

NEBRASKA.

The stores all along the line are now wearing a holiday appearance. The bad weather has stopped work on the Boone county court house. Churches and Sunday Schools are preparing for the Christmas festivities. At Omaha the other day twelve horses perished in a burning stable. The swine breeders of Lancaster county have formed an organization. The large flour mill at Rushville has been placed in the hands of a receiver. It is said that David Brown will be the next postmaster at Nebraska City. Subsoil packing and surface cultivation will receive a trial at McCook next season. The fruit-tree agent is again making his rounds. Better patronize the home nursery. Robbers cracked the depot at Ponca and secured thirty copper cents for their trouble. Mrs. Harrington of Tekamah, one of the oldest residents of Burt county, died last week. Nearly one-half of the corn crop throughout the section about Wausau is yet in the fields. The annual meeting of the state press association will be held at Grand Island Jan. 14 and 15. A creamery has been organized at Seward. It expects to start the churn the first of the year. The broom factory of John D. Syas of Fremont was robbed and about four dozen brooms stolen. The bachelor girls of Wayne have formed an organization for the suppression of matrimony. Religious meetings have been discontinued at Broken Bow on account of the diphtheria plague. The B. & M. has reopened its station at Cheney, and Mr. Campbell of Tecumseh has been appointed agent. Henry Ohler, a Burlington brakeman, fell under a train at Cromwell and lost his right hand and foot. The West Lincoln packing houses, which were closed down last July, will resume operations in a few days. The First Presbyterian church of Beatrice in the past four years has contributed for all purposes over $36,000. Miss Lucile Ely of Auburn started a fire with kerosene. An explosion followed and she was quite seriously burned. The supreme court has decided that school directors cannot be compelled by action of mandamus to employ a teacher. Nels O. Alberts of Saronville has been appointed deputy oil inspector to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ed J. Hall. The first National bank of Beatrice has matters about arranged for reopening, and the bank's doors will be open in a few days. A Palisade physician advertises that he will answer no more sick calls unless provisions are made for immediate payment or security given. There is an evangelist abroad in Nebraska who figures out the end of all in 1898. He has the whole scheme figured out from biblical prophecies. Tillie Daniels, 13 years old, daughter of Frank Daniels, who resides a short distance south of Beatrice, was kicked by a horse and instantly killed. There are a good many men circulating about Lincoln looking for political jobs. Many of them will be disappointed, as there are few places to be filled. The Standard cattle company of Ames keeps one gasoline and four steam engines constantly at work preparing feed for the cattle they are fattening this winter. The third of the seventy-two damage suits, begun by citizens of Dodge against the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road, will be tried at the January term of court. A number of Keith county people are looking about with a view of going into the sheep raising business. Sheep raising has all ready been tried there with good success. Detective Cox of Omaha secured requisition papers on the governor of Missouri for the return of James McConnell to this state to answer to the charge of burglary. The sixth annual meeting of the Southern Nebraska Poultry and Pet Stock association was held in Hastings last week. There were many fine birds on exhibition. Victor Miller, a young man residing in the outskirts of Lincoln, was held up and robbed of $27.50 by footpads. Charles Armstrong, an employe of the asylum, was also held up, but in this case the robbers got no money. The safe of the Union Pacific station in St. Paul, was blown, but the burglars only succeeded in getting the outer door open and, consequently, secured nothing. This the second attempt at safe-blowing in Howard county within a week. Before County Judge Graver at Wahoo, occurred the trial of John Johnson, a man about 25 years old, who was accused of the crime of statutory assault upon the person of Mary Blomgren, a 14-year-old girl. He was held to the district court. The committees having in charge the project for a charity ball at Nebraska City, met and arranged the preliminaries. It will be held in the opera house about Dec. 15. No pains or expense will be spared to make the affair a success. Sheriff Mullin arrested Dr. Joseph Sidney Goodmansson last week at Pender on a warrant charging him with having murdered his wife on the 24th day of last September, by administering strychnine to her at his dental office in that place. The warrant was sworn out by Alvin Ioder of Tiskilwa, Illinois.

