"DEACON" MORLAN.

The expected has happened. The fusion organs are pointing to the nomination of W. S. Morlan for congress as proof positive that the Burlington railroad owns the Republican party. Let us see about that: It is true that Mr. Morlan has been the Burlington's legal representative at McCook for a number of years, and why? Because Mr. Morlan is a good lawyer, a hard worker and worth every dollar paid him. If Mr. Morlan has been worthy of his hire while an employe of the Burlington, is that not a good indication that he will be worthy of his hire when he is employed by the people? Why should the fact that a man has represented a corporation be urged against him when he seeks to enter the employ of the people? Why allow the corporations to monopolize all the talent? Heaven knows, and so do the people who have watched the figure cut in congress by the Fifth district's representative during the past six or eight years, that it is high time to send to congress from this district a man who has ability enough to attract attention of a "soulless corporation."

If Mr. Morlan is elected to congress—and he will be if the people of this district want to be represented in congress—he will be as faithful in serving the interests of his new employers as he has always been serving the interests of the Burlington. The denunciations of "Deacon" Morlan because he is a man of such ability that a great corporation is willing to pay him liberally for his services, is a species of petty politics that has cursed this great state just about long enough. The Tribune believes with all its might that W. S. Morlan will represent the people if elected—that he will be true to their interests and true to his interests as a Republican.—Beaver City Tribune.

SENATOR QUAY will be a candidate for re-election to the senate. The people of Pennsylvania "wont do a thing" to him.

THE supreme court of the United States has decided the Kentucky governorship contest in favor of Beckham, the Democratic contestant.

THE foreign demand for cornmeal is becoming quite a factor, thanks to the efforts of the department of agriculture, under this administration.

IN 1895 the world's production of gold was $17,000,000 less than the world's production of silver. In 1898 the production of gold was $73,700,000 greater. Not much danger of a scarcity of the yellow metal.

IN two years of the Cleveland administration, 1894-95, we exported $151,199,092 more gold than we imported. In two years of the McKinley administration we imported $141,793,399 more gold than we exported. The difference to the country in the two periods, was $292,992,401 in favor of McKinley. This doesn't include his billion-dollar favorable trade balance.

IN 1894 there were only 231,845,596 bushels of wheat retained for home consumption; in 1899 the quantity retained was 452,530,285 bushels. In 1894 there were thousands of people too poor even to buy bread. In 1899 everybody could buy bread. These two comparisons represent the different conditions of the country under Democratic and Republican administrations.

EVERY newspaper editor in the United States who desires to study facts in relation to the prosperity and panic periods of the country should secure copies of the speeches delivered in the house of representatives, May 3, 1900, by Hon. John F. Lacey, of Iowa, and on May 10 by Senator J. H. Gallinger of New Hampshire. They contain many interesting statements and will be useful for reference during the next few months.

THE free trade papers wince under the oft-repeated statement which they can not deny that foreign ships earn and take out of the United States each year $200,000,000 for carrying American imports and exports. There is no satisfactory answer possible to the suggestion that by paying this money to American ship owners the result would be to keep the money at home, employing our own people instead of employing aliens abroad.

Sunday Closing.

At the last meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. C. H. Boyle, the subject of Sunday closing came in for discussion, observance of the Lord's day being one of the departments of the organization, especially when it pertains to the meat markets, that being considered largely in the power of the house-keeper to remedy. The thought was generally expressed, that if we are consistent men and women, we ought to do without meat, rather than buy and cause others to labor on Sunday. Your correspondent, in talking with both of the proprietors, found them heartily favoring the closing. One young man said, he liked to attend church with his wife, Sunday morning, but on account of the open market, could not. Another one said, he had no best suit, for he could not attend church now, and did not need it. So you will see the tailor is a loser, too. They said, too, that sometimes women would order by telephone, almost noon, when they were nearly cleaned up, and want the meat sent up, thus detaining not only the men, but the faithful delivery boys who should be in one of our Bible-schools. Surely as the Good Book says, "No man (or woman) lives unto himself." This is largely a matter of custom. May we not arrange Saturday for both days, and thus give to others the "personal liberty" we hear so much about. We believe no one who stops to consider will do otherwise. So we hope there will be an amicable agreement on the closing of this and all other business places; that these busy men may have this quiet day with the loved ones at home and in His service.

PREL.

A Gait Day for Everybody.

Walter J. McDonald's Combined Colossal Shows will exhibit at McCook, Monday, June 4th. Mr. McDonald is not unknown to the amusement-loving people of this locality, having showed here on previous occasions. He is a bright, energetic, up-to-date showman, and having made the business a study, he gives the populace what they want—a bright, clean, modern circus performance. No fakirs, grafters or gamblers in or around the show. A clean, moral performance, catering to the masses of the people. In getting together this vast aggregation of arctic talent, Mr. McDonald has selected each artist for his ability in his particular line. Neither time nor money have been spared to make this the largest and best tented enterprise of its kind and character traveling today. Don't fail to see the grand free street parade that takes place each day at 10:30 o'clock on the principal streets. A grand cavalcade of oriental splendor. A solid unit of golden glitter. Handsome wagons and tableaux, open dens of rare and savage beasts, gaily caparisoned horses, elegantly attired ladies and gentlemen, two big bands of music, cowboys, Indians, and so on. Don't fail to see the free exhibition given on show grounds immediately after the parade, actually giving more free than some shows do for the money. New and novel attractions never before thought of. Two grand performances daily at 2:00 and 8:00 o'clock. Remember the day and date.

