To California in a Tourist Sleeper.
 The Burlington Route personally conducted once-a-week excursions to Colorado, Utah and California are just the things for people of moderate means. Cheap, respectable, comfortable, expeditious. They leave Omaha every Thursday and go through, without change, to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The tourist sleepers in which excursionists travel are carpeted, upholstered in ratan and have spring seats, spring backs, mattresses, blankets, curtains, pillows, etc. Only $5 for a double berth, wide enough and big enough for two. The route lies through Denver, Colorado Springs, the wonderful canyons and peaks of the Rockies, Salt Lake and Sacramento. For rates and also for illustrated folder giving full information, call on the nearest agent of the Burlington Route or write to J. Francis, G. P. & T. A., Omaha, Neb.

Dashed His Economy.
 This is a story about a man over in Alexandria who has a great deal of money, to which he is deeply attached. He is, in fact, so attached to it that he hates to be separated from a dollar of it. He has a silk hat, too—a well preserved silk hat of great age and undoubted respectability. He is fond of his hat, and he'd like to wear it every day, but silk hats, you know, are expensive, so he has been wearing his for these many years just on Sunday. On week days he wears a shocking bad hat which does not concern this story. The last time the storks visited the Alexandria man's house they were generous. They brought twins, a boy and a girl. The father was sitting in the parlor when somebody entered to bring the news.

"Well, you're a father now," said the somebody.
 "Boy or girl?" asked the Alexandria man.
 "Both—twins."
 "Great Scott," cried the father, springing to his feet. "Give me my silk hat! I might as well wear it every day now. What's the use of trying to be economical, anyway?"—Washington Post.

Lowell's Greatest Defect.
 In this same year, 1848, Lowell sent forth also "The Vision of Sir Launfal," his first attempt at telling a story in verse. Perhaps it is the best of all his serious poems—loftiest in conception and most careful in execution. His habit then, as always, was to brood over the subject he wished to treat in verse, to fill himself with it and finally to write it out at a single sitting, if possible. He rarely rewrote, and his verse lacked finish and polish, though it never wanted force. It was at this time that he told Longfellow he meant to give up poetry because he could "not write slowly enough."

His poetry also suffered from another failing of his. He was not content to set forth beauty only and to let the reader discover a moral for himself. Longfellow, Whittier and Lowell all insisted too much at times on the lesson of the song. And Lowell knew his own defect and wrote later in life, "I shall never be a poet till I get out of the pulpit, and New England was all meeting houses when I was growing up."—James Russell Lowell, by Brander Matthews, in St. Nicholas.

Bicycle Wheels.
 It is not as generally understood as it should be, perhaps, that bicycle wheels seldom or never are subjected to lateral strains. They need to resist only those strains which pass through their own plane, and in this plane only have they any strength worth speaking of. This is worth remembering when the use of wheels of this type is being considered for three or four wheeled vehicles, where the conditions are essentially different, and where, in turning corners rapidly, or in going over ground that causes the vehicle to be inclined sideways, a very considerable lateral strain may be brought upon the wheels—a strain which the ordinary bicycle wheel is, very properly, entirely unfitted for. This is to be considered also in connection with devices for attaching two bicycles side by side to make a duplex, or four wheeled machine, of them. Neither the frame, the bearings nor the wheels of a properly constructed bicycle are adapted to such use without injury.—American Machinist.

June Water.
 A quaint old superstition as to the medicinal virtues of "June water" still obtains in Hingham and other old towns in Massachusetts. It must be caught from the first shower that falls after 12 o'clock on the night of May 31. An old lady of Hingham tells a writer, who sends an account of "June water" to the Boston Transcript, that it is bottled and used for sick folks mostly. "You oughtn't to give 'em medicine in ordinary water, didn't you know? Why, I've had my son's wife send up from Boston for a bottle or two when the boys was sick. Then if I feel as if I can spare it I use it for preserves. They'd never spoil done in June water if you'd kep' 'em 100 years. Why, there ain't a speck or a mite of dirt in it. It's real different from other water when you come to look."

Rebuke From the Pulpit.
 Preaching in the abbey Canon Wilberforce told a good story of the celebrated Welsh preacher, Christmas Evans, who dared publicly to express his thankfulness for Jenny Lind's beautiful singing. A member of his congregation, a strait-laced Calvinist, standing on the steps of the pulpit, asked the preacher whether a man dying at one of Jenny Lind's concerts would go to heaven. "Sir," replied Mr. Evans, "a Christian will go to heaven wherever he dies, but a fool remains a fool even on the pulpit steps." Even the sober abbey congregation could hardly stifle its enjoyment of this repartee.—Westminster Gazette.

Resigned to It.
 "What does this here 'new woman' talk mean, John?"
 "Hit means, Maria," replied the old farmer, "that women air a-takin the places what men occupied. You'll find the plow right where I left it, an when you sharpen the ax you kin sail into a dozen cords o' wood, an I'll have supper a-bilin when you git home!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Appropriate.
 "Papa," said a boy, "I know what makes people laugh in their sleeve."
 "Well, my son, what makes them?"
 "'Cause that's where their funny bone is."—London Quiver.

The Republican State League.
 The annual meeting of the Republican state league in Lincoln, Wednesday, was a turbulent affair, the fight for the league officers being spirited between Omaha and Lincoln. The result was that Hastings secured the president in the person of Judge W. P. McCreary. John C. Hays of Madison county was chosen vice president; Ed. J. Mock of Harlan county, secretary; P. L. Hall of Saunders county, treasurer. Both the Lincoln and Omaha candidates for president finally withdrew in the interest of peace and harmony.

Threw Itself Down.
 A horse driven by one of the Goheen boys created a flutter of excitement on Main avenue, last evening, during the band concert, by throwing itself to the ground broncho-like. A number of men promptly pounced upon the prostrate, floundering horse and held it down until it could be disengaged from the buggy. Nobody hurt and small damage.

The Band Concert.
 The people of the city were largely and enthusiastically in evidence at the band concert, last evening. The program given embraced a number of new and splendid selections which were received with genuine, merited approval. The work of the Brigade is improving steadily in uniform excellence and high grade accomplishment.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain, printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cures it has effected. For sale by McConnell & Co., Druggists.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him the same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by McConnell & Co., Druggists.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds, croup and whooping cough. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by McConnell & Co., Druggists.

Trunk Labels.
 "I wish you would have a porter come up and wash the labels off my trunks," remarked a well dressed man as he signed his name to the book at the Continental last night. The guest as he spoke pointed to three big trunks that stood in the baggage room. The trunks were covered with the various labels that indicated that they had made a long continental journey. In days gone by these labels were the proper thing, and the man just home from Europe considered those glaring tags as almost sacred. But fashion has changed this year, thanks of the Prince of Wales setting the pace, and now these glaring showbills indicative of travel are no longer in vogue.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Redeeming Feature.
 A.—My dwelling is bounded on the north by a gas works, on the south by an india rubber works, on the west by a vinegar manufactory and on the east by a glue boiling establishment.
 B.—A nice neighborhood, I must say.
 A.—Quite so; but it has one advantage. I can always tell which way the wind blows without looking at the weathercock.—Humoristische Blatter.
