Death of an Old Settler.

Mrs. C. A. Wallin, who resided on a farm four miles east of McCook for several years, and the mother of William A. and G. E. Wallin, died at her home in Paxton, Ford county, Illinois, at five o'clock on the morning of February 1st, 1896, of la grippe. She was 75 years, 3 months and 25 days old, and being naturally feeble at her age and with la grippe it was impossible for her to rally.

In later years she had more than her share of trouble, but she is at rest now. The funeral was held at the Swedish Lutheran church on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Olson officiating, and the remains were interred in Glen cemetery. Yours truly, G. E. WALLIN. Paxton, Ill., Feb. 5, 1896.

Not a few who read what Mr. Robert Rowls of Hollands, Va. has to say below, will remember their own experience under like circumstances: "Last winter I had la grippe which left me in a low state of health. "Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
