GENERAL BILL FAVOR-ABLY REPORTED.

SENATE COMMITTEE ACTS.

An Amendment Adopted Striking Out the Selection of King Oscar of Sweden as Chief Arbitrator-The Treaty's Extent Also Somewhat Further Limited-Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.-The Senate committee on foreign relations to-day concluded its consideration of the general arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britian, and after a session of three hours agreed by an almost unanimous vote to recommend the ratification of the treaty with amendments.

All but two of these amendments are merely verbal. One of the two which are essential strikes out the clause providing for the selection of King Oscar as umpire, leaving it to the two powers to select an umpire when one shall be considered necessary. This was agreed upon by the vote of 9 to 1. Senator Gray being the minority. The other important amendment is an addition to Article 1 of the treaty, reading as follows: "No question which affects the foreign or domestic policy of either of the contracting parties or the relations of either with any other state or power, by the treaty or otherwise, shall be subject to arbitration under this treaty, except by special agreement." This was agreed to by the unanimous vote of the committee.

The six members who voted for the treaty were Messrs. Sherman, Frye, Davis, Cullom, Lodge and Gray, and those who voted in the negative were Messrs, Morgan, Daniel, Cameron and Mills. This vote was on financial rather than on political lines. All of the votes for the treaty were east by men who had opposed silver in the Senate and in the last campaign, while those in opposition, with the possible exception of Mr. Mills, were cast by free silver men. It is understood that the silver men hold that the ratification of the treaty would have a tendency to render this country subservient to Great Britain.

An amendment declaring in explicit terms that the Alaskan boundary question should not be included in the agreement for arbitration was voted down as being unnecessary.

ANOTHER TREATY,

A Commission Will Settle the Alaska-

British Columbia Boundary. Washington. Feb. 1.-Secretary Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote, at 11 o'clock to-day, signed the convention for the definition by commission of so much of the boundary line between Alaska and the British possessions as is marked by the 141st meridian. It will be sent to the senate Monday. It provides a commission of four members. The names are not given, but will be agreed on hereafter. The commission will meet in London or Washington.

Japanese Wages Raising. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 -United States Consul Connelly has supplied the state department with tables showing the wages of various classes of labor, more or less skilled, in Japan for 1894, 1895 and 1896, that illustrate the great increase in certain lines since the China-Japan war. Agricultural laborers, male and female, have had their wages advanced from 10 yen per day to 20 yen, weavers from 15 to 35, tailors from 60 to 120, paper makers from 18 to 40, fishermen from 20 to 40, blacksmiths from 45 to 85 and so on.

Thurston Will Not Obey.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.-Referring to the action of the Nebraska legislature in instructing him to vote for the free coinage of silver, Senator Thurston said to-day: "The present Nebraska legislature does not represent the party that elected me to the senate. When any of the legislators show a disposition to come to my proposition I will consider the matter. We are now as far apart as the poles and there is no apparent prospect of agreement."

The Venezuelau Treaty Delayed. WASHINGTON, Feb 1.-The British-Venezuelan treaty has not advanced to a stage where it can be said with any definiteness when it will be signed and there is no present agreement for signing the document in time to go by the steamers leaving for Venezuela in the near future.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.-The occasion of the celebration of the semi-centinnial of the New York Academy of Medicine at Carnegie hall last night was made auspicious by the presence of President Cleveland, who arrived in this city in the early evening. "It may be this seems to you an acknowledgement so much your due as to be hardly worth making. You should, however, value it because it is sincerely made by those who were not born yesterday, but who hold in lasting and tender memory the ministrations of the village doctor of fifty years ago, and are now the living monuments of his faithful care. He, too, alleviated suffering and saved human life. We know that it was not given to him to see the bright lights that now mark the path of medicine and surgery, but you cannot convince us that he groped entirely in the dark. We remember with abhorrence his every-ready lancet and the sears of his blood-letting, found in every house-

Answering Mr. appliances now in use, he in a large measure supplied the deficiency by hard headed judgment, well observed experience and careful nursing. Besides, it was in his favor that he did not have to bother his head with many of the newly invented and refined diseases that afflict mankind to-day. He had no allotted hours for his patients, but was always on duty; and we knew the sound of his gig as it rattled past in the night.

