NINETEENTH YEAR

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 26, 1900

NUMBER 24

The Schmidt-Norval Wedding.

A very pretty wedding indeed was that of Mr. William E. Schmidt and Miss Lillian M. Norval of our city, which transpired at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Norval, Wednesday morning of this week, at 10:30 a. m., in the presence of between thirty and forty relatives and near friends of the high contracting parties.

The ceremony occurred in the parlor, under a canopy of lace curtains, decorated with smilax and carnations, Rev. W. J. Turner of the Congregational church performing the same.

At the appointed hour, to the music of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" played by a sister of the bride, Miss Siella Norval, the bride and groom approached and took position under the canopy, where they were solemnly made one in the use of the ring ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white Persian lawn, trimmed with insertion and lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride has grown from childhood to young womanhood in our city, being the youngest daughter of three in the Norval home. The groom is a machinist and well esteemed by all who know him. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future happiness, contentment and prosperity.

After the usual congratulations, the party sat down to an elaborate wedding breakfast spread with all tastefulness and daintiness.

The parlor and dining-room decorations were of palms, carnations, roses and smilax. The parlor was decorated in white and green; the dining-room in pink and green.

Numerous pretty and rich gifts were received.

The young couple departed on No. 4 the same day, for California, expecting to spend a month on the coast. They will be "at home" at the Norval residence after December first.

Mrs. S. S. Graham, a sister of Mrs. Norval, with her husband, of Elmwood, Illinois, were present, arriving in the city, Monday on 1.

Will be Practically New.

F. C. Kellogg & Co. are taking advantage of the quiet time in the elevator business and have commenced improvements to their elevator plant in this city which will give them a much larger plant and one to all purposes a new elevator. A force of men is now at work tearing down much of the old elevator in preparation for the improvements, which will be varied. In the first place a new solid and heavy stone foundation and pit will be provided; the building will be considerably enlarged on the ground floor, and an additional story built for bins and storage. A new roof will be placed on the building, which will be painted and thoroughly repaired and placed in first-class condition for business. It is the purpose to very largely increase the storage capacity of the elevator for retail purposes. When the work now mapped out shall have been finished, McCook will have two of the best equipped elevators in the Upper Republican valley.

For a Curfew Ordinance.

A petition is being widely circulated and numerous signed, which will be presented the city council at its next meeting for consideration and action.

Doubtless there is a strong demand for a curfew ordinance in McCook, where so many of the youth of both sexes are allowed to be out too late at night unattended.

An ordinance of reasonable requirements, which can for that reason be successfully enforced, will be quite generally approved in this city at this time; and THE TRIBUNE expresses the hope of many citizens that the council may grant the petition and pass an ordinance in compliance therewith in the near future.

McCook Well Represented.

The Nebraska Brigade band, the McCook Glee club and the McCook Drum corps, all in uniform, together with many citizens, were participants in the great Ex-Speaker Keifer rally in Red Cloud, last Saturday, one of the grandest rallies of the campaign in the valley. The McCook Glee club also sang for the Meiklejohn meetings in Orleans and Arapahoe, Tuesday.

Hon. W. P. McCreary.

Tomorrow evening, Hon. W. P. McCreary of Hastings will speak in the opera-house on the issues of this campaign from a Republican standpoint. Mr. McCreary is an eloquent and able speaker, and should receive the attention of a house full. Send the news around and come out and hear Mr. McCreary, tomorrow night.

Meiklejohn at Orleans.

Orleans, Neb., October 23, 1900.—Orleans and Harlan county turned out in large numbers, this afternoon, to welcome Hon. George D. Meiklejohn, assistant secretary of war, American flags, streamers and bunting decorated the streets and business houses. Every available hitching-post held a farmer's team, and the vehicles crowded the streets of the town as on a gala-day of a county fair. Bands from Stamford and Republican City and the famous glee club from McCook rendered stirring music. Dr. W. H. Banwell, mayor of Orleans, presided and introduced the distinguished speaker in a well-worded address. Secretary Meiklejohn for two hours held 2,000 or 3,000 citizens of Harlan county with rapt attention. His discussion of the issues of the day was able and logical. He was fair and gentlemanly in his discussion, and won the respect, from the start, of his political opponents, who pronounce his speech an able and excellent effort. His arguments on the imperialism issue, from the standpoint of a government official, were simply unanswerable; his answer to the charge of slavery in the dominion of the sultan of Sulu was conclusive and the charge was nailed to the cross; Mr. Bryan's heresies vanished like vapor before a summer sun. The leading issues of the campaign were handled by a master hand that carried conviction to even the biased. He spoke in the open air in the city hall square. It was the greatest demonstration of the campaign in Harlan county that attention. He speaks highly of the man and of his speech; he left behind general respect for his standing as a gentleman, statesman and orator. Republicans can congratulate themselves on the unmeasured success of the splendid meeting in Orleans.

From this point, the secretary went to Arapahoe, where there was a duplicate of the crowd and enthusiasm and successful meeting.

Sugar Beets.

A few cars of sugar beets have already been shipped to the factory from McCook, and the returns have been quite satisfactory. Of the four cars marketed, C. H. Meeker's report is 12.7 saccharine matter and 76.6 purity; Conrad Uhrich, 14.9 and 83.9; Conrad Wacker on H. P. Sutton's farm, 15.10 and 80.7. These are all above the 12 per cent requirement of the company.

