LIVED IN NEBRASKA

A CHECKERED LIFE THAT FI-NALLY ENDED VIOLENTLY.

An Old-Time Nebraskan One of the Victims of the Chandler Cyclone-2 Man Who Is Well Remembered by Many of the Prominent Politicians.

John Dawson, of Lincoln, Neb.

Old-time politicians around the legislature, says a World-Herald dispatch, read the press dispatches from Oklahoma and had the memories of twelve years ago revived. The story of the cyclone at Chandler told of men and women killed in the wreck, of houses as burned and piled up masses of timbers. In the list of those who perished was "John Dawson of Lincoln, Neb." That inquiry among the men who are now prominent in the politics of the state as to who this was met with the response, "I never heard of him," is but another illustration of the old truth that a man is soon forgotten after he drops out of the running. Ten years ago there was no better known man among the politicians of ithe state than John Dawson. In the eighteenth session of the legislature he was a member of the house and led the fight for Gen. John C. Cowin for the United States senatorship. Fewer men have forgotten the battles of the past. but old timers say that this was one of the most brilliant of the political fights of the state. In the front ranks of the Cowin men was John Dowson, leader, who had the devoted allegiance of his followers and the admiration of his opponents which is the meed of dash and brilliancy.

Dawson was an attorney who lived in Alma, and in that session he repre sented the district now represented by Hull upon the floor of the house. He had a large practice, and it is said he got a fee out of every good case for a hundred miles around his home. He was a native of Iowa and a graduate of the university of that state. The late T. M. Marquette said of him that he was the brainiest man and the most brilliant that came up to the legislature that year. He was an omnivorous reader and his energy is said to have been of that kind which never flagged.

Like many other men whose abili ties and opportunities have seemed to conspire to make certain their future success, he failed to meet the expectations of his admirers. Habits of dissipation became the master of the man and his business suffered. He wandered away from his home and family and finally settled at Vancouver, in the far northwest, where his wife and children joined him, and he attempted to retrieve the fortunes which had waned. The history of this attempt is one that has had its counterpart in the memory

PREPARING TO QUIT.

Early Final Adjournment. The senate on the 2d gave the first intimation that it was beginning to consider the problem of final adjourn-ment. After a feeble opposition, the first of the big appropriation bills was taken up in committee of the whole. Senate amendments to the general appropriation bill are numerous, but they make but little difference in the aggregate of the amount carried by the measure. One notable feature of the session on the 2d was defeat of the bill which had for its purpose the wiping out of existence of the Burlington volunteer relief department and all kindred organizations connected with the management of railroads. Two bills were introduced at the present session directly aimed at their existence. One of these bills was introduced by Mr. Beal of Custer and is No. 325 on the files. It aimed directly at the evil sought to be corrected. It was entitled "An act to prevent assessment of employes by their employers. except by the request of said employes, for purposes of relief and insurance. and to provide that such voluntary relief and insurance organizations shall comply with the laws of the state relating to mutual insurance companies." It contained the following provision: It contained the following provision: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, transacting business or employ-ing labor in this state to impose any assess-ment upon its employes for purposes of re-lief or insurance, except by the voluntary request of the employes so desiring said re-lief or insurance, and it shall be unlawful for the said employers to retain from wages of the said employers to retain from wages of their employes any sum whatsoever, as an assessment, or contribution, or dues, to such relief fund or insurance, and each case of such retention or assessment shall constitute And whenever by the voluntary act and co-operation of such employes an association for relief or insurance shall be organized and maintained by dues paid in by those volun-tarily becoming members of such organization, then such organization shall comply with all the legal requirements imposed by the laws of the state on all mutual insurance and no regulation shall be imposed upon the members thereof by the organization or by the employers of such members which shall deprive any member in good standing of all the benefits or insurance for which he has paid dues. Nor shall the fact of the creation of such relief fund or mutual insurance by such employes in any manner release their employer from any liability under the laws employer from any fiability under the laws of this state for personal injury or death, and it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, com-pany or corporation to seek to impose any contract, regulation or agreement upon their employes having for its result the release of such employer from any such liability.

