EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 2, 1900

NUMBER 38

Horace Easterday Laid at Rest.

A telegram from Sumner, Washington, last Saturday night, announced the death of Horace H. Easterday, on that date in that town—a suburb of Tacoma. However, the sad news did not become current until Sunday morning. Though not unexpected the depressing news came to a large and devoted circle of friends in the city and county as a personal loss—indeed, seldom, if ever, in the history of McCook has the great and sympathetic heart of this entire community gone out in tenderest expressions of sorrow and regret like in this instance.

At the request of the deceased, the remains were brought here for interment, arriving in the city, Wednesday night on No. 3, being accompanied by the sorrowing wife and a brother, Joe H. Easterday of Tacoma, also L. C. Dole of our city, who attended him in his last days. Another brother, Phil S. Easterday of Tecumseh, joined the party at Lincoln, where they were met by a delegation from the Masonic bodies of our city, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bronson, J. W. Hupp and G. R. Johnson. The remains were on taken to the Congregational church, where the church parlor had been especially arranged, with reference to a home-like appearance, for their reception. A lodge detail served as a guard of honor during the night.

The funeral services occurred in the church on Thursday afternoon at 2:30, the services being conducted by the St. John commandery of this city, assisted by other Masonic bodies. The services were most impressive and beautiful—the ritualistic product of the great Masonic order. The sermon fell from the lips of Rev. Turner in most eloquent and tender terms—paying a just and full tribute to the memory of one of the most superior souls and manliest men it has ever been our pleasure to know. The church was inadequate to the demand for seats, indicating in an unmistakable way the wide popularity of him who has gone on before. The remains were escorted to Longview cemetery, where in the use of the ritual of the order they were tenderly and with loving hands consigned to Mother Earth. A large cortege of sorrowing friends followed the body to its last resting place and paid a last fond tribute to the memory of a dear friend and brother.

The floral offering was superb, a cross, cross and crown and a star were among the special designs; besides there were palms, lilies, carnations, roses, etc., in profuse loveliness.

The sympathy of a large and loyal friendship goes out without measure to the bereaved and disconsolate wife and to the parents and brothers.

[HORACE H. EASTERDAY was born in Nokomis, Illinois, December 27, 1858. Came to Tecumseh, Nebraska, in 1871, and to McCook in 1883, entering a home-stand in Coleman precinct in October of that year. In 1885 he went to Red Cloud and spent three or four years there in the service of the Burlington in that depot. Returning to McCook in 1888 or 1889, he associated himself with Bert Potter in the feed business, retiring from that in a few years, devoting himself exclusively to buying and shipping grain, which business he carried on until his death. He was a student in the State university as a chum of Congressman Dave Mercer of Omaha and Judge Allen Field of Lincoln, but was not graduated. Fighting disease and the inevitable courageously for years, he met the grim destroyer unafraid at the end. Peace to his ashes.]

RESOLUTIONS.
Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to call Sir Knight Horace H. Easterday to his earthly labors to a better world, and

Whereas, Sir Knight Easterday by his earnest endeavors, regular attendance and kindly counsels, has had much to do in building up this Commandery, as well as the other bodies of Masonry, and

Whereas, His life was a practical exemplification of the principles of our beloved order, of good citizenship and earnest manhood; therefore be it Resolved by Saint John's Commandery No. 16, K. T., that in the death of Sir Knight Horace H. Easterday, we have lost a valued friend and companion, one who, though often tried, has never been found wanting in any respect; the community has lost one of its very best citizens, and his bereaved family a loving husband, son and brother.

Resolved, That the sincere sympathy of this Commandery is with the widow and relatives in this dark hour of loneliness and sorrow, and we commend them to our blessed Savior as the Chief Comforter in all tribulations.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records, a copy furnished the widow, and copies given the press for publication.

GEO. R. JOHNSON,
S. CORDEAL,
G. S. BISHOP,
Committee.

THANKS.
Saint John Commandery No. 16, K. T., desires to express its sincere thanks to Rev. J. W. Turner for the eloquent and instructive sermon delivered at the funeral of our late Frater Horace H. Easterday, and to the choir of the Congregational church for fine music so excellently rendered on that occasion.

A. CAMPBELL, E. C.
G. S. BISHOP, Recorder.

Send in Your Reports.

After hearing the paper of General Passenger Agent Buchanan of the Elkhorn railway on the subject of immigration at the late state press association it was determined by the association to try one suggestion made by that gentleman, namely, that each newspaper in the state, every week during the year 1900, shall print a statement from some farmer in that county, giving the date of his arrival in the county; where he came from; what he had when he arrived, and what he now has. Doubtless this idea, carried out, will result in great good to the state of Nebraska, in inducing settlers to come here from eastern states to occupy and cultivate our hundreds of thousands of vacant and untilled lands. Many thousands of farmers came to this state years ago with nothing but an honest, sturdy purpose and strong hands and heart, who are now well-to-do, nay fairly rich. This can be done again in thousands of cases, and THE TRIBUNE proposes, if the farmers of Red Willow county will do their part by sending us in the reports, to do its utmost to induce a large settlement among us in South-western Nebraska whose resources have not yet been developed in any considerable measure. Farmers, send us in your reports as indicated above. Your name need not be printed, if you do not desire it shall be.

We Wish to Say!

That we have received a large portion of the largest and finest stock of wall paper we have ever bought and we believe that means the finest line ever shown in McCook. Some of the patterns are exclusive. Only sold by us and only enough for one room of a kind. We are ready to show New Goods in Tapestries, Denims, Burlaps, Ingrains, fine Gills and White Blanks, also a large line of the cheapest grades. If you expect to use wall paper remember we are "It," this season.

McCONNELL & BERRY.

The Awl-Os.

The members of the club were handsomely entertained, Tuesday evening of this week, by Miss Pearl Zint. The game of progressive carrom was played with zest, Miss Olive Rittenhouse being victorious and securing the first prize; the booby going to Miss Maud Wood without much effort. Refreshments were daintily served and closed another happy gathering of "McCook's finest."

Lepper-Moore.

Tuesday morning of this week, at the Catholic church, Henry Lepper and Nellie Moore were made husband and wife by Rev. J. W. Hickey of St. Patrick's church, in the presence of a company of relatives and friends of both parties. Both are residents of Coleman precinct, and estimable young people. THE TRIBUNE warmly congratulates.

For Sale.

Conductor John Morris has commenced the erection of a dwelling house for rental purposes over on lower Monroe street, just north of his two other dwellings. It is 22x12 with an addition of 14x12. He will also move the dwelling just south of the proposed new one farther north, in order to provide more room for its tenants.

The first section of freight train No. 80 broke in two on Yuma hill, Tuesday night, and came together at Yuma with great force shortly after. Eight or ten cars—empties—were demolished. No one was hurt, and traffic was not materially delayed. The blocking car went up from here, Wednesday, and cleared the track. The empties were in the middle of the train, and when the sections came together, they were simply smashed.

New maps issued by the Burlington show the route of the Bridgeport-Brush line. The distance of the line will be 131 miles. Brush is eighty-eight miles from Denver, and Bridgeport is thirty-six miles from Alliance. The distance from Alliance to Deadwood is 217 miles, making a total distance from Denver to Deadwood of 472 miles. Denver is thus placed more than 100 miles nearer Deadwood than Lincoln. Stations on the new line are Bridgeport, Alden, Simla, Dalton, Marlow, Sidney, Lorenzo, Mercer, Winston, Minto, Sterling, Brush. There will be probably two or three new stations between Sterling and Brush.
