NINETEENTH YEAR

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 22, 1901.

NUMBER 45

Its Diamond Jubilee.

The Diamond Jubilee or 75th anniversary of the Congregational Home Missionary society was observed and celebrated by the First church of this city in conjunction with a number of neighboring churches of that faith and order, Wednesday of this week.

There was some disappointment as to the attendance, which was measurably chargeable to the inclement weather, but the occasion was worth while to those present.

The churches at Cambridge, Palisade and Stratton were represented by pastors or laymen or both.

During the afternoon session Walter Babcock of Cambridge read an entertaining paper with the Cambridge church and its history as its topic.

The evening session was largely taken up by Rev. John Doane, pastor of Plymouth church, Lincoln, who delivered an excellent, strong and instructive address on "Churches That Have Come to Stay." He was followed by Rev. Harmon Gross of Lincoln in a few remarks touching upon the financial claims of the Home Missionary society. It is needless to state that he made a good case. The programme of the evening included a number of musical numbers by the church choir and congregation.

Light refreshments were served in the church parlor at the conclusion of the programme of the evening, and after a brief social period, the session ended.

A Rousing Success.

The enginemens ball, Monday evening, despite the very inclement weather, was a rousing success in every respect. The attendance crowded the opera house —had the evening been fine or even fair there is no imagining how the boys would have accommodated their guests. While the figures have not been given out to the public, it is understood that the enginemens donation to the auditorium fund from the ball will exceed $200.00.

The hall was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the auspicious event and the scene presented was a brilliant one.

The music was of the Pythian orchestra's rarest vintage—and an inspiration to the numerous dancers.

The banquet was served by the Lady Maccabees in the Odd Fellows hall, and it is acknowledged to have been one of the finest banquets and served in the most tasteful and easy style of any banquet given in many moons. In the neighborhood of 125 people enjoyed this splendid feature.

The rich and superb floral decorations of the banquet were the generous gift to the ladies from the enginemens, to whom the ladies are most grateful.

It was a rousing, all-round success and we felicitate all concerned.

Rev. White Ordained.

The formal ordination of Rev. George L. White into the Baptist ministry took place in the First Baptist church of our city, Wednesday. The council consisted of the local church and the Zion Hill and Ash Grove churches. Rev. O. E. Russell of Ord, state Sunday-school missionary, was chairman and Deacon William McMichael of the Ash Grove church was secretary of the council, which convened at two o'clock in the afternoon. It is said that Rev. White's statement at the council was remarkably clear and satisfactory.

Rev. Russell delivered the sermon of ordination in the evening. It was a strong, earnest and able effort.

The service throughout and the manner in which Rev. White acquitted himself are matters of satisfaction and pride to the membership and friends.

Among those up-to-date implements just received by S. M. Cochran & Co., is a 3-wheel lister that has caused more comment among the farmers than any lister that has ever been placed on the market here. Every man who has seen it wants to sell his old one and buy one of these new and unequalled listers.

They are getting a good deal of attention—those Children's Wash Dresses—so tastily and well made with Embroideries, Finishing Braid and Laces. They come in all sizes from 2 yrs. to 12 yrs. for 40c to $1.00. The Thompson Dry Goods Co.

Dr. Corkins, the eye specialist, has again decided to extend his stay in McCook, and can for a few more days be found at the Commercial hotel by any needing help for their eyes or needing properly fitted glasses.

WANTED—By couple without children, two furnished rooms suitable for light house-keeping. Leave word at TRIBUNE office.

S. M. Cole Kills Himself.

Will Kithcart telegraphed the sad news here, Monday morning of this week, from Winterset, Iowa, that Sidney M. Cole had committed suicide. The deed was committed on Sunday afternoon at 4:30, by shooting, and death resulted on Monday morning at 9:45. No reason has so far been given for the distressing and terrible deed.

Mr. Cole, his father-in-law, Mr. Bennett, and Will Kithcart were the only ones on the farm at the time the deed was committed, Mrs. Cole and children and Mrs. Bennett having stopped over at Beatrice, this state, to visit relatives until the men got matters settled on the farm and in the new home.

The news came to friends here with the force and unexpectedness of a lightning stroke from a clear sky, and was not generally credited until letters arrived later and corroborated the first information. Motive and details are, however, still lacking.