Not the largest stock, but the best selected, will be found at the "Bee Hive."

An Ancient Salutation.

When a knight of old entered a company of ladies he removed his helmet to indicate that he considered himself among friends, and that there was no need to protect himself. This practice has survived in the custom of raising the hat when saluting a lady.—June Ladies' Home Journal.

Do you like to trade where there is but one price on shoes? That's the "Bee Hive."

Notice to Clean Up.

Property owners in the city are hereby requested to promptly clean up all rubbish on and about their premises.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful stomach, liver and kidney remedy. Cures dyspepsia, loss of appetite. Try it. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed. For sale by McConnell & Berry, druggists.

Now all decorate; we have the bunting and flags, at the "Bee Hive."

is robbed of its terrors by the fact that the best medical authorities state that it is a curable disease; and one of the happy things about it is, that its victims rarely ever lose hope.

You know there are all sorts of secret nostrums advertised to cure consumption. Some make absurd claims. We only say that if taken in time and the laws of health are properly observed, will heal the inflammation of the throat and lungs and nourish and strengthen the body so that it can throw off the disease.

We have thousands of testimonials where people claim they have been permanently cured of this malady.

The Methodists at Oakland, Nebraska, have organized an anti-saloon league.

An attempt is being made at Sioux City to start a crusade against the saloons.

The only saloon at Hebron is to be removed to Beatrice. The new council is anti-license.

The next business meeting will be held at Mrs. Thorgrimsen's, June 1st. A full attendance is requested.

The anti-saloon league at Marengo, Iowa, is making vigorous efforts to stamp out illegal liquor-selling in that town.

A floating saloon has been launched in the river at Decatur and is now anchored on the Iowa side. The authorities at Decatur will try to suppress it.

A Creston, Iowa, blacksmith named Luke made his six-year-old son drunk, and when his wife remonstrated he struck her in the face, knocking out one of her teeth.

A new village board at Decatur commenced business last week with a capital of two cents in the village treasury, that amount being the surplus over all expenses of last year. All the saloons have been closed.

A Coffeyville jointist caused the arrest of 125 boys for shooting craps. In revenge each boy has filed a complaint against the jointist for selling red liquor contrary to the statute in such cases made and provided.

The ladies of the union passed a delightful afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Boyle, recently, in honor of Mr. Boyle's mother, who is visiting with her son and family. Mrs. Boyle is an earnest White Ribboner, and her presence exemplified this fact. We were cleverly entertained and adjourned feeling well repaid for the afternoon's meeting.

"After suffering from severe dyspepsia over twelve years and using many remedies without permanent good I finally took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It did me so much good I recommended it to everyone," writes J. E. Watkins, clerk and recorder, Chillicothe, Mo. It digests what you eat. D. W. Loar.

Kentucky will now try to worry along with but one governor.

J. Q. Hood, justice of the peace, Crosby, Miss., makes the following statement: "I can certify that One Minute Cough Cure will do all that is claimed for it. My wife could not get her breath and the first dose of it relieved her. It has also benefited my whole family." It acts immediately and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles. D. W. Loar.

THRILLING FIGHT WITH A FISH

Monster Tuna Landed After a Contest Lasting Four Hours.

From the San Francisco Examiner. Professor Charles F. Holder, the naturalist and author, describes how he caught what he believes to be the largest tuna ever taken with rod and reel. It was early morning, outside of Avalon bay, Catalina island, when he got a strike which threw the heavy flying fish bait which he was trolling far up the line. "Then," says the professor, "the magnificent fish came boiling along the surface, throwing the foam high in the air, in a manner that has given some anglers here the 'buck fever.' Fortunately I hooked the fish and its first rush took about 400 feet of line screaming and hissing from the reel, and had not the heavy brake been soaked the line would have burnt off at once. I succeeded in turning the fish, which then came in on me, with the greatest velocity. I had managed to reel in the slack, and when the fish reached within twenty feet of the boat it turned and was away again, taking 500 feet of the thread of a line. Again I turned it, and again it came in at me. Turning once more, the fish dashed away, towing the heavy boat a mile out to sea at a rapid rate. Finally I turned it, and, after a superb play on the surface, circling the boat, it turned toward us a mile inshore, so near the rocks that I thought we should lose it in the kelp. Here the fish fought me for nearly three hours, rushing in and out, plunging down into the blue channel, circling around, darting away, and then coming at me from unexpected points, showing the most remarkable cunning I have ever observed in many years' experience in rod and reel fishing. At 9:30 o'clock, after I had played the tuna three hours, I turned it after one of its rushes, when it gathered its energies and headed for Avalon, making a single run of six miles, and at just 10:30 a. m. I stopped it in front of the Hotel Metropole, where it gave a wonderful exhibition while surrounded by the launches of several friends who came out to see the finish. The tuna was, so far as I could judge, stronger than never, yet it had towed the boat against the oars of my boatman at least eight miles. A heavy sea had picked up and threatened the boat, but this was forgotten, and at the supreme moment my boatman slipped the gaff under the fish and it was our (?)—not yet—the gaff went to pieces and the fish got away 100 feet again. I reeled it in; this time a big gaff was hooked into it, and, with a cheer, the monster fish was slid into the boat, almost capsizing it. The tuna weighed 183 pounds. Its length was six feet two inches, girth four feet, and the catch gives to California the hardest fighting game fish in the world with rod and reel."
