The City Council.

The municipal fathers were in session, Monday evening, and transacted the following business, all being present but Councilman Perry:

Report of City Marshal Jordan read and filed.

On motion it was determined to take up the matter of the application of A. C. Clyde for liquor license for the ensuing year at an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday evening, April 29th.

On motion liquor licenses were granted to P. Walsh, Harry Barbazett and William Lewis; druggist's permit to D. W. Loar; billiard and pool licenses to J. H. Bennett and B. F. Olcott.

It was moved that the city attorney and county attorney be authorized to draw and approve a contract by which the city shall pay not to exceed one-half of the lowest bid made for completing the court house according to the specifications prepared by the county officers under direction of the county commissioners; and the city attorney to report the contract to the city council at an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday evening, April 29th. After which the council adjourned as above indicated.

Let others do the talking about the crop, we have nothing to say.

I. B. Stryker is the possessor of a brand new pump.

The spring has been hard on the early pigs, many of them dying.

We violate no confidence when we say that we think the corn is all husked.

Mrs. R. H. Traphagan has been beautifying their buggy with a new coat of paint.

G. H. Simmerman is enclosing his buildings with a woven wire fence and otherwise improving his home.

Wm. Brown and family, who lived here one year, left for Oregon, last Monday, where they expect to reside.

The mumps went pretty hard with some as the doctor was called several times for at least two of the afflicted ones.

The way to do it when part of a family of chickens are safely hatched and the others are knocking at the door, but can't get through is, to gently pip the eggs right on the tip of the big end, thereby increasing the number of chicks.

Prairie fires have caused not a little anxiety, but by desperate efforts by the brave people in which the ladies assisted they were extinguished without much financial loss. A young daughter of Mr. Rhodenburg had one of her hair braids burned off near to her scalp.

The time is drawing nigh when M. L. Brown and family who have been here so long will start on their journey to Oregon to their new home. They will be much missed and they will often think of their home on the sunny side of the Red Willow and of the friends they left behind.

W. S. Morlan is putting out another fine lot of trees. We hope he will have better luck with these.

I. H. Wasson and family moved out from LeClaire, Iowa, the latter part of last week, and are living with their sons Charles and Roe. Capt. Wasson has been in the employ of Dimock, Gould & Co. for the past twenty years, and captain of the steamer Moline for the past nineteen years. He has many warm friends in South Side and will be welcomed by all.

We Will Excuse the Colonel.

If Colonel Phillips of the Reporter needs any time in which to devote himself to his own town of Indianola, in behalf of the good people of McCook, THE TRIBUNE will excuse him from devoting so much of his valuable space, time and gray matter to McCook and her citizens. There are some interesting chapters of local history the colonel might enlarge upon: The watch factory, ochre mine and mill, and grange store etc. might make an entertaining symposium for Jasper's facile, vigorous and humorous pen. If the colonel will undertake to sweep clean before his own local front door, he will have less waste and idle time on his hands in which to malign, misrepresent and 'roast' his busy neighbors. The advice is worth the trial and effort; and the result will always be beneficial.

Won the Case.

After about five years of litigation and delay, Mrs. Margaret Oyster on Tuesday of this week, received a draft in payment of her suit for damage against the Burlington on account of the fatal injury of her husband at Holdrege, about five years since. Winning her case in the court at Holdrege and again in the supreme court, which decided the application for a re-hearing, last week, there was nothing left the company to do but to pay, which they did, close of last week. Mrs. Oyster secures over $4,000, a fact upon which she is to be congratulated.