In all between 30 and 40 cars will be shipped from this point, this season, demonstrating that beets of a high test can be raised at this place.

This is an industry second to none in point of advantage and possibilities to this country, and should be encouraged.

It is not too much to expect that a proper effort will eventually locate a sugar factory in this point in the Republican valley, which can be made the greatest sugar-producing section of Nebraska.

A Halloween Party.

The young ladies of the Awl-Os club are out with "butcher linen" invitations to the young gentlemen of the city for a Halloween party in Odd Fellows' hall, next Wednesday evening. The young ladies are under bonds "not to do a thing" to the boys on the coming merry occasion.

The ladies of the Aid society of the Methodist church will serve the refreshments.

The Initial Fortnightly.

The Fortnightly club held its opening hop in the opera-house, last evening, with a large and brilliant attendance. The Pythian orchestra provided the music. It was an auspicious and joyous opening of the dancing season.

Lost or Stolen.

Railroad men should make it a point to attend the speech to be given in the opera-house, next Thursday evening, by Hon. G. L. Dobson of Iowa. Mr. Dobson is a laboring man himself; he has a special word for the railroad men of the city. Send the word around.

Agent and Mrs. A. P. Thomson arrived home, Sunday night, from their flying trip to Omaha. Mrs. Thomson's sister, Mrs. William Randall, accompanied them home, and is spending the week here.

Mr. Randall, who is the Burlington auditor at Omaha, will arrive tonight, and remain over Sunday.

The meeting of the Railroad Men's club, last Thursday evening, is said to have been the best one yet held by the club. There was a large attendance of men from all branches of the service, and the discussions were most interesting and the information elicited most valuable to the men. Ass't General Sup't Rhoads from Lincoln, Sup't Campbell and others joined in the discussions. The two subjects especially under consideration were, "Train Delay," "The Apprenticeship System."

Fred Palmer, who has been cashier at the depot for several months past, left for McCook, Monday night, having received a promotion to one of the clerkships in the office of superintendent.

We regret to have Mr. Palmer leave Holdrege, but are glad that he is climbing up in the railroad world. Mrs. Palmer will remain here for the present, as Mr. Palmer can procure no suitable dwelling-house at McCook. H. J. Kick will take Mr. Palmer's place as cashier at the depot.—Holdrege Citizen.

Master Mechanic Archibald, Trainmaster Kenyon, Conductor Rouch and Brakeman Engberg were in Lincoln, early part of the week, on the case of Mrs. Mary A. Walters vs. the company, to collect damages for the death of her son Edward in the terrible wreck at Indianola, October 5th, 1898. The case was hotly contested in the federal court before Judge Munger. The prosecution alleged that the deceased came to his death through the negligence of the company, and the company claimed and contended that the wreck was caused by carelessness to which the deceased contributed. The jury rendered a decision in favor of the railroad company. The McCook case was not taken up at this term.

The Meiklejohn Meeting.

Wednesday evening, in the opera-house, Hon. George D. Meiklejohn, assistant secretary of war, addressed an immense audience of enthusiastic citizens from city and surrounding country—indeed not a few were unable to secure seats. Mr. Meiklejohn handled the issues of the campaign in a dispassionate manner, giving facts and quoting history to bear out his assertions, and even those opposed to him politically are forced to admit that he made a strong case for the Republican party in the past and for its future continuance in power.

A good portion of the speaker's time was utilized in presenting the tariff history of the Republican party; and he succeeded in showing that prosperity and contentment have traveled in company with protection as practiced and held by the Republican party; and that disaster and distress have followed the free trade doctrine of the Democracy.

He touched the trust question in unmistakable terms, showing that about all the trust legislation America has ever had is the result of the efforts of the Republicans in congress, and that the blame for there not being more and better legislation rests with the Democratic and populist members of congress, who by filibustering and delaying consideration of the measure proposed by the Republicans, made legislation impossible at the last session of congress.

After showing up the free trade and free silver fallacies of the opposition, he closed with an exhaustive discussion of the imperialism issue scared up by the Democrats when no other issue could be found to fool the people,—not all the time, but this time,—to the end that the offices might be secured. He placed much of the blame for the continuance of the insurrection in the Philippine islands to the attitude of the Democratic party in this campaign, and read letters from soldiers in the field to prove his assertion, which he claimed could not be successfully denied.

It is not possible within the limits of this short article to even hint at all the splendid arguments presented by the speaker; suffice it to say that he covered the whole real ground of the campaign thoroughly and convincingly.

The Nebraska Brigade band and the McCook Glee club furnished music of most excellent and happy kind for the occasion, and thus added a very pleasant and acceptable element to a political event of unusual interest. Both of the musical organizations are doing work that is finer than silk, just now, and their efforts were enlivened to the echo.

Hon. G. L. Dobson Will Speak.

On the evening of next Thursday, November 1st, Hon. G. L. Dobson of Iowa will speak in the opera-house on the political issues of the campaign as they especially interest the laboring man. Mr. Dobson is a laborer himself and is in a position to talk intelligently to working men, especially. He should be given a large hearing, especially by the laboring men of the city, who make up a large portion of our population. He will give reasons why the election of President McKinley is of greatest moment to the laborer. You can't afford to miss this address; it will be one of the best of the campaign.

Notice of Dissolution.