G. W. Moore of Dubois died of old age at the residence of his son. He was born in 1803, being 93 years old. The deceased had been a resident of Pawnee county for nine years. Steel range fakirs are circulating in Cedar county looking for suckers. They sell steel ranges to farmers for $69 that any reputable hardware man would not think of asking more than $40 for. A large party, consisting principally of women from Seward, made a tour of inspection of the Soldiers' Home in Milford. They brought baskets of provisions and many useful articles for the rooms. Supervising Architect Aikin of Washington has sent out advertisements inviting proposals for putting interior finish in the basement and first story of the new public building at Omaha. Bids will be opened Jan. 5. An employe of Elekiel Johnson, a farmer residing seven miles southwest of Holdrege, perished in a fire which consumed a barn, nine head of horses and a number of cows and young stock. The property is a total loss. Origin of fire unknown. The agricultural editor of the De Witt Times warns his farmer readers against turning stock into cornstalks indiscriminately. He advises that they be turned in only a couple of hours a day at first, and that the time be gradually increased. After waiting three months for the appearance of Prof. Broderick, engaged as principal of the St. Edward schools, to put in an appearance, the board last week engaged Prof. Rakestraw from Morse Bluffs, who began his duties at once. A United States Marshal arrested Carl and Nels Johnson in Nickerson township, Dodge county. They are wanted for robbing the United States mails at a little town near Fargo, S. D. They pilfered the depot and securing a mail pouch rifled it. The new German Lutheran church in Todd Creek precinct, Johnson county, was dedicated last week. Appropriate services were held, conducted by Rev. Mr. Reideheimer of Falls City, Rev. Mr. Atae of Sterling and another German minister from Lincoln. Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state by the Omaha and Wood River Mining and Real Estate company—capital $350,000. The title of the company indicates the nature of its business, and the principal place of business will be Omaha. A Washington dispatch says: Representative Mercer's desk in the house was covered by a magnificent shield of flowers this morning when he took his seat. The shield was made of ivy and was studded with dozens of La France and American beauty roses, while two dozen crysanthemums, about six inches in diameter, found places here and there on its broad surface. Gov. Holcomb has extended an invitation to the national irrigation convention to hold its next meeting in Nebraska during 1897. He wrote a letter to the officers of the congress which will meet at Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 15, an urgent invitation on behalf of the people of this state. The paper says that the people of this state are interested in irrigation, that there are 2,000,000 acres of land in this state under irrigation and thousands of windmill plants. The 2-year-old child of Michael Blecha, a Bohemian farmer near Humboldt, met his death as the result of a strange accident. After breakfast both parents left the child alone in the house—the father going to the field and the mother attending to some work about the yard. The little one, while at play, in some manner caught its dress on a nail in the window sill, and, being unable to free itself, hung head downward, and when found life was extinct. A shooting affray occurred at the home of Max Gleason, six miles from Schuyler, in which Gleason's son, a young man of 21, was killed, shot through the heart by Claus Deltz, who wished to marry Gleason's daughter. Opposition of the parents to the marriage is said to be the cause of the murder and it is no fault of Deltz that he did not exterminate the whole family. After killing the son he fired three times at Mrs. Gleason, without effect. The murderer escaped. The body of an Indian was found lying close to the Elkhorn tracks in the outskirts of Omaha. An examination of the remains showed that death had been caused by being struck by a locomotive. The head was almost entirely severed from the body, and besides there was a number of other serious wounds. In the pockets of the dead man were found an old, empty pocket book and a scrap of paper upon which was written "Little Chief." Just when or how the accident occurred is not known. The Nebraska Club has arranged for a standing advertisement during the winter of 1896-97, of about four inches attractively gotten up and setting out just enough to excite the inquiry of those thinking of coming west, and directing attention where to write for complete information about the state. It is already running this advertisement in some twenty leading home and farm publications in the middle and eastern states, with an aggregate circulation of nearly 100,000 copies and over half a million of readers per month. Boys in the industrial school at Kearney, to the number of about sixty, made a break for liberty the other night. At this writing the most of them have been captured, and it is expected the remainder of them will be. The appointment of Dr. C. P. Fall of Beatrice, to the superintendency of the institute for feeble-minded youth at that place by the board of public lands and buildings, meets with the hearty endorsement of citizens generally regardless of political affiliations. Years ago S. A. Harlan was city treasurer of York. When he retired from office he was short nearly $1,000 in his accounts. Various complications and the death of Harlan have prevented a complete settlement until recently. The city council at a meeting last week decided to accept $150 as full payment of the balance due the city from the bondsmen of the ex-treasurer.