Sidney Cole was of a quiet, retiring, gentle disposition, and made many warm friends in the railroad service here, where he was employed for many years in the engine service, from which he was recently forced to retire on account of his health. He was comfortably fixed as to this world's goods, and with happy domestic surroundings and a bright outlook on life and the future, his deed can only be explained on the theory of temporary mental derangement.

THE TRIBUNE expresses a sentiment in every heart in this community, (where they have all lived many years and from which they moved but a few days since,) in extending the bereaved ones sincere sympathy in this hour of sorrow.

Epworth Leaguers!

Send me your name and address and I will mail you about April 1, a beautifully illustrated folder giving full information about the special rates and train service to California via the Burlington Route, at the time of the Epworth League meeting at San Francisco in July.

The folder will enlighten you on every point in connection with the trip to San Francisco—cost of tickets; how to make the trip most cheaply and comfortably; what there is to see on the way, and why your tickets should read via the Burlington Route.

The round trip rate—open to everyone—from Omaha to San Francisco via the Burlington Route is $45. Tickets are good by the way of Denver and Salt Lake City.

J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha, Neb.—3-8-4ts.

The "Awl-Os" Entertainment.

April 19th the young ladies of the "Awl-Os" club expect to give their entertainment in the opera-house for the benefit of the auditorium fund, and enough is known of the preparations and plans of the young ladies to give us confidence to assure our readers that there is in store for us all something fine.

There will be Greek play—"The Ladies of Athens,"—which for costumes and colored light effects will be superb; and a farce comedy entitled, "Gertrude Wheeler, M. D.," of most amusing particulars. In addition, there will be given a "hoop" drill in attractive costumes, colored lights and pretty figures.

Attention, Sir Knights.

Saint John Commandery No. 16, K. T., will observe Easter by attending divine service at the M. E. church at 2 p.m., April 7th. Rev. Howard Stoy will be delivering the sermon. All visiting Sir Knights are invited to participate. By order of the E. C.

G. S. BISHOP, Recorder.

A. O. U. W. Election.

On Monday night, March 25th, representatives to grand lodge will be elected. Also matters effecting the nurse fund. All members are requested to be present.

Ralph E. Hayward, for the past ten years a clerk in the general auditing department of the Burlington, has been promoted to the position of assistant contracting agent for the freight department.

The Plattsburgh Burlington band gave a concert in Alliance, last Saturday evening. The Plattsburgh male quartet, Miss Kit Agnew of Lincoln, soloist; Miss Antonia Kessler, accompanist, accompanied the band in its special car, and were features of the evening's programme.

The Burlington has arranged to move the freight depot at Oxford some distance west from its present location, straighten out and lengthen the present yard tracks and put in some additional side tracks, to accommodate the increased railroad business at that point—Beaver City Tribune.

The carpenters have completed the work of beautifying the depot and the grounds. An iron railing surrounds a small tract of ground just east of the depot and which will eventually become a small park, as soon as the weather will permit of the planting of trees and the sowing of grass seeds.—Wilsonville Review.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad company is said to have prevented what was regarded as a scheme leading to the re-establishment of branches of the engineers' and firemen's brotherhoods on the system, over which the road scored a victory in the strike of thirteen years ago. It leaked out yesterday that eight employees belonging to the brotherhood of locomotive engineers had been found in the service of the Burlington company. The officials, it is reported, commanded the men either to renounce allegiance to the organization or leave the service. Six of the engineers, it is said, agreed to cancel their membership in the brotherhood, but the other two left the road. Several firemen, too, it is reported, were brought before the officials to answer similar charges. Only one, it is found, clung to the brotherhood after the two conditions were made known.—Chicago Record.

Announcement has been made of the fact that the Schenectady locomotive works have secured the patent right to build railroad engines of the so-called prairie type. In this same connection the Burlington management has given an order for fifty engines at a cost of $750,000. It will be news to every railroad man outside of the Burlington's Chicago offices that the prairie type of an engine, which is now being used by a half dozen railroads, is the invention of Frederick A. Delano, superintendent of motive power for the Burlington. The prairie type engine is simply a machine with an exceedingly wide fire-box and an extra length of boiler. Under the old type the limit in width of the fire-box was three feet and four inches, while under the new limit it is six feet. The patent for the type was issued in January and as a result several manufacturers had to settle for having infringed upon the patent. Experiments made with the engine discloses the fact that by its use there is a saving of fuel amounting to between ten and twenty per cent. Owing to this conservation of fuel and the width of the fire box it is also possible to get greater speed results.
