INDIANOLA.

Quite a number from Bartley attended the Republican rally at this place on Wednesday evening.

The Republicans are preparing for another rally on next Thursday evening, at which some prominent speaker will be present.

Rev. Father Hickey of McCook celebrated high mass in the Catholic church at this place on Tuesday, returning home on No. 5 in the evening.

Harry Coon, Bernard Hillers and W. D. Gillette started overland for Idaho, on Thursday morning. A good, stout, little pair of mules furnished the motive power.

Messrs. Bayston and Smith of the present county capital, passed through town early in the week, having been in attendance of a Bryan-Watson-Sewall meeting at Bartley.

R. P. High, candidate for representative, looked over the political field near the mouth of the Classic Coon, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and incidentally attended the Republican rally, Wednesday evening.

J. S. Phillips journeyed to Hastings on Wednesday and saw and listened to the old Generals that are making a tour of the west. He returned home a little stiffer in the faith for lots of good money, protection and reciprocity.

James Caldwell of Lincoln delivered a masterly address, on Wednesday night, at the Opera House. He spoke from a Republican standpoint. He had a crowded house that paid the closest attention. He is a plain, forceful speaker, convincing and logical.

Rev. Sproll of this place assisted by a number of other priests, conducted the service this week known as the forty hours devotion. It was largely attended by Catholics for miles around. In point of numbers and faithful devotion, the Rev. Father regards the services as very successful.

Johnny Welborn of the firm of R. T. Welborn & Son recently took a trip to the Pacific coast as many thought on a tour of observation. Johnny recently returned accompanied by a bonnie bride. They will be at home to their friends at the parental residence in Indianola after the 1st inst.

John J. Lamborn and E. A. Sexson attended the senatorial convention at McCook. Also delegates Dolan, McCool and Gossard. The nomination of Mr. Allen for state senator seems to meet with general approval by the Republicans, the Populists apparently preferring Mr. Rathbun, his opponent at the convention.

The Republicans and Populists both had rousing rallies, Wednesday night, and seemed to vie with each other in point of numbers and attractive demonstration. The Republicans had the largest number of voters in line with torches, estimated at about one-third more than the Populists. The Populists were entertained by Uncle Johnny Powers after the marching.

A gentleman from Omaha purchased a car of horses at this place, this week, from the farmers, the average price being about $25 per horse. During Republican rule these horses would have been cheap at $75 to $100 each, but free trade, government bonds, and Populistic vagaries have prostrated the business of the country, until horses as well as other farm products are reduced from 100 to 200 per cent, and still many of them want more free trade and cheaper horses and cattle and hogs. How little we poor mortals do know.

Miss Fanny Kennedy of Cedar Bluffs visited with Mrs. Mary Pratt and her mother, Mrs. Sigwing, last week.

The Pleasant Prairie school in district No. 35 has twenty scholars enrolled now. There will be some more after a while, when the fall work is done.

Some of the old farmers in western part of Gerver went down to Fitch's school house to the speaking, last Tuesday night. Guess they had quite a good time. They talked till after twelve o'clock that night.

The ladies of Pleasant Prairie Sunday school organized a Ladies' Aid society, last Tuesday evening, for the purpose of helping to raise money for the preacher and helping the Sunday school. They got sixteen members.

ABOUT KAFIR CORN.

Report from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Like all other crops, Kafir corn yields best on rich land. It responds well to generous treatment. Its culture is not limited to soils of certain classes and qualities. It may be grown on stiff clays and on light sand, in river bottoms and on poor uplands, and it will yield profitable returns on soil too poor for corn.

Perhaps the strongest recommendation of Kafir corn lies in the fact that it will produce a crop on less rain than is required for corn, and that it is not affected so disastrously by hot winds. It is, therefore, especially adapted to the semi-arid West, where corn succeeds only once in five or six years because of the hot winds and drouth. It is owing chiefly to this quality that its culture has spread so rapidly in Kansas and Oklahoma. Hot winds are the main cause of the failure of the corn crop in this region, and they are never more destructive than when they happen to come when the corn is tasseling. They cause the pollen to dry up, and the silk is not fertilized. Even with a sufficient rainfall, a few days of these withering blasts from the southwest, in tasseling time, may reduce the yield of corn 50 per cent. Kafir corn is not affected in the same way. Fertilization takes place more readily and the whole plant is better adapted to stand dry weather. The leaves are thicker and coarser than corn leaves, and do not dry out so readily; they are closer together and partly protect each other, and the plant is not so tall and, therefore, not so much exposed. When corn has once been stunted by drouth or hot winds, it never recovers. Not so with Kafir corn. It may remain stationary and curled for days and even weeks, but when the hot winds cease and rain comes, it will revive and, if not too late in the season, will still produce a crop of grain.