ADDRESS TO BIMETALLISTS.

ADVICE BY NATIONAL CHAIRMAN LANE.

AGITATION FROWNED ON.

Silver Men Urged to Moderation in Order That the Republicans May Have a Fair Show of Carrying Out Their Policy—Confident That Their Cause Will Finally Win.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—Charles D. Lane, chairman of the national Bimetallist party, has issued the following address:

"San Francisco, Dec. 10, 1896. To the Bimetallists of the United States: The contest of 1896, which for some months has engaged public attention, was determined at the ballot box upon the 3d ult. in favor of the Republican candidate.

"While the supporters of Mr. Bryan and the great principles which he espoused have no reason to regret the efforts made in his behalf, and which we will renew when occasion requires it, it is only the part of wisdom to accept with the utmost good faith the decision of the American people upon this or any other question submitted to their deliberative judgment, which is always sure in the end to be correctly decided by that tribunal.

"Our position was met and antagonized by the combined wealth of two continents. It was sought to be obscured by feigned issues, opprobrious epithets, dishonest methods and partisan zeal. Every intrigue which wealth could inspire or ingenuity suggest was brought to requisition. The debtor class was threatened by its creditors, the laboring class by its employers and the patrons of savings banks and insurance companies were made the victims of unscrupulous demagogues, who declared that their investments in these institutions were to be sacrificed if free coinage of silver should be accomplished as the result of the election. These methods of political warfare were as dishonest and unjust as the advantage gained in fleeing and destined to ultimate defeat. No success secured by misrepresentation can have more than a temporary lodgment in the hearts of a generous and right-thinking people and the result of this election will prove in the end a more signal victory for those who went down in apparent defeat than for those who are now flushed with apparent victory.

"But the election has been accomplished, and it is now the duty of every citizen to accept the result in a spirit of patriotism, unswayed by partisan rancor and unembarrassed by factious agitation of the issues which have just been fought out. While we as bimetallists still adhere to the conviction that there can be no permanent relief to the people based upon the single gold standard, and that time will demonstrate the accuracy of our position we at the same time regard it as a duty enjoined upon every citizen to do everything in his power to assist the President-elect in every effort to promote the welfare of the people by any policy which he may consider will accomplish that result. To this end we earnestly advise all our friends and coadjutors throughout the United States to suspend active agitation of the subject of free coinage of silver further than a simple mobilizing of the free silver clubs throughout the union and the keeping up of the club rolls for future services. By this means we shall furnish to our adversaries every opportunity to fulfill the promises which they made to the people during the campaign of restoring to the United States that measure of prosperity which its resources and commercial standing entitles it to enjoy among the nations of the earth, and if it shall be demonstrated that the incoming administration shall be able to accomplish this result of the people, we shall have no reason to regret the outcome of the issue at the polls. But if, on the contrary, we are furnished only with broken pledges and the old makeshift of issuing bonds, the vain attempt to keep up our credit by running farther into debt, is again resorted to, we promise to renew the struggle until bimetallism shall become an accomplished fact in the United States.

"As national chairman of the Bimetallist party I call upon all of its forces throughout the United States, regardless of past party affiliations, to accept the result with dignity and forbearance and to join in upholding the hands of Major McKinley as president of the United States and to support him in all of his efforts to increase the prosperity and wellbeing of the citizens of this republic, but in no manner to abate their eagerness in the cause of free coinage, so that when it shall be again necessary to assert the principle we may be in better condition from the standpoint of organization than was possible in the recent struggle. It is an old adage that 'Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again,' and believing as we do, that bimetallism is the only refuge for the struggling people, we shall stand on unshaken ground behind this principle and shall await with anxiety the first opportunity to establish it as an American policy."

General Beale of Maine Dead. NORWICH, Me., Dec. 14.—General George W. Beale, member of the board of control of the National Soldiers' home, expansion agent, adjutant general of Maine and ex-state treasurer, died at his home here yesterday. He was 71 years of age, and had a notable military record as a soldier in the civil war.

