Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly had use of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osborn,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kincheloe,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practices with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

HIS HAIR BLEEDS.

The Professor Has to Go to Bed After His Flowing Locks Are Trimmed.

Professor Amery is a tailor on Geary street. In appearance he is small and alert, with piercing black eyes and finely cut profile. As he walks along the street he looks like any ordinary man, for one does not see that he wears on the very top of his head a large roll of fine black or very dark brown hair. His hat he wears drawn down almost over his ears for fear curious eyes will find out what a strange and luxurious growth he has.

The way he found out the peculiarity of his hair in bleeding was this: Several years ago he had his hair cut for convenience and to keep people from looking at him as if he were a museum freak. No sooner was the hair off than he took to his bed, almost completely shattered in health, and was compelled to stay there until he had gained enough strength to take care of himself. After that he let his hair alone for awhile. Seven months ago he was seized with a desire to cut it off again, and as the result he was in bed, prostrated and unable to care for himself.

"But I have found out how to manage it now," said the long haired man. "There is a time of the moon when the hair can be cut without harm. The reason I suffer I have just found out. It is because the hair bleeds."

"What is the meaning of that?"
"By bleeding I mean that the sap runs out at the ends of the hairs, just as it does in young trees. That sap, considering that my hair grows so fast and long and is so altogether unusual, takes my strength out with it. It reminds you of the Biblical story, doesn't it? Well, it's true, and much on the same lines."

The professor's physique, he said, was still weak from the effects of the last cutting. His hands shook from nervousness, although he was sitting in his chair quite composed. The professor appears to be in a fix. He cannot have his hair cut because it weakens him, and he cannot let it grow because it takes all of his strength to support it.

Amery was born in Maine some 40 years ago. He had a sister with the same physical trait and two half brothers.—San Francisco Letter.

A WONDERFUL OLD COUPLE.

A Rhode Island Pair Who Lived Together Seventy-eight Years.

Lawton Sherman, who died at Providence the other day, aged 99 years, and his wife, who survives him, were the most remarkable couple, in respect of the duration of their marital relations, probably in the annals of Rhode Island. Mrs. Sherman is 99 years old, and her health is rapidly failing. The couple, both of them natives of Exeter, were married in this place on March 17, 1816. Some years later they removed to Providence, and Mr. Sherman engaged in business in that city. They had seven children, two girls and five boys, and four of the children are still living.

In 1891 the venerable couple celebrated their diamond wedding, keeping open house all day, and a little army of friends called to see them, coming from all parts of the plantations. At the time of the old man's death the couple had dwelt together 78 years.

Mr. Sherman was a mason and white-washer, and it is an interesting fact that in the past 20 years he had white-washed the walls and ceilings of one dwelling in Cranston street, Providence, each season without an exception. He never was ill, and he died of old age. His wife has been all her life almost equally healthy and vigorous. Both lived in the administration of every president of the United States. Mrs. Sherman was born on June 7, 1795.

It was a remarkable gathering of people that attended the old man's funeral in his modest and quaint little antique low broved cottage in Providence. There were his aged wife, four children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. His oldest child is 76 and his youngest 61.—Exeter (R. I.) Telegram.

The Paris Anarchist Scare.

Persons who assume to know what the French anarchists are doing—and I have had proof of the genuineness of their information within the past year—tell me they will seek to establish a reign of terror in Paris in October. The police are convinced that mischief more serious than any yet attempted is brewing. The fact that these fears are so definite is the best assurance that they may not be realized, for the expected seldom happens in France, especially in such matters.

There are no apprehensions among the public. The anarchist scare would have quite died down save for the fact that there is a growing restlessness among the Paris lower classes, due perhaps to the periodical demand of the French nature for excitement. It has been an unusually quiet summer in the French capital.—Paris Correspondent.

A Historical Rock Demolished.

The peculiar shaped rock which stood on the parade grounds near Fort Clinton has been blown into a thousand fragments. Workmen have been engaged during the past week drilling holes in the old landmark. The rock had been a resting place and furnished shelter for the cadets since the founding of the academy. Several years ago a proposition was made to blow it up, but General Sherman indignantly protested against its destruction. The limited space for military maneuvers has made its removal imperative. A legend exists that when the first Christian missionaries came among the Indian tribes in the highlands this rock was their pulpit.—West Point (N. Y.) Dispatch.

Long May She Wave.

Secretary Carlisle has directed that hereafter the United States flag shall be hoisted over all public buildings under the control of the treasury department during the hours of business unless stormy weather prevents its display. The revenue flag is also to be displayed over custom houses.

DISTRICT No. 41.

Mr. Editor—School district 41 has closed a successful six months term of school, with Miss Martha Johnson as teacher. She has labored with energy and skill, and the school has never been managed with such promptness and in such good time. She has not spared time or labor in her efforts to make it one of the foremost schools of the county. Though young she has the faculty of governing the old as well as the young, and no fault has been found with her by the patrons of the district, and the pupils have all liked her and willingly responded to her efforts to advance them. Following is the programme rendered at the end of the term of school. It was excellent and enjoyable throughout:

AN OBSERVER.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY.

The times are hard, but there always seems to be opportunities for those who are willing to work. In the past month I have made $175 above all expenses, selling Climax Dish Washers, and have attended to my regular business besides. I never saw anything that gave as general satisfaction. One should not complain where they can make over $6 a day, right at home. I have not canvassed any, so anxious are people for Climax Dish Washers, that they send after them; any lady or gentleman can do as well as I am doing, for anyone can sell what everyone wants to buy. I think we should inform each other through the newspapers of opportunities like this, as there are many willing to work if they only knew of an opening. For full particulars, address the Climax Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio. After you have tried the business a week, publish the results for the benefit of others.