Supplies for State Institutions.

The awards for supplies for state in stitutions were made by the board of purchase and supplies on the 2d. Bids for stationery for the Beatrice institution were rejected for the reason that they were at the same prices in all particulars. The proposal for meat at the same institution was rejected, the same being the only one submitted and out of proportion to other meat bids at other institutions. Proposals for hardware at this institution were rejected because they were not suffiently specific. The proposal for drugs at the home of the friendless was rejected, because it was the only one submitted and the board desires competition. Proposal for flour at the Milford soldiers' and industrial homes was rejected, because there was but antagonistic. What is for the comone bid for each institution and the board desires to let these various contracts under competition. New bids have been called for, to be opened April 15, at 2 p. m.

Nebraska's Senior Senator.

Washington dispatch: Senator Allen, populist, of Nebraska, made a long speech in the senate on the unconstitutionality of tariff taxes beyond those requisite for revenue. Although it was the first tariff speech the senate has heard this session, it did not attract marked attention. Mr. Allen criticised the trusts and combinations, which, he declared, reaped the main advantage of tariff taxes. The senator's remarks were in the nature of a legal argument showing the constitutional limitation of the taxing power of congress. In the course of his speech he said:

"We have a right to consider the character and occupation of the men making the claim for protective legislation. They are not the laborers themselves-those whom it is said protection is to benefit-but they are the manufacturers, the bankers, the attorneys and lobbyists, who appeal to us in the name of the wage-earner. There are very few of the laborers and producers who believe that the wages are raised substantially by a high tariff, and still fewer who desire that such a tariff shall be levied on the articles of necessary consumption of 95 per cent of the people for their special benefit. It is true there are occasionally a few wage earners, ignorant of the principles underlying this, who, in consequence of being repeatedly told so, believe prosperity is dependent in some measure on a protective tariff, and they are induced by the crafty and greedy for whom they labor to importune congress to protect the particular branches of industry in which they are engaged. But these men are few indeed, and they are almost always incited to such appeals by those for whom they labor and in the interest of those who reap in their name the benefit of the high protective legislation.'

In conclusion, the senator said: "I place myself on the solid, impregnable ground that under our constitution congress does not possess power to tax the people to enhance the private fortunes of the few and that the full measure of the taxing power is reached when a tariff for revenue, with incidental protection, is imposed. Any other construction would lead to confiscation and incidentially to enforced repudiation, the two worst conceivable forms of anarchy and disorder in a civilized state: and such a deduction when carried to its legitimate length. would lead to the subversion of all order, and the rights of persons and property. We cannot serve the people and the money power at the same time. Their interests are deadly mon welfare is against the trusts and pools.'

Congressman Greene's Bill for Two Judi-

Washington special: A bill has been introduced in the house by Judge Greene to divide the state of Nebraska into two judicial districts, to be known. as the eastern and west. This differs from the bill introduced by Judge Strode in the last congress and reintroduced in the present house, providing for a division into northern and southern districts. Judge Strode's bill looks to the division of the state, giving each judicial district three congressional districts, the Second, Third and Sixth to be the northern district, and the First, Third and Fifth to comprise the southern, with terms of court to be held in cities as now prescribed by law. While Judge Greene's bill seeks to establish courts in Hastings, Kearney and Chadron, his division of the proposed districts being drawn in practically a straight line between Nuckolls and Thayer on the south to between Knox and Cedar on the north. Nothing can be done with either one of these bills in the house at this session of congress on account of the lack of organization of committees, there Strode's bill, which has been for some time before the attention of the bar of Nebraska, has received a large endorsement there of the legal fraternity, which will be used by Judge Strode in Cultivation of Sugar Beets.