"Your ways are better than his; but we desire you to regard this admission as all the more valuable because it is carved out of our loyalty to our old village doctor, who brought us through the diseases of childhood without a relapse, who saved from death our parents and our brothers and our sisters in many hard combats with illness, and who, when vanguished and forced to surrender, was present in the last scene to close the eyes of his dying patient and sympathize with those who were present.

The latter was particularly severe in his criticisms, charging that a stock jobbing operation was behind the measure. This drew from Mr. Powers a reply in which he charged that Boston was the home of the railroad wreckers, and with keen satire ridiculed the Massachusetts member, and continued that perhaps he was "interested" in his opposition. Mr. Barrett in responding was very vicious, not only denying absolutely any interest in the bill, but scoring Mr. Powers, who, he said, was on the supreme bench of Vermont when the Central railroad of that state was 'wrecked under its decree." He was not called to order, but Mr. Grout of Vermont twice protested against the attack on the judiciary of his state.

Mrs. McKinley's Inauguration Gown.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 .- Details of the inauguration gown of Mrs. McKinley were finally decided yesterday. The material for the gown has been selected, but not cut from the piece. It is a brocade of silver and white, the combination producing a sort of gray color. It will be lined with pale blue satin. The gown is to be made rather plain. The corsage will have a fluffy because of the d'Alencon fichu. The sleeves will be long and finished with a full frill of lace. The skirt, with its stately train, is to have several panels of handsome brocade. The idea is to the same time rich in effect.

HIOT ROAST FOR MORTON.

Congressman De Armond of Missourl Scores the Secretary of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 -The House passed the Indian appropriation bill and entered upon the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill, but all interest in these two measures was overshadowed by two very remarkable speeches, one made by Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio, attacking ex-Governor Altgeld of Illinois, and the other by Mr. De-Armond of Missouri, heaping ridicule on Secretary Morton for the recent issue of a pamphlet, entitled: "The Farmers' Interest in Finance." Mr. Grosvenor's observations on the Governor of Illinois were called forth by the latter's speech last week, in which he charged that Mr. Bryan had been defeated by fraud. Mr. De Armond replied very briefly to Mr. Grosvenor, but it was his subsequent attack on Secretary Morton which created the sensation. With sarcasm and rasping irony he scored the secretary of agriculture, taking as his text a recent publication issued by the secretary and sent out over the country under a frank, entitled "The Farmers' Interest in Finance.

The pamphlet reviewed the silver agitation to show that poverty and illiteracy characterized the states which had been foremost in the demand for the restoration of silver.

Mr. De Armond asserted that the demand for silver came chiefly from the farmers, whose interests the secretary of agriculture was supposed to look after and asked, contemptuously, what excuse there was for issuing to them "this slander, this travesty on

He went on to say that there were facts which some men lost sight of that were known to all, and one of them was that the illiterate colored vote represented McKinley's majority in most of the states which he carried. But, he said, no one took Secretary Morton seriously nowadays. The world was no longer interested in his views of finance, although t might look with expectation for any observations he might make on the woodchuck, the hedgehog or the eye of the

"It was once said of an eminent statesman," he continued, "that he stood alone; that modern degeneracy had not reached him. It could be said of Secretary Morton that he stands alone; modern degeneracy has not passed him."

Addressing the Republican side, he appealed to them to recognize Secretary Morton's service, even though they refused to accept responsibility

"Of course," said he, "you will not keep him in his present position, but you might put him in the national museum. "We will put him in a better place."

The future Idaho Senator attended the common schools of St. Louis until 1870, when, with his mother, he moved to Seneca, Kan. He lived there until 1882, being employed at farm work and learning the trade of stonemason. In 1882 Mr. Heitfeld moved to the northwest, locating at Pomeroy, Wash. For a time he worked in the shops of the Northern Pacific railroad at Sprague, Wash., remaining there until the fall of 1883, when he became a resident of Nez Perces county, Idaho. Since that time he has been engaged as a farmer. fruit grower and eattleman. In politics Mr. Heitfeld was a Democrat until he joined the Populist party. He is a member of the Farmers' Alliance and enced to ally himself with the Populist party. He was elected to the state Senate as a Populist in 1894 and again in 1896.