Window-glass Factories to Start. PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 14.—A general resumption of operations in the window-glass factories of the country will take place to-day, furnishing employment to several thousand workers.

RETURNS TO HAVANA.

Captain General Weyler Again in the Cuban Capital—Greeted by Throngs. HAVANA, Dec. 14.—Captain General Weyler arrived once more in this city at 5 o'clock last evening on horseback, accompanied by Lieutenant Colonel Esceribano and others of his staff, and by a cavalry escort.

The streets of Havana were thronged with people and the houses of the town had been gaily decorated with bunting in anticipation of the captain general's return. The Plaza Armes in front of the captain general's palace was packed with a vast concourse of people.

Captain General Weyler made a brief address, in the course of which he said: "I have only directed. The army has done all." Various delegations, both civil and military, were received later by General Weyler at the palace, and they offered their congratulations upon the outcome of his operations in Pinar del Rio.

Miss Overman Converted.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—"The Lord saves. He saved me, of all sinners the lowest," said a young woman at the Salvation Army meeting in Willard hall last Tuesday noon. She was Mattie Overman, one of the principals in the Brown scandal in San Francisco. She was on her way to Washington to assist Mrs. Emily Waller Barrett in Crittenton home rescue work and happened to go into Willard hall. When the meeting was over she went out and went straight to the Anchorage mission, there to address an audience of young women.

In the audience was also the Rev. Mr. Brown. When the meeting was over he went on his way. What the clergyman is doing in Chicago no one seems to know.

A Very Neat Trick.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 14.—When the members of the State Reform Press Association meet in this city on January 12 to dispose of Steinberger as president, they will probably discover that no such organization exists. It has been dissolved by the president, and the National Reform Press Association has been notified to revoke its charter. The association was composed of the editors of the Populist papers in Kansas, about 100 in number, and was a subordinate to the national association. The editors will likely hold the meeting, but they will have to reorganize, and will not be recognized by the national association.

A Fight on Gompers.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 14.—The Cleveland delegates to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which will meet in Cincinnati next week, will use their influence toward the defeat for re-election of the president, Samuel Gompers. The bicycle workers, electrical workers, shipbuilders, helpers and bricklayers have all so instructed their delegates. The cause given is that Mr. Gompers has so long been at the head of the federation that he is too conservative, whereas occasions often arise calling for aggressive action.

Creedon in Nine Rounds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—At the Broadway Athletic club, Dan Creedon of Australia outfought and outpointed Dick O'Brien of Boston in nine rounds. From the beginning of the bout until the referee interfered and stopped the mill, when the ninth round had nearly expired, the work of both men was very rapid, and they worked so hard that during the last three rounds one good blow would have settled the contest. Creedon was undoubtedly the better man.

Santa Fe Case Is Argued.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 14.—The case in which the destiny of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad is at stake was argued before Judge Louis Myers in the district court yesterday. When the lawyers had finished their arguments Judge Myers announced that he would take the case under advisement and render his decision December 28, at Oskaloosa.

Weekly Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The approach of holidays and doubt about the action of Congress put off further improvement until the new year. While industries have gained in working force, they are waiting for commensurate gain in demand, and meanwhile are trying to clear away embarrassments which restrict them.

Through Indian Territory.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Mr. Flynn of Oklahoma has introduced in the House a bill, introduced in January, 1895, of the Fifty-third congress, by him, authorizing the Galveston & Great Northern Railway company to construct and operate a railway through the Indian Territory.

Leedy Rewards a Pastor.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 14.—Governor-elect Leedy has appointed the Rev. H. A. Elehart, pastor of the Christian church at Eskridge, Wauaubansee county, to be his executive clerk. He was one of the best speakers on the silver side during the late campaign.

Mrs. McKinley in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Mrs. William McKinley arrived in Chicago yesterday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Morse, of San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, of Chicago. Her visit here is for the purpose of securing a much needed rest.