The proposition of Mr. Emery and the promoters of the beet sugar factory to the people of Iowa is as follows: The undersigned agrees to cultivate

.... acres of beets for the beet sugar plant to be crected at Des Moines lowa, to be cultivated as the company shall direct. That is, I agree to plant the ground to sugar beet seed to be furnished by the company and to use not less than twelve pounds of seed to the acre, to be planted in rows eighteen inches apart, and the beets to be thinned to six to eight inches between the beets. The company agrees to pay $4 a ton delivered on the cars at the factory in Des Moines: That the freight on beets shall not exceed 25 cents for twenty-five miles, 50 cents for fifty miles and 75 cents up to any point within the state for the year

Signed..... P. O. Address.....

Governor Holcomb has issued th annual Arbor day proclamation:

Conforming to the wise custom, having its inception in Nebraska and now grown national in its character, and to the end that the attention of the people of our beautiful state may be called to the advantages to be gained by a proper observance of the day. I hereby proclaim and designate Thursday, April 22, 1897, as Arbor day.

I earnestly request all our citizens to fully comply with the spirit of the law in making this a public holiday, and especially do I commend to the public schools the propriety of an observance of the day by suitable exercises and being no judiciary committee to con- practical lessons in tree planting, in sider and report upon the bills. Judge order that there may be inculcated in the minds of the children of the state a high appreciation of the pleasures, enjoyment and utility to the present and future generations, of tree planting and timber preservation. On this day let us not forget that

"Who sows a field, or trains a flower, Or plants a tree is more than all. For he who blesses most is blest; And God and man shall own his worth, Who toils to leave as his bequest, An added beauty to the earth."

A COUNTERFEITER CAUGHT.

The Police of Syracuse Make an Important Capture.

On Monday the 15th, Harold Marquisee, of Utica, N. Y., was arrested in Syracuse, N. Y., on a warrant sworn out by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., charging him with forgery. On the 15th of December Marqui-see visited a photo-engraver in Syracuse, saying he was the representative of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., and arranged for the making of a full set of plates for the direction sheets, lables, etc., of the famous Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. News of this reached the home office, and no time was lost in arranging for his arrest when he should return for the plates. He returned on the 15th and was accordingly arrested and is now in jail in Syracuse awaiting examination.

This arrest proves to be an important one. In addition to various plunder, such as medical books, typewriters, rugs, etc., found in Marquisee's trunk when arrested, the police also found counterfeit coin' both in the trunk and on his person; and in a search of his apartments at Utica found a complete outfit for counterfeiting con-sisting of crucibles, bellows, nickel, lead, bismuth, antimony, a small blacksmith forge, a charcoal furnace, and several plaster-of-paris molds. The United States marshals want him just as soon as the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. are through with him, and, no doubt, he will be sentenced for a long period.

In selecting Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for his counterfeiting operations, he showed his knowledge of the proprietory medical business; for these pills are in such great demand that they are easily sold at any drug store in the United States. His scheme was to work the country druggists and sell his imitations at a discount of from 2 per cent to 5 per cent., explaining the reduced price by the fact that he had picked them up in small lots and at a discount from dealers who were over-stocked. By working fast and making long jumps, he would have secured many hundreds of dollars in a short time. The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most fortunate to have caught the rogue, before he had fairly started, and to have thus kept these spurious goods out of the market.

of almost every man. Nevertheless in its details there is so much of human frailty and its penalties and strength of human love and its powers to call the erring heart back to paths of right endeavor that it deserves more than a passing line.

From place to place John Dawson wandered, trying to again get his feet planted on firm ground of professional success, and only found that life grew harder for him. Six months ago he went from Niobrara, where he then lived, to Texas, and then to Oklahoma. The end of it all is that the press dispatches contain a line giving his name among the list of dead. Dawson's family, it is understood, are living at Montezuma, Colo., this being one of places at which he attempted to get a foothold in business. Ten or twelve years is a short time, but it is long enough for a man to be forgotten, and the story of John Dawson is but an added proof that the general rule is true.

Penalty for Defacing Coin.