While it can be grown to perfection in southern and middle latitudes, the northern limit of its successful culture is as yet not well defined. In tests at the Ontario Agricultural College, the season appeared to be too short for the grain to mature. Henry does not consider it suited to Wisconsin. The Michigan station regards it as inferior to corn as forage. Possibly further trials may cause a revision of these opinions, but it will, nevertheless, be wisest for the farmers in the northern tier of states to grow it at first only on a small scale.

The crop should be cultivated like sorghum or corn. The weeds should be kept down from the start, using preferably a spring-toothed cultivator which will not throw the earth much, with ferns attached while the plants are small to prevent covering them up. The roots are near the surface. Investigations at the Kansas station last summer showed that the roots reach out 4 to 6 feet literally in all directions and that most of them are from 2 to 6 inches from the surface. Deep culture is, therefore, a mistake, since it destroys a large portion of the feeders and to that extent weakens the plants. The surface soil should be kept mellow until the crop begins to head, then cultivation should cease. If seeded about the middle of May, the plants will head early in August and the grain will be ripe about the middle of September.

The crop should be cut and shocked as soon as the grain is ripe. English sparrows will damage it badly if they have a chance. Over ripeness also causes the white Kafir corn to swell when handled. Unlike corn, all varieties have the very desirable quality of remaining green after the grain matures until killed by frost. The fodder is, therefore, still in excellent condition when the corn ripens, and when cured will make better feed than if the plant had dried up as the corn plant does.

The crop can be harvested in several ways. At the Kansas station it is cut with a sled cutter, which takes two rows at a time. The cutter is pulled by one horse and requires two attendants, one to care for each row. The crop is collected in armfuls as cut, and shocked. Any good corncripper will do the work. It can of course, also be cut by hand if a machine is not available. A light, short crop may even be cut with a self-binding. Some growers use a header, collecting the heads only and leaving the fodder to be eaten off by stock. The header will cut off a large per cent of green leaves with the heads, which renders the curving of the latter, preparatory to the thrashing, more difficult. In that case, it is best to pile them with layers of dry straw to prevent heating.

H. M. CLUTE.

Which? Gold or Silver.

This is the title of a book on the Money Question containing sixty-two pages. It is the most complete work issued thus far on that all-important issue now before the American people. Every man in this country old enough to vote should not fail to read this book before casting his mighty ballot in next November. Every employer of men should procure at once a number of the books and hand them to his workmen. It is not written in an offensive way, nor can it offend the most sensitive Democrat. It is compiled in such a manner and with such a strict regard for truth that it cannot fail to convince. This book should be in large quantities on the tables in every campaign club throughout the country, and Campaign committees throughout every part of the land should possess themselves of a sufficient number of these books to be distributed to every voter in their counties.

Single copies can be procured for Ten Cents, and Two Cents in stamps; or ten copies, postage paid for $1.00 C. M. Daniels Publishing Company, 38 Park Row, New York.

To Subscribers of The Tribune.

Readers of THE TRIBUNE will please remember that cash is an essential in the publication of a paper. The publisher has been very lenient during the past few years, on account of crop failures and hard times, and as a consequence many hundreds of dollars are due on subscriptions. We are now compelled to request all who can to call and make settlement in full or in part. In view of the facts, our subscribers must feel the justice and urgency of this request. THE PUBLISHER.

Do Not Stop Tobacco!

How to Cure Yourself While Using It.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco is an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Bacco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Bacco-Curo." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case, with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. "Bacco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke.

Cured by Bacco-Curo and Gained Thirty Pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file and open to inspection, the following is presented: P. H. MARBURY, Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28.

Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis., Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally how ever, I purchased a box of your "Bacco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved of all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition. Yours respectfully, P. H. MARBURY, Pastor C. P. Church, Clayton, Ark.

Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per box; three boxes, (thirty days treatment) $2.50, with written guarantee, or sent direct to your nearest dealer for booklet and proofs. Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis., and Boston, Mass.
