McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 28, 1898.

NUMBER 24

Library Building, Univer'y

Evans-Mitchell.

On Wednesday evening of this week, Rev. W. J. Turner spoke the words uniting the lives and hearts of two estimable young people, Robert B. Evans of Sedalia, Mo., and H. May Mitchell of Indianola. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's brother in West McCook and in the presence of only the relatives of the contracting parties. The groom is a son of Captain W. J.

Evans of Valley Grange precinct, this county, and is a fireman running out of Sedalia, Mo. He is highly spoken of. The bride has long been a resident of this county and is too well and favorably known to require any word of introduction or commendation from our hands. They left on the evening train for their new home in Sedalia, and with them go the best wishes of a host of friends.

No other theory can adequately explain the origin of so many smallnesses from that source.

A Painful Accident.

Mrs. W. T. Coleman met with a painful accident, last evening. She was about to step into a buggy when the horse suddenly started. She reached for the lines, but before she could secure them the cape she was wearing was caught in the wheel and she was thrown violently to the ground, sustaining a fracture of the left arm just above the with the excursion crowd. elbow. A sprained ankle and scratched face are also among the injuries sustained. The broken arm was quite a helpless member before the accident. The broken bone was promptly set and, although the pain at first was intense, Mrs. Coleman is now resting quite comfortably.

Charles G. Holmes Dead.

McCook

Though following an illness of a week or two, the announcement of the death of Charles G. Holmes, Thursday morning, was a shock to many. He was afflicted with appendicitis, and an operation for its relief was performed on last Saturday afternoon by Drs. Gunn, Watlife about half past ten o'clock, Wednesday night.

The deceased was of a retiring disposition, but of solid, sterling character, highly esteemed and well beloved by all who knew him during his long residence near and in this city. THE TRIBUNE at 7. Preaching at II a. m. and 8 p. m. expresses a widely and deeply felt senti- Pastor's morning theme, "Gospel Farmment in uttering words of sincerest sym- ing." Evening theme, "The Awful Sin pathy and condolence.

The departed was a member of Mc-Cook lodge No. 1, Star of Jupiter, and carried a policy of $2,000 in that order, besides $500 in the Burlington Voluntary Reliev.

The funeral will be conducted by Rev. J. A. Badcon in the Methodist church, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The Odd Fellows will have charge of the remains and will conduct the services of the order at the cemetery.

I. O. O. F. ATTENTION. All members are requested to meet at the hall, tomorrow, Saturday, October 29th, at 1:30 sharp, to attend the funeral on Wednesday evening at 7:30. A welof Brother Charles Holmes.

The speeches by the senator and by Samuel Randolph were short, the principal address of the evening being made by the congressman. Mr. Sutherland showed himself to be the same smooth, clever, jolly fellow he was two years ago, only more so; and utilized most of the evening in showing how he killed the pension bear,-the same bear that Senator Thurston, Ex-Congressman Andrews and President McKinley's pension policy killed, in fact. #### Will Close the Campaign.

On next Monday evening a week, the Hon. E. J. Hainer of Aurora will close the campaign at this place with a rousing speech in the Menard opera house. Mr. Hainer is one of the strongest men on the stump in this campaign and should receive a large hearing. The meeting will commence at eight o'clock. Remember the date and hour and place and tell your neighbors. The meeting will be a fitting close for the campaign and you can't afford to miss it.

A Hopeless Case.

James Daly, aged 30 years, from Stratton, died in the McCook surgical hospital, Wednesday night. He came down from Stratton, Monday, and although no encouragement was given him, an operation was performed on him that same afternoon for stangulated hernia. The young man was practically in a dying condition when he arrived in the city. The remans were shipped back to Stratton, Thursday morning on No. 1.

Announces a Laudable Intention. Colonel Phillips of the Indianola Reporter announces his laudable intention of running a newspaper in the future. He is undecided just now whether he will run the McCook Comfort out of Indianola or run his own paper in the ground, but concludes with the pathetic decision that it is "anything to repel the invasion of those pesky sheets into this, ing. our territory, each week."

Benefit Social.

The drum corps will give a social in Drum Corps hall, second door north of the Meeker building, on the evening of Tuesday, November 1st, for their own benefit. Coffee, cake and sandwiches will be served, for 10 cents. The corps is endeavoring to raise money enough with which to buy them new uniforms, and they should be encouraged.
