NUMBER 44

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of McCook Lodge No. 137, I. O. O. F., held March 9, 1900, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst the wife of our worthy brother, L. W. Cox; and

Whereas, It is but just that a fitting recognition of her many virtues should be had; therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn with our worthy brother for the loss of a friend and companion, who was dear to us all, and whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to her friends and associates.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to the bereaved brother in his affliction; that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this lodge and printed in each newspaper of McCook, and a copy thereof be presented to the bereaved brother.

A Tumor Sapped His Life.

Willie Russell, the seven-year-old son of W. O. Russell, died on Saturday night last, after an illness of about three months with a tumor. Funeral services were conducted at the home on East Dennison street, Monday morning, by Rev. J. A. Badcon, assisted by Rev. W. J. Turner, burial following in Longview cemetery. Young schoolmates of the deceased were the pall-bearers. There were flowers and many kindly expressions of sympathy from neighbors and friends.

[WILLIAM WESLEY RUSSELL was born in McCook, Nebraska, November 11th, 1892; died on March 10th, 1900, of a tumor in his side. His illness was of three or four months duration, yet was he patient and sweet-spirited through all the suffering. Among his last words to his mother, who had so kindly and patiently cared for him during his long sickness, were: "Mamma let me rest."]

Obituary.

We copy the following from the Atwood, Kansas, Republican-Citizen of February 23d:

"DIED—At his home in Richland township, Tuesday, February 20th, 1900, of pneumonia, James B. Runyon, after an illness of but four days. James B. Runyon was born 45 years ago, the 7th of last month, in Butler county, Pennsylvania, where his boyhood days were spent. In 1868 he moved with his parents to Polk county, Iowa, where they resided until 1872, when they moved to York county, Nebraska, where February 15th, 1880, he was united in marriage to Martha Phillips, who, with seven children—three boys and four girls—are left to mourn the loss of a kind father and model husband. In the spring of 1894, Mr. Runyon moved his family to Rawlins county to the farm on which they now reside in Richland township. During their six years residence among us Jim has gained the reputation of being a square, upright, honorable man, always extending the glad hand of fellowship to his neighbors in time of need. He provided well for his family and was a firm believer in protection to his loved ones as was shown by him being a member of Oberlin camp, M. W. A., and of Utica lodge, A. O. U. W., of Utica, Neb., and a member of Utica lodge, A. F. and A. M.

"In the fall of 1899 he was the Republican nominee for sheriff of Rawlins county. The funeral services were held at the family residence, Wednesday, and were conducted by Rev. Vogt of the Congregational church of Herndon and were largely attended. The remains were taken to McCook for interment, February 22d. The bereaved have the sympathy of all who know them."

Additions to Shadeland.

W. N. Rogers of Shadeland stock farm recently arrived home from making purchases of "White-Faces" in Kansas City, Mo., and Sutherland, Iowa. At Kansas City he bought two cows with their calves which cost him $1,005. One cow, Horatia by Corrector, cost him $600; the bull calf being by the famous $5,000 Sir Bredwell. The other cow, Lily 2d, is by Great Autocrat; the heifer calf by Wild Tom. At Sutherland, Iowa, he bought a bunch of five, four cows and one bull; and all of them, Mr. Rogers assures us, will be excellent additions to the Shadeland stock farm. Dave Risk, the expert animal sketcher of Weston, Mo., spent Tuesday on the farm sketching and photographing. One of the sketches made is of the great Anxiety Monarch, head of the Shadeland herd. Mr. Risk considers this one of the greatest animals he has ever seen, and he promises a masterpiece when his sketch is completed.

The Black Crook.

At the opera house, last night, Readick's Black Crook, Jr., opened to a large audience. Space forbids us from saying more than that the scenery was grand, the cast superb, the girls young and pretty, the comedians up to date and the music charming. As scene after scene was raised the applause was deafening. They have the handsomest transformation scene, consisting of nearly twenty drops, ever introduced in this city and worth miles going to see. The Black Crook is on for a long run, probably one hundred nights.—Boston Ledger.

At the Menard opera house, Monday, March 19th. Reserved seats at usual place.

