To California in a Tourist Sleeper.

The Burlington Route personally conducted once-a-week excursions to Colorado, Utah and California are just the things for people of moderate means. Cheap, respectable, comfortable, expeditious. They leave Omaha every Thursday and go through, without change, to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The tourist sleepers in which excursionists travel are carpeted, upholstered in ratan and have spring seats, spring backs, mattresses, blankets, curtains, pillows, etc. Only $5 for a double berth, wide enough and big enough for two. The route lies through Denver, Colorado Springs, the wonderful canyons and peaks of the Rockies, Salt Lake and Sacramento. For rates and also for illustrated folder giving full information, call on the nearest agent of the Burlington Route or write to J. Francis, G. P. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.

All Good Republicans

Should make a point of attending the national convention, to be held at St. Louis, Tuesday, June 16th. The expense is not great—if you take the Burlington. On the 13th, 14th and 15th of June you can purchase a round trip ticket to St. Louis at THE ONE WAY RATE. Think—isn't it worth a few dollars, a few days time to see the next president nominated.

Full information on application to any agent of the B. & M. R. R. or by addressing J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha, Neb.

Denver, Colorado.

One fare plus $2.00 for round trip, tickets on sale June 14th and 15th; limited for return, leaving Denver not earlier than June 20 and not later than June 25, except by depositing ticket with joint agent before June 20 extension of return limit may be obtained up to and including July 15.

Chautauqua Assembly

At Orleans, Neb., June 1-27. One fare for the round trip from points within 150 miles of Orleans; tickets on sale June 1st, 2d, 6th, 7th, 9th, 13th, 16th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 23d and 27. Good for return until and including June 28th, 1896.

HIS SKULL CRUSHED IN.

Terrible Death of Alexander Weaver, Formerly of McCook.

The following is copied from a Los Angeles, California, daily:
At the machine shops of the Southern Pacific railroad on San Fernando street, yesterday afternoon, Alexander Weaver, a machinist, was almost instantly killed while at work on a locomotive. The engine had been jacked up over a pit to have some work done on the forward trucks. These had been taken out and were being rolled back again under the locomotive.

Weaver was down in the pit backing up to see when the trucks had reached the proper place. Somehow there had been too much force applied to the trucks and they rolled a bit too far. Weaver was caught by the head just above the eyes and his cranium crushed between the wheels and a beam under the engine. The injury from which he expired was inflicted by the stationary beam which smashed in his skull like an eggshell just back of the right ear. He dropped back into the pit and was dead in a few moments.

An ambulance was called and conveyed the body to Kregglo & Bresser's, where an inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock. Weaver was an old resident of the city, married, 37 years old, and resided on Chestnut street, East Los Angeles. His wife is prostrated by the terrible shock, and could not be seen last evening. Weaver was formerly employed by the Southern California railway. The funeral will be held, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, from the residence, corner of Chestnut and Hawkins streets, under the auspices of the Independent Order of Foresters.

McCook Mercantile Company.

McCook, Nebraska, May 22, 1896.

To the Citizens and Farmers of McCook and vicinity:

Dear Friends and Patrons: THE McCOOK MERCANTILE CO. has moved into the two large store rooms belonging to Babcock and Morlan, between the First National bank and the postoffice.

We feel very grateful for all the generous patronage we have received from the farmers and citizens of McCook and vicinity, and will endeavor in every way in our power to merit their entire confidence and future patronage.

Come and see us in our new quarters! They are large and commodious, and enable us to show our large stock to advantage, which it has been impossible for us to do before. We will soon have large shipments of new goods in all lines, and in future we will always endeavor to give our patrons the opportunity of patronizing their home store, and of helping their own town and us, and not compel them to go outside to make purchases of any kind, because their wants could not be supplied in their own town.

If at any time we should not have what you want, ask for it, and we will get it. Our object will be to please our customers, sell our goods at a living profit, and treat everyone alike, so that we will always merit their confidence and patronage.

Claiming everyone as our friend, and bidding you all welcome, we are always,
Your obedient servants,
McCOOK MERCANTILE CO.