Secret Service Agent Donnella of Nebraska has received from the government a copy of the mutilated coin act, amended March 3, which reads as follows:

Every person who fraudulently or by any art. way or means, defaces, mutilates or impairs, diminishes, falsifies, scales or lightens, or causes or procures to be fraudulently defaced, mutilated, impaired diminished, falsified scaled or lightened, or willingly aids or assists in fraudulently defacing, mutilating. impairing, diminishing, falsifying, scaling or lightening the gold or silver coins which have been or which may hereafter be coined at the mints of the United States, or any foreign gold or silver coins which are by law made current or are in actual use or circulation as money within the United States, or who passes, utters, publishes, or sells, or attempts to pass, utter, publish or sell, or bring into the United States from any foreign place, knowing the same to be defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, with intent to defraud any person whatsoever, or has in his possession any defaced, mutilated. impaired, diminished, falsified scaled, or lightened, with intent to defraud any person whatsoever, shall be imprisoned not more than five years and fined not more than $2,000.

Paying Cash for the Bonds.

State Treasurer Meserve on the 2d paid the first installment of the refunding bonds issued in 1877. and which fell due on the 1st. Of these bonds $123,000 are held by eastern parties, and must be paid as soon as presented. One of the express companies received a block of bonds amounting to $35,000 for collection. A representative of the company called at the office of the state treasurer shortly before noon and presented the bonds for payment. They were properly identified and checked and the amount paid over to the express company. Another block of the bonds amounting to $25.-000 will be paid at once. Treasurer Morserve has been notified that the balance of the bonds held in the east have been started and are now on their way to Lincoln. They will arrive early in the coming week. The treasurer has the cash in hand to meet the demands for the entire amount held in the east.

Will Pay Well for Evidence.

Lincoln dispatch: Chairman George W. Post of the republican state central committee has advertised a reward of $1.000 in cash for evidence which will prove that the ballots on the constitutional amendments from York county or any other county have been fraudulently handled or tampered with.

Following are the gains in Douglas county on the amendments, as found by the recanvass commission: First ward, 45; Second ward, 122; Third ward, 88; Fourth ward, 46; Fifth ward, 29; Sixth ward, 169; Seventh ward, 92; South Omaha, 234; Chicago, 9; Clontarf, Valley, 12; Union, 0; Waterloo, 2; total. 1.015.

Lincoln dispatch: The trial of Cliff Hagey, charged with having murdered M. F. Eyster, came to an end when the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal. Lyster was a resident of Chambersburg. Pa., who, while on a trip across the continent, stopped over in Lincoln for a few days last fall. He fell in with Hagey and the two were together drinking all the day of the alleged crime. They went together to the house of two dissolute women named Clark.

Eyster was found just after dark lying in the rear of the Clark house, and in a dving condition. He never recovered consciousness and died soon after being taken to the station.

House Roll No. 267.

This measure has passed both houses and gone to the governor for his consideration and signature. It is as follows:

1. It shall be unlawful and a misdemeanor for any corporation organized under the laws of Nebraska. or any corporation organized under the laws of any other state, or under the laws of the United States, or under the laws of any other territory or nation and doing business in the state of Nebraska, to give or contribute money. property, transportation, help or assistance in any manner or form to any political party or to any candidate for any civil office, or to any political organization or committee or to any individual to be used or expended for political purposes.

2. Any corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall forfeit and pay a fine of $1,000 for the first offense. All fines recovered under any of the provisions of this act shall, when collected, be paid into the proper treasury of the county for the use of the school fund; and the corporate authorities of any county within whose territorial jurisdiction such fine was recovered and collected shall pay to the complaining witness in such prosecution, out of the general fund of such county an amount equal to onefourth of the fine actually collected, upon the proper application of the party entitled to the same, in the manner usual for the presentation of claims against counties.

3. Upon conviction of a second or subsequent offense the offending corporation shall forfeit and pay a fine of $2,000, and the court may decree that Eighth ward, 63; Ninth ward, 58; the charter of said corporation shall be cancelled and set aside, or if chartered 1: East Omaha, 7; West Omaha, north in any other state or any territory, or precinct, 7; south precinct, 2; Jeffer- under the laws of the United States or son, 0: McArdle, 3; Millard, 11; Platte of any other nation, and doing business in this state, it shall pay a like Florence, 6: Elkhorn, 4: Douglas, 5; fine for such offense and forfeit its right to do business in this state, and it is hereby made the duty of the at-

Pure Food Bill.

