract was not to enable the railroad company to exonerate itself by contract from any liability for the negligence of itself or its servants.

(5) That the employee did not waive his right of action against the railroad company, in case he should be injured by its negligence, by the execution of the contract.

(6) That it is not the execution of the contract that estops an injured employee, but his acceptance of moneys from the relief department on account of his injury after the cause of action against the railroad on account thereof arises.

3. An employee of said railroad company and a member of said relief department was injured through the negligence of the railroad company. After his injury there was paid to him from the funds of the relief department $60 on account of such injury. The employee accepted this money and then sued the railroad company for damages for negligently injuring him. There was no showing that such employee was induced to become a member of said relief department, or execute said contract or release, or accept the money paid to him by said relief department, through fraud or mistake; held, that the employee could not recover.

KANSAS LAND.
AIR—"BEEHIVE LAND."

We're in a land of drouth and heat,
Where nothing grows for man to eat,
The winds do blow with burning heat,
And oh, this land is hard to beat.

CHORUS.

Oh, Kansas land, sweet Kansas land,
As on thy burning ground I stand,
I look away across the plains
And wonder why it never rains;
But when I hear old Gabriel sound,
I know the rain has gone around.

The farmers go into their corn,
And there they stand and look forlorn,
Their feelings then receive a shock—
They find the "shoot" has missed the stalk.

We'll have no wheat—we'll have no oats,
We'll have no corn to feed our shoats;
Our chickens are too poor to eat,
And pigs go squealing through the street.

Our horses are of broncho race,
Starvation stares them in the face;
We do not live—we only stay,
We are too poor to get away.
