DETAILS OF THE ENGAGEMENTS. tion from $2,000 per year to $2,500.

The Month of March Brought Many Deaths-A Large Number of Officers Sick and Wounded-Names of Some Who Lost Their Lives in Encounters.

Co. John M. Stotsenburg's report of the First Nebraska volunteers for the month of March was received yesterday by Adjutant General Barry, says the Lincoln Journal. Colonel Stotsenburg was killed April 23. The report is dated April 12 at camp east of Malolos. It contains a record of the engagments for the month, a list of casualties, the number of officers and men present and absent, and a list of men discharged and transferred. It shows twenty officers present, three on special duty, and seventeen sick, thus accounting for forty officers. There were 586 enlisted men present for duty, thirty-two on special duty, 257 sick, sixty in quarters, one in arrest, two in confinement, thus accounting for 938 enlisted men. The total number of officers and men present and absent is 1,025.

The casualties for the month were one officer died of wounds, four officers wounded, eighty enlisted men wounded, one enlisted man died of

W. R. Brooks and W. H. Grant, company A, and E. C. Crawford, F, were transferred to the signal corps. S. M. Husabeck, H. was transferred to the non-commissioned staff to be hospital steward.

Two new men, Sherman A. Yue and Louis Freiz, joined the regiment and were assigned to Company L. The list of engagements for the month are as follows: March 6-The outpost on the Mariquina-Manila road composed of company I, was entirely surrounded. Company D was sent out for support and at daybreak companies A and F joined company D and a very severe engagement ensued and the insurgents were driven out of their position and across the San Juan river north of San Francisco del Monte. The insurgent loss was very heavy. March 7-Companies E. G. H and B, with one battallion, Twentieth regulars, made a move against the insurgents southeast of the Deposito. After proceeding about six hundred yards the enemy was encountered and in a severe engagement drove the insurgents back across the Pasig river. Returning toward the Deposito the insurgents made an attack, coming from the east, but were soon put to flight across the Santolan river. The insurgents' loss for the day was very heavy. March 15-Changed position on the firing line with Colorado regiment. In the advance of Malolos March 25 to March 31, the regiment participated in the following engagements:

March 25-Moved forward so that our right flank was directed on San Francisco del Monte, which place was taken after a very severe engagement. We then closed in toward the northwest and camped on the Tuliahan riv-

Holmes of the district court, the state of Nebraska must pay the claim of ex-Superintendent Abbott of the State Asylum for the Insane for $1,000 salary alleged to be due under an act of the legislature raising the salary of the superintendent of that institu-As originally introduced in the house of representatives two years ago the salary appropriation bill provided for a salary of $2,500 a year, but an amendment was adopted cutting it to $2,000. The records do not show that the house took any other action than this. The engrossed bill, which is the bill prepared to be read when the measure is placed upon its passage, fixes the salary at $2,000, but the enrolled bill, which is the one the clerks prepare for the governor's signature and which contains the certificate of passage of the presiding officer, fixes the salary at $2,500. The house and senate journals are incomplete and nothing coud be proven by them other than that a certain bill, which is only identified by the enrolled copy, passed by both houses. The conclusions of law announced by the court in this case are as follows: The state cannot be heard to impeach the proceedings of the legislature by contradicting the journals of the house and senate and such other facts, proper to be inferred from the approval of the governor and the certificates and attestation of the bill by the officers of both branches of the legislature.

The enrolled bill, together with the house and senate journals, impart absolute verity and show that the act was passed as disclosed by the enrolled bill.

