Flowers in History.

Flowers have always played a great part in the world's history. They have done so ever since the days of the Plantagenets, when a king took a sprig of yellow broom "to live and to die with my name." The rose of England, the lilies of France—what wild passions and fierce conflicts have not these innocent blossoms raised! And then the violet! Surely it was the irony of fate that wove this emblem of humility into the proud destinies of the French empire—a forecast perhaps of the tragedies to come. The Empress Eugenie wore them on her bridal day; they fell thick and fast on the prince imperial's pall. They were laid on the last resting place of England's beloved "Princess Mary," sent with these words, "Souvenir d'une tendre amie," from the Empress Eugenie herself.

A Latin poem of the sixteenth century has a pretty legend of a violet that, in mythological days, was a maiden called Ianthia, one of Diana's nymphs. She attracted the attention of Apollo, whose admiration she did not return, and, flying from his pursuit, she implored Diana to destroy the beauty which occasioned her so much trouble. Diana granted her request and turned her face to a dull purple. Ianthia, however, soon regretted the loss of her beauty and was pining away with grief, when the goddess had pity on her and changed her into a flower, which still shrinks from Apollo (the sun) and hides her modest head in the shade; hence perhaps the French "posie," which often accompanies the violet (used as a seal or ring ornamentation), "Il faut me chercher."—Gentlewomen.

A Pleasant Arrangement.

The Omaha Christian Endeavor Union, representing some 30 Christian Endeavor Societies of that city, have a booth at the Exposition grounds in charge of Endeavorers, who give out information and add in every way to the comfort of visiting Endeavorers and their friends.

Seeing the great need of headquarters where young people and their friends could stop while seeing the Trans-Mississippi Exposition they have arranged with the management of the Hotel Henryryton at 27th and Lake Sts., which is within walking distance of the Exposition grounds, for the establishing of headquarters at that hotel where the guests can have accommodations at from 50c to $1 per day for rooms.

This is the only official Christian Endeavor hotel in the city, and is under the management of the Christian Endeavor Union.

It is homelike, has been newly furnished throughout, and street cars that pass the door connect to all parts of the city.

Those contemplating a visit to Omaha, and needing a pleasant place to stop, should not fail to look up the Hotel Henryryton, the official Endeavor headquarters.

The members of the committee having this matter in charge are Chas. A. Mangum, A. L. Emmons, C. W. Hill, and any further information that may be desired can be obtained by addressing any member of the above committee care of Y. M. C. A. Building.

GETTING READY

Every expectant mother has a trying ordeal to face. If she does not get ready for it, there is no telling what may happen. Child-birth is full of uncertainties if Nature is not given proper assistance.

Mother's Friend

is the best help you can use at this time. It is a liniment, and when regularly applied several months before baby comes, it makes the advent easy and nearly painless. It relieves and prevents "morning sickness," relaxes the overstrained muscles, relieves the distended feeling, shortens labor, makes recovery rapid and certain without any dangerous after-effects.

Mother's Friend is good for only one purpose, viz.: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain.

Our dollar per bottle at all drug stores, or sent by express, on receipt of price.

Not Fickle.

The saying, "Fickle as a weathercock," once received a striking refutation in the experience of Dr. W. E. Channing. The famous Boston divine, being of a feeble constitution, was led to go to extremes in protecting himself against the cold, penetrating air of the winter in Boston. At such times nothing would induce him to go out of the house, even in a carriage, if the wind was from the east.

A friend, not having heard from Dr. Channing for three weeks, notwithstanding that the weather had been unusually mild and agreeable, feared that he might be ill and called at his house to inquire. He found Channing in his library, the sun streaming through the closed windows, and a blazing fire in the grate. The room was almost suffocating. The doctor himself seemed in his usual health and spirits. Naturally the visitor asked why he was not enjoying the soft air and sunshine. Channing shook his head and said: "Impossible, my friend. I dare not, and you know I never do, venture out of doors in an east wind."

"But the wind has been south for the last three weeks," urged his friend.

"You are greatly mistaken," rejoined the doctor. "Look at the weather vane," and he pointed triumphantly to the weathercock of a neighboring church.

"But that vane has not moved for the last three weeks. It wants oiling," was the response.

The good doctor had been kept a prisoner for three weeks by a rusty weathercock.—Youth's Companion.

Not So Green.

The up town bound cable car apparently was in the hands of a green motorman. At least that was the way the crowd of passengers accepted it when, after each stop, it started up again with a violent jerk, which threw big men around like skittles. Straps were of no value.

At Prince street a little old man got on and made his way to about the middle of the car. He lost something of his mildness of expression when he was thrown suddenly and forcibly against a young woman, knocking off her hat, but he said nothing. Next a big man made a parabolic swing, landed and nearly knocked him through the window. Then the face of the little man grew very red. He pushed his finger to the front door and, shaking his way in the motorman's surly visage, threatened to throw him off the car and run the thing himself. The motorman "sassed" back, but the excited little passenger talked fast and dared him to do it again. Then he shut the door and waited, and every one held his breath when the bell rang.

But the fight did not come off. The car started as gently as molasses, and never once from Prince street, where that one little man stood on his rights, up to Fifth street did the car start in any but the smoothest way.

That motorman was not so green.—New York Sun.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS, of Oenaville, Texas, says:
"I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."
