

The McCook Tribune.

By F. M. KIMMELL.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

"ONCE-A-WEEK" of New York city appears this week under the title of "Collier's Weekly".

CONGRESSMAN ANDREWS will be heard with no uncertain sound, this fall, in both the Tenth and Fourteenth Judicial districts.

NORRIS is a several times winner. That much appears certain. And there is that in his make up which promises well for his judicial career.

At last the supreme court has rendered a decision in the famous Omaha fire and police board case. It declares the new law constitutional and upholds the late appointments.

SPEAKING of the Republican party Senator Hoar, the learned, brave and patriotic son of Massachusetts says, "The emblem of this last child of freedom is the eagle and not the bat. The atmosphere of the Republic is the air of the mountain-top and the sunlight and the open field". But even this staunch and virtuous descendant of immortal Puritanism may be mistaken.

THEY have changed his name to "Lord Dunracin" at the clubs of Gotham. Probably the Valkyrie will be Johnny Bull's last venture in the way of building yachts to snatch the cup that America has held so many years. At least one is led to believe it on reading the angry comments of the leading papers of Great Britain. They think they have been done by a slick Yankee trick, but they do not exactly specify how the trick was worked.—Journal.

RED WILLOW.

Bert Helm was visiting in the neighborhood, last week.

Mrs. P. J. Taylor spent a portion of fair week on the Willow.

Mrs. Hoagland from up north was visiting her daughter, one day this week.

J. H. Fowler of McCook was a pleasant visitor in school district 72, this week.

This precinct won its share of the premiums. Mr. Longnecker's potatoes won the windmill.

Benj. Baker's men folks are expected to return from their trip to the sandhills, next week.

J.H. Wade and wife spent Sunday afternoon with A.C. Marsh and family.

R.P. Barr went in to Omaha on Tuesday to spend a few days at the state fair.

Quite a number of our people attended the Christian Endeavor society meeting at the Fitch school house on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Goldie Critser and baby are expected home from their California visit next Sunday, and to say that William is happy is expressing it very mildly.

Quite a jolly crowd of young people gathered at the home of Mr. Hammond, last Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing games and having a good time general.

INDIANOLA.

Mrs. Clarence B. Gray is down from McCook.

Lawyer and Mrs. W.R. Starr were visitors of the metropolis, Monday.

Mrs. Wm. McCallum was a state visitor at Omaha, this week. Also Mrs. Charles Hoag, who will visit her son Will there.

County Attorney Keyes, R. W. White and W. H. Wadsworth took No. 2 at McCook, Tuesday morning, for the state fair.

Last week, Guy Lamborn with his father, saw Guy L. win two purses at the St. Joe races, and came home on Monday morning.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week there will be a base ball tournament at Indianola. A subscription paper has been circulated to pay the expenses of the clubs coming to play. Admission to the grounds will be but ten cents, and a good attendance is expected.

The new pastor of the Congregational church, Rev. A. S. Houston, arrived here on Saturday evening, and conducted services on Sunday. It is felt that the church will prosper under his ministrations—as he seems to be inclined to become acquainted with his parishioners and to make himself helpful to them in a business-like way. The church has been without a permanent pastor for a year.

FIGG'S FIG. The following is a true copy of an indictment found a few years since by the grand jury of Lawrence county, Ky.: "Lawrence criminal court. Commonwealth of Kentucky against —, defendant. Indictment. The grand jury of Lawrence county, in the name and by the authority of the commonwealth of Kentucky, accuse — of the offense of malicious mischief, committed as follows: The said —, on the — day of —, A. D. 18—, in the county and circuit aforesaid, did unlawfully, willfully and maliciously kill and destroy one pig, the personal property of George Figg, without the consent of said Figg, the said pig being of value to the aforesaid George Figg. The pig thus killed weighed about 25 pounds and was a mate to some other pigs that were owned by said George Figg, which left George Figg a pig less than he (said George Figg) had of pigs, and thus ruthlessly tore said pig from the society of George Figg's other pigs against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Kentucky."—Green Bag.

Didn't Want to Be Shielded. He took her hand gently in his. They were affianced, and there was no kick coming on the score of conventionality. "I will always," he murmured, "be at hand to shield thee in the great struggle of life." She gazed earnestly into his loving eyes.

"No!" She seemed not to be aware that he started violently upon the word. "I must insist upon going to bargain sales alone. You would only be in the way." Even as she spoke her face kindled with the excitement of the fray.—Detroit Tribune.

The Retort Clerical. "Since you take me to task so roundly for my failings," said the physician, somewhat nettled, "let me ask why you don't restrain your own son. He gambles, drinks and plays the races." "Ah, yes," said the clergyman, with a sigh. "We don't seem to exert much influence over our own families, do we? By the way, doctor, please convey my warmest sympathies to your wife and say to her I am sorry she is still unable to find any relief from her rheumatism."—Chicago Tribune.

A Time Saver. It is the fashion now for ladies' maids to keep diaries two or three weeks ahead of their mistresses' probable engagements, putting the name of the dress against the day. The lady looks at the list at the beginning of each week, and if she does not approve of the gowns to be worn she alters it. It saves a great deal of flurry at the time of dressing.

Perhaps a Slip of the Pen. The Rev. S. J. Gibson lectured on "Fools" at the Wesleyan church here on Sunday. There were a large number present.—Carterton (New Zealand)
