"The Best is Cheapest."

We learn this from experience in every department of life. Good clothes are most serviceable and wear the longest. Good food gives the best nutriment. Good medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is the best and cheapest, because it cures, absolutely CURES, when all others fail.

-From Puck.

The Mouse That Played Football. Norton Browne was a lover of football from the time his merry little eyes first fastened on the wonderful get-up of his older brother Ralph, the hero of the village eleven. In Norton's baby fashion he made goodnatured Ralph understand that he, too, wished to wear the football uniform. My, how proud he was to show his "dress-up" to the amused family! And how dignant he was, too, when they all aughed at his funny appearvalentine of Ralph, somebody said. This comparison pleased Ralph so much that he smuggled his little brother down to the photographer's, fixed him up in the beloved toggery (about eight sizes too large), tousled up his baby-locks like those of the most approved football hero, placed in his tiny hands a ball three times the size of his head, and presto! there was the picture of the tiniest footballer in the country. Norton enjoyed the fun as much as his big brother did, and kept the secret stored so snugly away in his little baby brain that Ralph rewarded him by giving him his old football pincushion, when he went away to college. Norton was overjoyed, and when no one was looking, often gave an admiring hug to the sawdust cushion, with its melonshaped pieces of red and blue silk and its cute little lacing. Every night, af-

One of his faces was old and the other one was young. His name was Janus. Can you guess which month was named for him? Another month was named for the god of war. What was his name and which month was named for him? May was named for Mala, a godter mother put him into his little brass dess who was the mother of the god crib, he lay staring at the shining silk Mercury, and June was named for Jupistripes till he wandered off to a dreamter's wife, June. Have you ever noland people with long-haired halfticed that while most months alternate backs, tacklers, guards and all the with 30 and 31 days, July and August other queer things to be seen on a footcome together with 31 days? That is ball field. One night, just as the long because these months were named for lashes were settling down over his litthe two emperors, Julius and Augustle peepers, the pincushion began to tus Caesar. It would not have done move. Yes, it did! There, it moved to give one a longer month than the again! Norton sat right up to see other received, so both were given 31 what caused it all, but the queer litdays. In early times the Romans had tle cushion never budged a bit; just only ten months, with names that settled down on its side for a good, meant first month, second month and long sleep. The next night, however, so on. Four of these names are used the cushion began wiggling again. now, for instance: December really Sometimes, indeed, it almost turned a means "tenth month," although it is somersault, and then settled back now the twelfth month.
