

The McCook Tribune

SEVENTEENTH YEAR.

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 18, 1898.

NUMBER 27

To the Public.

During the months of January and February of this year, a statement was sent to each person assessed in the county having delinquent personal tax, showing the amount due and the years for which it was assessed. In this notice attention was called to the fact that unless the amount stated therein was paid within a few months, a distress warrant would be issued to collect the same.

A large number responded, but there are still many who have not attended to this matter. I have endeavored to give the people all the time possible and to make it as easy as I could under the laws of this state, but the time has come when the delinquent tax MUST BE PAID. It takes just so much to run the county and if one does not pay his tax the levy must be raised and the rest pay more. This we all realize to be unjust, especially since two large crops have been harvested in succession. During the years of crop failures there was a good excuse for not paying. Immediately after settlement in January, 1899, I shall commence in the beginning of the personal tax book and issue distress warrants against all delinquent tax payers, going through the towns first and then take precinct after precinct until the delinquent taxes are paid.

No statement will be sent you and this is the only notice that will be given; but there is time enough from now until distress warrants will be issued in January for all to pay and thereby save the cost of collecting under warrant. This notice must not be taken as extending the time of payment, but if the interest of the county demands it, a distress warrant will be issued at any time. Let all take notice.

Dated McCook, Neb., Nov. 13, 1898.

J. H. BERGE, County Treasurer.

A Brief Visit.

A TRIBUNE emissary, this week, made a brief visit to the several schools of the city and got a cursory glance at the work being accomplished in the various grades of the system. We present a few items of news and fact in connection therewith, which will be of interest to our readers.

One of the greatest difficulties, that of over-crowding in certain grades, has been almost entirely overcome, and the results from relieving this congestion are already apparent in better work on the part of the pupils and in removing excessive burdens from some of the teachers.

Quite a few minor changes have been made in the arrangements of the seats, location of library, laboratory etc., all tending to greater convenience, comfort and the utilizing of limited room.

Time was taken by Superintendent Caviness in determining just what changes could best be made and they have been made gradually to the purposes stated. The system is now in good and advantageous working order, assuring progress and profitable results at the close of the term.

The seats in the Third grade room West have been rearranged for the protection of the eyes of the pupils and in order to increase the convenient seating capacity of the room. It is thought that both have been subserved.

Among the minor changes, the library has been moved into the room formerly occupied by the laboratory, which has been moved to more commodious quarters in the basement. The former library now serves as cloak room for the Eighth grade, which occupies the adjoining Assembly room.

The removal of the entire Third grade to the West ward building has greatly assisted in the work of relieving the congestion in the high school building and in equalizing the work of the teachers and opportunities of the pupils of the system. Miss Weibly is getting encouraging results from this interesting grade.

In order to make provision for a teacher for the Seventh grade when the Seventh and Eighth grades were separated, the entire Third grade was installed in the West ward building. The First and Second grades East were increased by additions from the West ward. The work of equalization was carried through the several grades by the following promotions: 12 from the Sixth to the Seventh; 15 from the Fifth to the Sixth; 12 from the Fourth to the Fifth; 12 from the Third to the Fourth.

The Assembly room has undergone some changes to better accommodate the Eighth grade, which is now very comfortably housed therein. The lantern has been installed in the hallway on the east side of the room and the curtain has consequently been placed in the west side of the room. This change has been made to provide better light for the pupils at study.

The enrollment at present is as follows:

First and Second East—Miss Thomson and Miss Rowell—706. The grades occupy two rooms and are in charge of Miss Thomson. These rooms are bright and cosy and quite convenient. Both are quite well provided with kindergarten appliances, and satisfactory work is being performed.

First and Second West—Mrs. Duffy and Miss Oyster—75. They occupy one room, with a small recitation adjoining. Though not quite so well equipped or comfortably situated as the East Ward primary, creditable results are coming from their efforts.

First and Second South—Miss Stroud—82. This building has been much improved in internal and external appearance, besides in added convenience and comfort. It is one of the most interesting departments of the city schools, and although the work is too heavy for one teacher, it is being done with tact and skill and with success unusual and praise-worthy. The children are nearly all of German-Russian parentage and have to be first taught English. The average attendance is about 66.

Third West—Miss Weibly—67. This grade is doing encouragingly better work since the readjustment and is expected to accomplish very satisfactory results by the end of the school year.

Fourth West—Miss Powers—63. Like the Third, this grade is in good shape and progressing nicely, hoping to fully cover the grade work, this year.

Fifth West—Miss Leonard—57. Separated from the Sixth, being less crowded, and it being possible to do more personal work among the pupils, this grade is doing well and is expected to give a good account of itself, this year.

Sixth, City Hall—Miss Bettcher—54. This grade is very comfortably located and is settling down to do the work of the grade earnestly and strongly.

Seventh East—Miss Case—44. Separated from the Eighth and less crowded, this grade is improving the opportunities gained by having a room and teacher of their own. This room is sorely in need of more seats and desks.

Eighth East—Miss Meserve—39. The grade is making the best of the excellent facilities of the Assembly room and are creditably covering the ground required in that grade.

