GIRLS FELL VICTIMS.

A Romance of the Plague in Perthshire,

Scotland.

The last time the plague visited Glasgow with excessive virulence was in August, 1645. Then, on the 16th of that month, the Marquis of Montrose, who fought under the standard of Charles I., signally defeated the Cove-nanters under Gen. Bailie at Kilsyth.

Thereupon the provost and corporation of the pestilence stricken city sent envoys with a message of congratula-tion to the marquis and a warm invi-take of Glasgow's hospitality. Montrose, at the head of his troops, entered the city and was sumptuously entertained, but would not stay on account of the epidemic. However, as a matter of business, apart from sentiment, he levied a heavy tax for supplies upon his Glaswegian hosts, to their huge disgust. A memento of a pathetic romance connected with the 1645 plague visitation in Scotland is a railed enclosure on the bank of the Almond, in the parish of Methyen, Perthshire. It marks the spot where lie interred the hapless "Bessie Bell and Mary Gray," famed in Scotch song. Daughters respectively of the laird of Kinvaid and the laird of Lynedoch, the maidens were much attached to each other, and plague they retired to a bower near the Almond and dwelt in perfect seclusion. The fair recluses, however, had their place of retreat discovered by a young man of their acquaintance, who supplied the twain with provisions. He caught the plague himself, unluckily, and communicated infection to Bessie and Mary, to which the girls fell victims. According to the stern custom of the time their bodies were not allowed interment in Methven kirkyard, so they were buried together in a spot contiguous to the bower.-The London

MRS, F. J. LYNCH, GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

Mrs. F. J. Lynch, 324 South Division street, Grand Rapids, Mich., writes: The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen:-"I earnestly recommend Peruna to any suffering women as it cures quickly. I had a most persistent cough which nothing seemed to cure. Two bottles of Peruna dld more for me than all the doctors seemed to do. In a couple of weeks I found myself in excellent health, and have been enjoying it ever since. Hence I look on Peruna as a true friend to women." MRS. F. J. LYNCH.

Chronic Coughs and Colds Are Catarrhal Diseases.

Catarrh Is the Continual Scourge of Christendom.

Catarrh hovers ominously over every city, and nestles treacherously in every hamlet. It flies with vampire wings from country to country and easts a black shadow of despair over all lands. Its stealthy approach and its lingering stay makes it a dread to the physician and a pest to the patient hood to the wheezy breathing of eroup, and the song of the blushing maiden to the hollow cough of consumption. In its withering grasp the rounded form of the fond wife and mother becomes gaunt and spectral, and the healthy flush of manhood turns to the saflow, haggard visage of the invalid. Cough takes the place of conversation, speech gives way to spitting, the repulsive odors of chronic catarrh poison the kiss of the fondest lovers, and thickened membranes bedim sight, impair hearing and destroy

Like the plague-stricken Egyptians a cry of distress has gone out from every household, and the mildew of woe clings to every hearthstone.

Catarrh in some form, entarrh in some stage lurks as an enemy in tho slightest cough or cold and finishes its fiendish work in heart disease and consumption.

No tissue, function, or organ of the body escapes its ravages; muscles wither, nerves shatter, and secretions dry up under its blighting presence. So stubborn and difficult of care is this disease that to invent a remedy to cure chronic catarrh has been tho ages, is it therefore any wonder that the vast multitude of people who have been cured of chronic catarrh by Peruna are so lavish in their praise of this remedy? That the discovery of Peruna has made the cure of catarris a practical certainty is not only the testimony of the people, but many medical men declare it to be true.

As a drug store in this age of the world is incomplete without Peruna, it can be obtained anywhere with directions for use. A complete guida for the prevention and cure of catarrh and all diseases of winter, sent free by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.
