THEY WANT RECIPROCITY.

MANUFACTURING INTERESTS FA VOR THE BLAINE SYSTEM.

MANY REPLIES RECEIVED.

A Strong Preponderance for the Re newa! of the Reciprocity Agreements as They Existed Under the Mc-Kinley Law - Commercial Organizations Also Favor Renewal.

WASHINGTON, March 23.-Response is now being made by the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country to the circular letters addressed to them by the ways and means subcommittee on reciprocity and commercial treaties, inviting expressions of opinion as to the advisability of endeavoring to renew the reciprocity agreements with foreign countries made under the terms of the McKinley tariff act. The replies so far received number seventy-nine. including large manufacturing concerns east of the Mississippi river and those heavily interested in the export

There is a strong preponderance of lesire for the renewal of the reciprocity agreements and in many cases the writers cite figures to show the great diminution in their export trade since the repeal of the provision of the law under which these agreements existed. In few cases is there any attempt made to conceal the selfinterest of the writers in the matter. For instance among the few concerns which oppose reciprocity, is a grain commission house which feels that it will be thus placed in competition with the great South American by grain producing countries. Another wer to the direct question writes: "Decidedly yes. We are more and more convinced that what we want is not free trade but fair trade, and the writer makes this admission after having been for fifteen years a free trader." Politics crops out in many of the answers and not a few of the writers do not hesitate to express their preference in the matter of the choice of the next President. Three great commercial organizacorrespondents and all of them are recorded as most emphatically favoring reciprocity. They are the Millers' National association of Milwaukee, C. A. Pillsbury, president; the Cincinchants' exchange and the Cleveland chamber of commerce. Of the seventy-nine replies, sixtyeight are strongly in advocacy of a renewal of the reciprocity agreements as they were under the McKinley act; three are absolutely opposed to anything in the nature of reciprocity or that contemplates discrimination in trade with the world; four are inclined to favor a qualified kind of reresponsive to the direct questions of | the same time. the committee and merely take advantage of the opportunity to ventiate some private grievances.

BAYARD UNDER FIRE.

Resolutions in the House that Censure the Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, March 19 .- The Ambassador Bayard censure resolutions were called up in the House this afternoon by Mr. Hitt of Illinois, who made a strong speech in support of them, and was followed by Mr. Mc-Creary of Kentucky, who opened for the opposition. The latter said that such resolutions were unprecedented and an invasion of the rights and anthority of the President. Mr. Bayard was not the first diplomatic officer representing the United States who had been assailed by his politica! opponents while representing his country in England and a vote of censure now, prompted by prejudice and partisanship, would not hurt him. The purpose was too well understood. It might prove a garland of distinction and open the way to him for higher offices and greater honors. The people of this country knew that Thomas F. Bayard had proved himself a patriot, a statesman and a faithful public servant, and the people were behind him in his opposition to protection and trusts in far greater numbers than they were behind those who sought to condemn and censure him. To censure Mr. Bayard at this time would be to detract from the prestige of this country with Great Britain when he, as a diplomatic officer, represented this country in negotiations concerning important questions now pending. Mr. McCreary concluded as follows: "When a citizen of our free country becomes an ambassador or a minister, should he be required to surrender or suppress his true sentiments? Should be not have the right to speak his sentiments politely and respectfully, if they are in accord with the policy of the government which he represents? The people of the civilized world are aware of the political revolutions which occur in this republie, and they are aware that we do not have in this country a special diplomatic corps in office for life, but that our ambassadors and ministers are appointed by the political party in power. They are men who supported the Presidents whose commissions they bear, and they uphold the policies of his administration. Their views on concern favoring reciprocity, in an- was the manager, on suspicion of these policies should give no offense at home if they give none abroad. am sure the Republican majority of this House will have more praise for abstaining from the adoption of the pending resolutions than they will have if they adopt them." A BROAD MINDED PHYSICIAN WITH PROGRESSIVE IDEAS.

Believes in Recommending Any Medicine

That He Knows Will Cure His Patients -Thinks Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a Great Discovery—He Cites Some Marvelous Cures.

From the Examiner, Lancaster, Pa. AKRON, Pa., April 24th, '95. DR. WILLIAMS' MEDICINE CO.

Gentlemen-While it is entirely contrary to the custom of the medical profession to endorse or recommend any of the so-called proprietary preparations, I shall, nevertheless, give you an account of some of my wonderful experiences with your prepara-tion. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The fact is well known that medical practitioners do not as a rule, recognize, much less use, preparations of this kind, consequently the body of them have no definite knowledge of their virtue or lack of it, but soundly condemn them all without a trial. Such a course is manifestly absurd and unjust, and I, for one, propose to give my patients the best treatment known to me, for the particular disease with which they are suffering, no matter what it is, where or how obtained. I was first brought to prescribe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills about two years ago, after having seen some remarkable results from their use. Reuben Hoover, now of Reading, Pa., was a prominent contractor and builder. While superintending the work of erecting a large building during cold weather, he contracted what was thought to be sciatica. He first noticed it one morning in not being able to arise from his bed. After the usual treatment for this disease he failed to improve, but on the contrary grew rapidly worse, the case developing into Hemiphlegia, or partial paralysis of the entire right side of the body. Elic ricity, tonics and massage, etc., were all given a trial, but nothing gave any benefit, and the paralysis continued. In despair be was compelled to hear his physician announce that his case was hopeless. About that time his wife noticed one of your advertisements and concluded to try your Pink Pills.

He had given up hope and it required a eral days ago some one administered great deal of begging on the part of his wife to persuade him to take them regularly.

He, however, did as she desired, and if appearances indicate health in this man, one would think he was better than before

Why, says he, 'I began to improve in two days, and in four or five weeks I was entirely well and at work.'

Having seen these results I concluded that such a remedy is surely worth a trial at the hands of any physician, and consequently when a short time later I was called upon to treat a lady suffering with palpitation of the heart and great nervous prostration, after the usual remedies failed to relieve, I ordered Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The result was simply astonishing. Her attacks became less frequent and also less in severity, until by their use for a period of only two months she was the picture of health, rosy-cheeked and brighteyed, as well as ever, and she has continued so until today, more than one year since she took any medicine. I have found these pills a specific for chorea, or as more commonly known. St. Vitus' dance, as beneficial results have in all cases marked their use. As a spring tonic any one who, from overwork or nervous strain during a long winter has become pale and languid, the Pink Pills will do wonders in brightening the countenance and in buoying the spirits, bringing roses to the pallid lips and renewing the fountain of youth. Yours Respectfully, J. D. ALBRIGHT, M. D.