Extending No. 5's run on to Denver necessitated the putting on of two more passenger crews at this place.

Monday was pay-day. The pay-car came in attached to No. 5, which was, in consequence, over an hour late.

Trainmaster W. W. Josselyn was up from Orleans, Wednesday, on important business at division headquarters.

Agent and Mrs. A. P. Thomson visited Lincoln friends, Saturday and Sunday, arriving home on 3, Sunday night.

Frank Cavanaugh has gone to Havelock to work in the Burlington shops. He visited his parents in Holdrege a short while on the way.

Engineer C. K. Coleman brought in 25 cars of oranges from Akron, Sunday morning, 143 miles in 4 hours and 5 minutes. The special made two stops during the run. A pretty good run.

C. A. Ward is making considerable additions and improvements to his residence on North McFarland, which will give him a very cosy, comfortable and convenient home, when completed.

The blacksmith shop has been raised two feet and the building is now on a level with the shops. The floor will be raised accordingly with cinders, which will necessitate elevating the fires, anvils etc.

R. J. Moore of the freight office force made his first passenger run, Thursday night, as brakeman on second 3. George S. Scott took Moore's place on the day force and S. C. Heliker succeeded Scott. Tom Robinson of Cambridge has Heliker's old place.

John Roxby, chief of the blacksmith shop, and perhaps the oldest blacksmith in active service in the state, expects to retire from active work and the Burlington service, June 1st. He will retire to his farm near Arapahoe and will devote his declining days in the poultry business. Here's many days and much joy to him. John has been in the company's service at this place since the fall of 1882, and a more loyal and efficient employe the Burlington does not have on its payroll. He will be missed.

The new shop is about finished as to exterior and the work on the interior is rapidly being pushed along to completion. The vitrified bricks are now on the ground and the floor of the building will soon be laid. Cinders and sand will form the foundation upon which the bricks will be laid. Two of the work-tracks are about completed now, and a stub-track is now being laid in the building on the south side. In a few days the building will be ready to receive its machinery—the foundations for the same being now in readiness. The timbers have been placed for the line of shafting and counter-shafting carriers and shortly everything will be ready for a grand moving day.

Engineer Monks and Fireman Rodstrom went down to Hastings on 12, yesterday, to bring up the new heavy freight engine No. 1 of the K3 class, recently sent out of the Havelock shops. They brought the new machine in, this morning. The engine is designed for hauling heavy freight trains—not for speed, so its drivers are but 64 inches, while it has 19x26-inch cylinders, piston valves, and carries 200 pounds steam pressure. It is one of the largest locomotives on the Nebraska lines of the Burlington. Seven more engines of this class are in course of building in the Havelock shops, and it is stated that an order for four more of them will be placed as soon as these are ready for the road.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

IS COMING AGAIN.

Prof. Swift, who so delighted and instructed our pupils and patrons, last summer, has made a date for McCook again: On Friday evening, March 23d, in the Congregational church, he will present the wonders of the most powerful microscope on earth and his $130,000 telescope. He announces that he has new and brilliant illustrations and many startling sights. His microscope magnifies two million times. His telescope brings the "Man in the Moon" within eighty miles of the earth. A journey to the moon will entertain you. There will be a number of brilliant chemical experiments: Water burned with immense heat; a knife burned. General admission, 25c.

THE GRADES ENTERTAINMENT.

The children of the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades entertained a well-filled Assembly-room of pleased patrons, last Saturday evening. The programme consisted of living pictures illustrating well-known and popular songs, books and poems in a series of tableaux, together with several sketches in which the lantern was used to advantage. It was quite a clever affair and netted $13.50 to the several grades engaged in its presentation.

Mrs. Hedlund of the Sixth grade was taken quite ill, close of last week, but was able by mid-week to resume her full and regular work in the grade.

Miss Stroud of the South McCook school will give an entertainment by the children of her grade in the Assembly-room, this evening, the proceeds to be devoted to the advantage of the South McCook school.

Fourteen new pupils entered our already overflowing public schools, Monday. The matter of providing enlarged accommodations and facilities is becoming more and more pressing; indeed, it is hard to realize how it will be possible to open the fall term without providing more room.