A Kansas Farmer Pardoned.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 14.—John Lloyd, a Lar. county farmer who was sent to the penitentiary in 1892 for seven years on the charge of assaulting Sadie Williams, a 15-year-old girl, was pardoned by the governor yesterday upon the recommendations of the state board of pardons.

Iowa Man Assassinated.

MONTZUMA, Iowa, Dec. 14.—Mose Brunson was found yesterday with three bullet holes in his head. He had been on trial for stealing chickens, but was acquitted and was on his way home when he was waylaid in the darkness.

ARE AWAY TO STAY

SILVER SENATORS NOT WITH THE GOLDITES.

They are Out of the Republican Fold for Keeps—Mr. Dubois Resigns His Position of Caucus Secretary and Steering Committee Member—Non-Bolting Silver Men all in the Conference.

No Caucus for Bolters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—When the determination was reached to hold a Republican caucus to-day it was not decided whether to invite the silver Republican senators who bolted the St. Louis platform and ticket to attend the caucus, and many conferences were held. Mr. Chandler of New Hampshire was particularly active in recommending that the bolters be notified of the caucus—practically an invitation to attend. Senator Quay took the same view and it was finally concluded that notice should be sent to them as before.

This placed the burden of action on the silver Republicans. They conferred until late in the night to settle upon a line of policy, and when the caucus met Messrs. Teller, Dubois, Pettigrew, Mantle, Cannon and Squire were conspicuous by their absence. All of them except Mr. Teller were in the city and could have attended if they had been so disposed. Indeed some of them were in their committee rooms in the capitol while the caucus was in progress.

The following letter was sent by Senator Dubois to the caucus and was read soon after the meeting was called to order by Senator Sherman:

"I hereby resign my position as secretary of the caucus of Republican senators. I also resign my position as a member and secretary of the Republican advisory or 'steering' committee of the Senate."

The silver men had found it impossible to communicate with Mr. Teller, but all expressed confidence that if here he would not have gone into the conference.

If the bolting silverites were conspicuous by their absence, the silver men who remained within the party were, as a rule, exceptionally prompt in their attendance. Mr. Carter, who refused to accept the Dingley tariff bill and declined to walk out of the St. Louis convention, was the second man to enter the caucus chamber, and he was followed closely by Messrs. Wolcott, Mitchell, Shoup, Hansbrough, Cameron, Pritchard, Perkins and Clark, who heretofore had always voted for silver when the question was before the Senate.

THE ACTION OF THE CAUCUS.

Mr. Dubois' resignation was received without a word of comment. "We have just closed up the ranks and marched on," said one of the participants, in referring to the incident after the close of the meeting.

Mr. Lodge moved the election of Mr. Wilson of Washington as secretary, while Mr. Shoup was placed on the steering committee, which was enlarged by the addition of the name of Mr. Hansbrough of North Dakota.

The Dingley tariff bill was referred to the steering committee with instructions to investigate as to the likelihood of getting it through and to devise a means to that end if possible. It was the prevailing opinion that the best policy demanded the passage of the bill if possible, but the opinion seemed to be quite as general that this was not within the range of possibility.

Mr. Gear brought up the Pacific railroad question, as did Mr. Lodge the immigration bill. The former was referred to the steering committee, but after Mr. Lodge had explained the status of the immigration bill, the caucus desired to stand by that as a party measure and to press for its early consideration. The caucus also decided for an international agreement on silver by agreeing to a resolution introduced by Mr. Wolcott for a special committee of five members of the caucus to recommend some plan looking to an international conference with the leading commercial nations of the world for the promotion of bimetallism.

CUBANS ON THE MESSAGE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The World publishes the following interviews on the views of prominent Cubans on the President's message:

Piedel Pierot, of the junta—"The message is an enigma and a puzzle. I should have a far higher regard for Mr. Cleveland had he simply announced that the United States government was opposed to the cause of human liberty and sympathized with Spain's efforts to crush the revolution. The message will not make a particle of difference one way or the other, so far as the revolution is concerned. If the soldiers of Gomez and Maceo realize that the measure means that the United States will not raise a finger to stop Weyler's butcheries they will fight with that terrible energy that is born of despair. Cleveland's talk about autonomy only shows how little he really knows of the real state of affairs. The idea of autonomy is dead. Scarcely anyone in Cuba, even among the Spanish themselves, considers it seriously. The autonomist party went to pieces months ago. For us now there are left only the two alternatives—Independence or extermination."

