for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTIN, D. D.,

The C., B. & Q. have let a contract for 5,000 M. C. B. couplers; the Williams patent.

Slack ahead there, neighbor, till I close the switch. I want to get my copy of THE TRIBUNE before we leave town.

The Brooklyn bridge management are figuring upon changing their motive power from cable to an electric trolley system.

The Southern California railway has now 18 locomotives in regular service burning oil, and the results are quite satisfactory. In July about 1,000 tons of oil were used and August about 1,200.

India has 18,355 miles of railroad in operation, with 2,217 miles more under construction. There are over 10,000 miles having a gauge of 5 feet, 6 inches, the balance being narrow gauge.

The C., B. & Q. is reported as surveying for a branch line from Clarion, Iowa, through Moravia and Iconium to Bloomfield, and it is thought probable that it will be continued at an early date to St. Louis.

A lap-order on the Great Northern railway, last week, caused a collision near Melby, Minn., between passenger trains. Both engines were wrecked, and also the mail and express cars. Both engineers, one fireman, a mail clerk and an express messenger were killed, and about twelve persons injured.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas, by the late purchase of a line from Green Ridge to Holden, Mo., a distance of 35 miles, has formed a new through route from St. Louis to Kansas City. Since the C., B. & Q. took hold of the helm on the "Katydid" she has come right up in the head-set among railroads in the southwest.

The Washington Post has this to say of the "Old school conductors down South": At the North and in the West the conductor is as uncommunicative an officer as a policeman. He never smiles or relaxes for a moment when on duty. He knows no one in the discharge of his duty, which he goes through with military exactness. On rare occasions he will nod to a commater, but the nod is not to be taken as any evidence of relaxation of official routine. He is addressed as "Conductor" and seems to have no name beside that. The moment you cross the Potomac everything is different. The conductor is called "Captain"; he knows everybody; has something pleasant to say and is ever ready to succor a distressed maiden or an old lady in difficulty. He will stop the train between stations, if he catches sight of an old lady driving down the road, and will help her out of the carriage, bundles and all, and say: "This way, grandma, to the ladies' car", and find her a comfortable seat, and inquire about the health of her entire family. Then he jerks the bell for the train to move on. He knows every inmate of the farm or plantation on his run. Often he is an old soldier, and runs up against an old comrade, and then dire threats are made about putting him off the train if he don't "hand out that ticket right away". Always friendly, pleasant and provincial, but never vulgar, he is a terror to the occasional tough or drummer who gets noisy or loud, and is not afraid of anything that wears clothes. If there is an accident he has nerve, sense and forethought, and comes out uncommonly strong as an emergency man.

In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Rushford, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me, a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not want to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and unequalled by any other. They are for sale by McConnell & Co., druggists.