That the original and engrossed bill, if proper to be considered, but which the court of this state has held are incompetent to impeach the enrolled bill and the house and senate journals fail, however, to show that said act failed to pass as disclosed by the en-

That by said act the superintendent of the Hospital for Insane at Lincoln, Neb., was entitled to a salary of $2,-500 per annum. That the superintendent would not

Assaulted and Gagged. Because she had discoverd by accident a plan to rob and burn the large Cotner university building at Bethany, a suburb of Lincoln, Miss Lethe E. Watson, a teacher of elecution in the institution, was assaulted, bound and gagged and rendered unconscious last night, says a Omaha Bee correspondent. When found in one of the rooms of the college building she was unconscious. When she recovered consciousness she was unable to speak for some time, but later in the evening she related how she had overheard men plotting to rob the university and afterward burn the building. After talking over their plan the men left the room and started downstairs. Miss Watson went out and met them on the landing between the first and second floors. They suspected that she had overheard them and on being questioned she admitted that she had. After her refusal to promise to tell no one about the conversation or their plan they knocked her down and carreid her upstairs to a vacant class room, where she was bound and gagged in such a way that she could not cry out for assistance. The janitor of the building found the woman lying unconscious on the floor and the sheriff of Lancaster county was at once notified. No attempt was made to rob either the college building or any of the houses or stores in Bethany. Sheriff Trompen worked on the case last night and again this morning, but he was unable to find any clew to the assailants or to account for the motive after classes were dismissed. There were many students in the building at the time, but they happened to be in other rooms. Miss Watson was in a room adjoining the one in which the men planned to rob the building.

The Nebraska Crop Report.

The last week, says the Nebraska crop bulletin issued on the 24th, has been cold, cloudy and wet. The average daily temperature dificiency has been about three degrees. Light frost occurred in northern counties, but no damage was done.

The rainfall has been normal or above in all districts. In the western counties the rainfall was slightly more than half an inch, which is about normal. Heavy rains fell in the eastern counties on Friday and Saturday, the total weekly amount varying from one to more than five inches, and exceeded three inches in a considerable area in the southeastern portion of the state. The rains of the week have removed all drouth conditions and have been very beneficial to oats, wheat and grass. Heavy showers have washed out corn slightly and corn planting has been delayed somewhat by the wet weather. However, most of the corn is now planted. The low temperature has been unfavorable for germination and growth of corn, but the early planted is coming up nicely with a good stand and cultivation has commenced in southern counties. Small grain and grass have grown

Seven Persons Instantly Killed by a South Dakota Cyclone.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., May 29 .-Word has just reached town of a disastrous and fatal cyclone which passed across the country in the vicinity of Bijou Hills, twenty-five miles south of this city, yesterday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, resulting in the death of seven persons and the serious injury of two others. The killed are: Charles Peterson. Six children, of Charles Peterson, the latter being three boys and three girls, ranging from 3 to 15 years of age. The wire and two remaining children were so fatally injured that they may also die. The cyclone formed on a shoot section in plain view of hundreds and moved in a southerly course, the first place reached being that of Arf Coden, which was totally destroyed. The storm then destroyed a church and school house, after which it reached the Peterson place, where the execu tion done was simply appalling.

The dead and injured were strewn all about the premises, all being bruised and maimed in a shocking manner, while the buildings were smashed into splinters.

Iowa Railroad. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 29 .- The worst wreck in the history of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern railway occurred at 1.23 yesterday morning, when train No. 5, the Chicago and Minneapolis train, ran into a washout two miles north of Washburn. The entire train was wrecked, nine people were killed, seven of them almost instantly, and about twenty injured, twelve of them badly.

The greatest casualties occurred in the first sleeper. The third coach telescoped this car, the floor of the coach passing through the sleeper just about on a level with the lower berths in the sleeper when they were made up.

The passengers in the sleeper were nearly all caught and crushed to death almost instantly. One man was killed so quickly that he died with a smile on his lips. It was necessary to chop The most terrible incident of the wreck was the manner in which William Scholian of Waterloo suffered. He was caught in the sleeper and pinned down so that escape was impossible, one arm being pinioned so solidly that it was impossible to release him. The passengers worked with all their might to release him, but without avail.

In the meantime the water was rising up around him, and in a short time the unfortunate man must drown like a rat in a cage. He begged those about him to cut his arm off. There was not a physician on the train, and all hesitated to do anything. Finally an old saw was secured and his arm was sawed off.

It was a horrible and sickening sight, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the operation was performed. Scholian never utterd a word, but the strain was too great, and he died shortly after being taken to
