

Largest Circulation in Red Willow Co.

THE people and the tramway corporation of Denver are having a battle to the death. May the people win. May municipal ownership be victorious.

YERKES, the great street railway magnate of Chicago, has found it convenient to dispose of his immense and profitable interests. The goose is laying golden eggs, just the same, but they are becoming too hot for his gathering.

THE American National bank of Lincoln has consolidated with the First National bank of that city, retaining the name of the latter, which is now the strongest bank in the state outside of Omaha, representing about two million dollars.

CARNEGIE announces his retirement from active business, having sold his great iron, steel and cake interests,—perhaps the greatest business enterprises ever conducted by one man in any age or land. He will devote his last years to philanthropic work, in which he hopes to exhibit more judgment than is usually credited to people of great wealth and kind hearts.

Now comes C. S. Bradford, a newspaper man just returned from Manila, who alleges that Prince Ludwig von Lowenstein, who was killed during the engagement at Malabon, was shot by a volley from the Second Oregon regiment, while hiding in a hut from the American troops. Bradford states that documents signed by Aguinaldo were found on the body of the prince vouching him a friend of the rebel cause and permitting him to pass the rebel lines at all times.

THE flag which has waved in glory over an expanding country from 1766 to 1899, under which the reunited soldiery of the blue and the gray, with their valorous, patriotic sons, have so splendidly striven together, will not be shot down, at a range of 10,000 miles, with the sulphurous paper wads of a Boston pamphleteer. We all know that the president of the United States is not an angel, and I am particularly glad at this time that he is not; that he is one of our folks still. But he is neither a dictator nor a tyrant, nor a king, nor an emperor. He is simply an old-fashioned, broad-minded, large-hearted, law-enforcing typical American, of our own Abraham Lincoln stripe.—Bishop Fal-lows at Chicago meeting.

INDIANOLA.

C. H. Russell and wife were in the state's capital city, first of the week.

County Treasurer Berge and Rev. J. A. Badcon of McCook are attending the convention, today.

There has been a large attendance and deep interest at the Sunday-school convention now in session here.

Mabel Bishop has been down from McCook, since the close of last week, the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Hetherington.

Revs. W. J. Turner and W. F. Vogt of McCook were among those in attendance upon the convention of Sunday-schools of Red Willow county held here, Thursday and Friday.

County Treasurer Berge and County Judge Bishop from McCook took in the Sunday-school convention, Thursday, the former participating with his usual enthusiasm.

LEBANON.

The county judge authorized Walter M. Pennington and Ora Bartholomew of this town to marry, Monday.

Walter M. Pennington, Leslie Thomas and Ira D. Pennington drove over to see the new court house, Monday, and transacted a little business on the side.

DANBURY.

E. L. Dennis drove over to the county's capital city, Saturday, on important business.

BARTLEY.

Sam Bryan was a McCook visitor, early in the week.

J. R. Sipe shipped a car of hogs to Nebraska City on Monday.

J. Fletcher transacted business in the county capital, Monday.

R. Hanson, lately operator at Mascot, is now agent at this place.

E. E. Smith shipped two cars of stock, this week; one to Denver and one to St. Joe.

Miss Nellie Stephens of Box Elder is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. P. Hodgkin, this week.

Dr. Preost and wife of Cambridge made a business trip to this place, Monday. The doctor is engaged in dentistry.

Cecil Mathews plastered the rooms over the postoffice for Mr. Miller. When finished they will be occupied as a studio by Rev. Eads.

Several of the young people of this place contemplate attending the medicine show at Indianola, this week. The reports are that it is O. K.

Mrs. Chas. Keys and children left, last Tuesday, for Cambridge, where she will join her husband, who has charge of the Barnett lumber yard at that place.

Mrs. Della Cook returned from Omaha, Friday evening, where she has been assisting in the care of her father, A. G. Keys. Mr. Keys is slowly improving.

Thomas VanPelt of Danbury made a business trip to Bartley, Saturday. While here he called on his old friend Dr. Brown, whom he had not met in twenty years.

Lem Hickman, Lloyd Green and Horace Ivey attended the grand ball at Indianola, Friday evening. They report having a warm time. The supposition is that they must have sat on the stove.

F. A. Walsworth accompanied his uncle, A. C. Walsworth of Cambridge, over to his ranch south of Bartley to assist in rounding up the cattle. There were two hundred and twenty head in the round up.

A medicine show visited our burg on Monday, with the intention of entertaining the dear people of this place a brief while. Being unable to get the hall they drove to Indianola, where they will show for the week. It seems as if something that is a change from a church social ought to be appreciated semi-occasionally.

Joseph McKinzie has gone south for his health. Joe was troubled with that tired feeling the patent medicine man tells about, so that it was necessary for his wife to stand over the wash board six days of the week in order to support him. He will be greatly missed by his many friends for various amounts from a sack of corn up to eleven dollars.

It appears that the sporting editor's assistant was 'misinformed' as to the outcome of the argument, pugnicit calcibus, reported in last week's grist, later developments showing that Ivey drew the discolored "lamp" while his opponent wallowed in the exuberance of victory. And we herewith doff our speaking-tube to Mr. Lohr and apologize for being on the earth.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

Mike Morris and Frank Dolan of Indianola enjoyed a square meal at the Bartley house, Monday evening.

Horace Ivey departed overland, last Monday, for Montana. After Ed. Lohr was awarded the belt, at the fistic encounter, by Referee Wolf, manager of the sporting headquarters at the Star restaurant, he thought it would be a good time to depart. Mr. Ivey leaves many friends, especially among the young ladies, who will greatly miss his pleasant ways and the smile he wore.

BOX ELDER.

J. H. Stephens was home with the family, last week.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Beach, a son, May 1st.

Lucy Miller entertained a few of her friends, last Friday evening.

Anfin Ingles has escaped from the asylum, and is back on the old farm, as well as usual.

Mrs. William Weygint and Mrs. W. H. Campbell of McCook were the guests of Mrs. Matt. Stewart, last Friday and Saturday.

Despite the unpleasant weather, last Friday evening, the entertainment in the Spaulding school-house was attended by a full house, attesting the deep interest taken by the older folks in educational matters. The efforts of the little ones were unusually good,—both declamations and dialogues,—while the singing speaks volumes for the training of their teacher. The select readings by Herbert Beach were to the point and well delivered.

I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have used all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found one remedy that has been a success as a cure, that is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—P. E. Grisham, Gaars Mills, La. For sale by McConnell, druggist.

TYRONE.

C. S. Blair has bought another farm. C. G. Broman has been sick, the past week.

J. C. Moore talked politics etc. in Lebanon, Monday and Tuesday.

Smithers is hard at work—says he will take up the hired man's burden.

C. S. Blair is building a house and barn on the place he recently bought.

Pete Pearson went to Omaha, wash-day, with 60 fat steers and his boy Ernest.

Pete Pearson has commenced improvements on the farm he bought in section 35.

SOUTH SIDE.

Walt Higby is home on a visit.

We hear of a wedding which is to take place before long.

There was a small attendance at the Endeavor, Sunday evening, owing to the rain.

Fishermen complain of the scarcity of the fish, this spring. We think this is partially due to the ice being frozen so thick in the river, last winter.

Several of the South Siders attended church in McCook, Sunday, and those who went to the M. E. church were well pleased with the new pipe organ.

School closed, Wednesday, with a good programme and a good turn out. After the exercises were over, tables were spread and a bountiful repast was enjoyed by all present. Our past term of school has been a grand success and this is do largely to the teacher.