The pure food bill, senate file No. 264 by Murphy of Gage, has passed the upper house. This bill provides that no person shall, within this state, manufacture for sale, offer for sale, or sel any article of food which is adulterated. The term food, as used in the bill includes all articles used for food or drink by man, whether simple. mixed or compound. It shall not apply, however, to mixtures or com pounds recognized as ordinary articles of food, if the same be distinctly labelled as mixtures or compounds and are not injurious to health. Any per son interested is empowered to secure a sample of any article for analysis whenever he shall tender the value of the same. The fine for violation shall not exceed $100 nor less than $15, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days or both, and any person convicted shall also pay all necessary costs and expenses incurred in inspecting and analyzing such adulterated article.

Nebraska Land Case Decision.

Washington dispatch: In the land contest of John D. Carter against Arthur M. Davidson, from the McCook district, Nebraska, Secretary Bliss modified the land commissioners' decision and referred it to the board of equitable adjudication for settlement. Davis failed to make final proof on his timber culture application and Carter made a homestead entry for the land. Davidson contested the latter entry and proved that he had acted in accordance with the law except as to the final proof. The secretary decided that the entries of both entrymen would be best determined by the board and ordered the case before it.

The case of R. C. VanCleve, a letter carrier of Lincoln, against whom charges were filed in the postoffice department, has been referred to a postoffice inspector for inspection and report.

The Blanket Ballot System.

At this writing the above measure is king considered in the house. The bill provides for a blanket ballot and for party emblems to be used on balone party his name appears in the list of each party by whom he is endorsed. The blanket ballot is simply a device to enable a voter to vote a straight ticket by one mark.

In the tariff discussion Judge Greene of Nebraska showed his ability to give and take blows with equal justice. His speech was replete with biblical quotations, speaking of Cleveland "as one who saith of his brother, thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire." Judge Greene was a minister at one time in his career, and early learned to use the bible and its apt quotations to make stronger his natural flow of oratory and his knowledge of the good book was greatly appreciated by his brethren on the democratic side of the house. Judge Greene acted with considerable force and contributed a great deal of entertainment to the tariff sideshow.

Senator Thurston today introduced a party of Nebraskans to the president, the president having intimated to the junior senator from Nebraska that he would be pleased to receive sojourning residents of the Antelops state today. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carroll of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Michael of Grand Island; Mrs. Bryant. ex-Congressman and Mrs. W. E. Andrews of Hastings: Mr. Adolph Meyer, Mr. Henry T. Oxnard, president of the beet sugar interests of Nebraska.

Everyone seems to be getting in a kick at civil service reform as it was extended and amplified by President Cleveland. It has recently been much discussed. Senator Allen made an extremely lively speech in support of his resolution respecting removals in South Omaha, and read some correspondence from Dr. W. S. White, formerly with the bureau of animal industry at South Omaha, which throws a strong light upon the subject that White was removed only because of "inefficiency." There has been an exodus of Nebraskans during the past week to the everlasting delight of Senator Thurston, Strode and Mercer, but while the personal importuning has somewhat let up, the mails of all three of these gentlemen continue to show little diminution and there are just as many people in Nebraska anxious for office now as there was upon the election of Mr. McKinley.

Taxing Telephone Income.

The senate bill to tax incomes of telephones is as follows: The legislature shall provide such revenue as shall be needful by lavying a tax by valuation, so that every person and corporation shall pay a tax in proportion to his, her or its property and franchises, the value to be ascertained in such manner as the legislature shall direct and it shall have power to tax peddlers, auctioneers, brokers, hawkers, commission merchants, showmen, jugglers, inn keepers, liquor dealers, lots for the greater ease of voters to toll bridges, ferries, insurance, telewhom the present system is somewhat graph and express interests or busiunintelligible. Each party is given a ness, venders of patents in such column on the ballot and whenever a manner as it shall direct by general candidate is endorsed by more than law, uniform as to the class upon which it operates."