Dr. Henry O. Zayas—"The president's message is decidedly unsatisfactory to both sides. The Cubans had a right to expect more, but the consolation remains that he treats Spain with the scorn which she deserves for her weak and cruel rule. Toward the end the president promises that at some future time his attitude will be clearly defined. Let us hope, then, that he will act in accordance with the expressed wish of the American people."

Dr. Rafael Navarro of the Cuban sanitary corps—"Cleveland does not say anything in his message; he does not mean to say anything. It is words, words and only words. My hope is in Congress."

Delegate Estrada Palma and Joaquin Castillo declined to be interviewed, but declared, through their secretaries, that they would issue an official statement within a short time.

RESOURCES OF ALABAMA.

Recited in the Inaugural Address of Governor Johnston.

Governor Joseph F. Johnston is inaugurated governor of Alabama Dec. 1. Before taking the oath of office he delivered a long address, sounding the keynote of his administration, which is to promote the development of Alabama's resources and improve the condition of her people. Speaking of the resources of the state he said:

"With an area of but little more than fifty thousand square miles, there is no territory of like size in the known world so prolific in the variety of its resources; were a wall erected around our state, cutting off all access, we could produce within our borders everything necessary for the comfort or convenience of man. Great veins of iron ore and seams of coal put at our command almost boundless resources in fuel, iron and steel. Splendid forests of yellow pine here stand ready to build homes for millions of people. Building stone and marble, fire clay, kaolin and lime exist in great abundance; walnut, maple, oak, cherry, ash and other hard woods await the hand of man for manufacture or the adornment of our homes. In the production of pig iron we take rank as the fourth state in the union; in iron ore, third; in coal we stand fifth; in the production of cotton, fourth, and in its manufacture, fourth. In lumber we are near the head of the list. It would be unjust should I fail to include in our minerals copper, lead, graphite, marl and gold; indeed, the only mineral that we seem to be without and to want most is silver. Leaving forest and mine and coming to our fields we find that they produce generously cotton, corn, wheat, rye, oats, tobacco, rice and the grasses and herbs of the home of the pear, the peach, the grape and all small fruits. Vegetables are grown with great success, and this industry is steadily developing. Our splendid rivers, the Alabama, Coosa, Tallapoosa, Warrior, Cahaba, Bigbee and the Tennessee, are the liquid arteries of the commonwealth, fed by innumerable creeks, all fruitful in power to convert our raw products into articles of merchandise. Over 3,000 miles of railroads traverse our state from north to south, and east to west, furnishing quick transportation to market for our products. When we come to our climate we find that the Giver of all good things has not stayed His hand, and that He has blessed us with opportunity to labor twelve months in the year without detriment to health or comfort. Indeed, we can scarcely appreciate the blessings we enjoy in this respect when compared with less favored regions, for even now we are seemingly unconscious that roses are blooming in our gardens, and the fragrant air is sweet with their perfume."

"With a profound gratitude to the God of our fathers, that our lots have been cast in this sunny land, let us beseech Him to send warmth and vitality and enduring growth into every field of endeavor, that will make us strong to accomplish the things that make a state loved at home and revered abroad."

The Shoe and Leather Reporter publishes each week a list of shipments of boots and shoes. The issue of November 26 shows a total for the preceding week of 67,965 cases shipped; the corresponding week of last year showed 60,825 cases. Only five houses in the United States had a larger number of cases shipped to them than did Bentley & Olmsted of Des Moines, who had a little more than twice as many as all the other dealers in Iowa.

Lady Brooke Acquired.

PERRY, Okla., Dec. 10.—Lady Brooke, wife of Lord R. T. Brooke, who is said to be very wealthy, was acquired here of perjury in the United States court. The trial lasted several days and was exciting from the first. Able counsel were employed on both sides. The case grew out of land contest in the local land office.

At the Same Old Game.

MANSFIELD, Mo., Dec. 10.—A farmer named Springston, residing in Ozark county fifty miles south of this place, has just been uncoined and robbed of $500 by the old green goods swindle.
