

COMMON courtesy is a gracious act so rare as to be priceless,—when it ought to be quite current coin.

SAFE expansion carries with it the idea of a great-souled and large-hearted people, a people intelligent and truly free and independent, a liberty-loving and liberty-giving people.

A RECENT ruling curtails the sphere and efficiency of the U. S. money-order system. Commencing with June 1st, money-orders are only payable at office of remitter or payee, the instructions issued not long since, giving money-orders the practical efficiency of a draft, having been revoked. This may be the law in the case, but it is a regrettable blow at the enlargement of the sphere of action of the money-order department and a backward step where advancement was to have been hoped for. We know of no adequate reason why the U. S. money-order should not be placed on the highest scale of efficiency—convenience and cost—of the gilt-edged draft, and hope to see the system duly expand to that point.

Died Under the Knife.

Berry Eneyart of near Bartley died in a hospital in Omaha, Monday, after an operation had been performed on him for cancer of the stomach. The remains were shipped here for burial, which took place on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, from the residence of deceased's sister, Mrs. Vance McManigal, services at the residence being conducted by Rev. L. M. Grigsby of the Methodist church. Interment was made in River-view cemetery.

[ASHBERRY LINCOLN ENYHART was born in Wabash county, Indiana, October 25th, 1860; died in Omaha, Nebraska, Monday, June 3rd, 1901. Moving to Red Willow county in 1879, he was united in marriage with Olive Thomas in 1882. Nine children were born to them, eight surviving.]

The widow and her eight helpless little ones are left without insurance, illy prepared to make a livelihood on the farm, and have the deepest sympathy of all hearts.

Conductor and Mrs. V. H. Soliday attended the wedding of Robert J. Moore and Miss Nellie Clark, their niece, in Oxford, Wednesday evening, returning home on No. 3, the same night.

Ira Dye has a painful case of "Jump" jaw. He was operating a jack under a box-car, Tuesday, when the ratchet failing to catch and hold, the lever flew up and struck him on the lower jaw and upper lip, with painful—though not serious—results.

Dr. Fahnestock of McCook, B. & M. physician, came down, Tuesday, to attend to the wounded shoulder received by John Person, a few weeks ago. He reports that Mr. Person will not be able to resume duties in the B. & M. yards for about two weeks.—Red Cloud Nation.

The waste picker has been given a thorough test and has been found capable of doing thorough work, rendering the old waste soft, pliable and clean. It is proposed eventually to put up a small building, north of the blacksmith-shop, in which to locate the picker and press, so that power can be secured from the engine in the flue department.

The enginemmen have been delayed somewhat in the complete collection of the proceeds of their great ball for the benefit of the auditorium project; but they are able, this week, to announce that their addition to that fund has now reached $271.00 cash in hand, and that the few remaining dollars outstanding will increase their splendid gift to about $275.00—the largest donation from any one source.

Brakeman Robert J. Moore of our city and Miss Nellie, daughter of Engineer and Mrs. Tony Clark of Oxford, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Oxford, Wednesday evening. They left on the evening train after the ceremony for Omaha and other points on a wedding trip, after which they will return to McCook, where they will make their home. Both are well and favorably known here and many well-wishers will join THE TRIBUNE in congratulations.