Ninth and Eleventh, High School—30 and 15—Mr. Burgert, who has charge of the mathematics and science work of these grades, and is securing good results.

Tenth and Twelfth—Miss Berry—40 and 6. In these grades Miss Berry is meeting with her usual substantial returns.

Mutual good would result were parents and patrons to more frequently visit the different grades of the school system. The children would feel that others are interested in their progress. The superintendent and teachers would thereby be encouraged and stimulated to greater efforts. Wiser and broader views of the work of the system would be held by the public, and more intelligent sympathy would be felt.

The Nebraska Christian missionary society, a year ago, was over $1,800 in debt as a result of the hard times. It will be pleasing now to note that the society is less than $450 in debt, with a fair prospect of paying that amount all off by the end of the current year.

The Chicago Lady Quartette will appear in our city under Endeavor auspices, December 17th. It will be an artistic entertainment of high class singers, with a reader of ability on the side.

Rev. J. A. Badcon attended the Hol-drege Ministerial association meeting at Cambridge, Wednesday, returning home on Thursday morning.

Perry-Stranahan.

Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Perry, Miss Mabel Caroline Perry and Mr. John Martin Stranahan were solemnly joined in the bonds of wedlock. Rev. W. J. Turner, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated, and the beautiful and impressive service touched every heart present.

It was a simple home wedding with but a few invited friends in attendance. Promptly at eight o'clock, Mrs. W. B. Mills played Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the bridesmaid and the groomsmen, Miss Lulu M. Beardslee and Mr. Thomas E. McCarl, appeared, followed by the bride and groom, the party taking positions under the decorated archway.

The bride was beautifully gowned in pearl gray silk and carried white carnations. The groom was conventionally dressed in black.

After congratulations were offered, the wedding supper was served with all the good will and bounty so characteristic of the host and hostess.

At the close of a brief social hour the guests departed and the young couple was by the family escorted to their own home adjoining the parental roof on the south.

Many beautiful and useful tokens were received with the heartiest congratulations and warmest wishes of the donors. The bride has grown from earliest childhood to sweet and accomplished womanhood in our city. The groom has won his way into the hearts of a large circle of friends during the comparatively brief while of his residence in our midst, and all will join us in expressions of warmest congratulations over the happy event.

God Made Man.

And not man God, is the verdict of Dr. John, who delivered his grand lecture against agnosticism in the Methodist church, Tuesday evening, under Epworth League auspices, to the great delight and edification of his hearers. The lecture was a superb effort, the doctor bombarding the citadel of reason and agnosticism with the solid shot of revelation and religion with telling effect. The doctor does not indulge in invective, but presents his arguments and answers those advanced by Colonel Ingersoll with most convincing and masterful ability. His closing period was an admirable, scholarly and eloquent comparison of the future and hope of religion as against the fatalism of agnosticism, and he fairly carried his audience away.

It is only to be regretted that more people did not turn out to hear the lecture, which was one of the best ever delivered in our city, and should have been accorded a large hearing.

Their Annual Success.

The ladies of the Dorcas Society scored another success in their annual supper and fair in the Smith building, Monday and Tuesday of this week. They were accorded the usual liberal patronage by the public and realized handsomely for their exchequer.

The supper was a most excellent and wholesome spread, well worth twice the price asked and received a hearty recognition.

The ladies disposed of all their useful, ornamental articles and novelties, in addition to a lot of toothsome home-made candies and a collection of beautiful cut flowers.

The net proceeds will aggregate about $125, all of which the society merited by hard work and patient toil of weeks.

Slid Off the Seat.

August Droll received some painful bruises and a pretty thorough shaking up by being thrown from his wagon while on the way to town, Tuesday morning. The seat had no end pieces and the frosted surface together with the frosted side of the cushion turned down made a dangerous combination which shot Mr. Droll off into space as he turned a corner. He will soon be about as usual, though with more or less pain and inconvenience.

The Lady Maccabees gave a reception, last night, in honor of Mrs. H. L. Kennedy, who is about to leave the city and move to Cambridge. It was just such a pleasure-giving affair as the Lady Maccabees are wont to give on such occasions.

The "Excursion" social, last night, by the Guild in McConnell's hall, attracted a large crowd. The program was good, and the trip was profitable to the promoters as well as pleasurable to the passengers.

All our farmer readers should take advantage of the unprecedented clubbing offer we this year make, which includes, with this paper, The Iowa Homestead, its Special Farmers' Institute editions, The Poultry Farmer, The Farmers' Mutual Insurance Journal and the Humane Alliance. The subscription price of these five publications amounts to $2.80. We are prepared to send them all, including our own paper, to any farmer in this county for $1.45, which is only 45 cents more than our own subscription price. Never before was so much superior reading matter, of the most practical and useful character, offered for only $1.45. The first four of the papers named are so well known throughout the west that but little need be said of them. They commend themselves to the reader's favorable attention upon mere mention. The Humane Alliance is devoted to humane education, and should be in every farmer's family, so that the boys and girls on the farm may early imbibe the principles of a broad humanity that shall include all God's creatures, and learn the wickedness and brutalizing tendency of cruelty of all kinds. Take advantage of this great offer.
